Emergency health restrictions throughout the country caused many cancellations of orders for merchandise. Our efficient buying facilities made it possible to take prompt advantage of market conditions. This makes it possible to offer you extraordinary values

To-morrow, Friday and Saturday A Three-day Event of Unusual Economy

We are glad local conditions have improved so that local authorities are expected to remove the ban shortly. You can readily see how emergency restrictions affected the manufacturers of wearing apparel when hundreds of business houses throughout the country cancel their orders.

Because of our high standing for cash payment of purchases, we were called on the telephone from New York and advised of the unusual opportunities prevailing. The result is hundreds of beautiful outer garments and other women's wear at reductions which make it possible to offer you values on this page such as we believe are the best offered in this city this season.
