

INFLUENZA BAN RAISED AT LAST

Only a Few Scattered Localities Are Now Under the Regulations of Health

The most extensive quarantine order ever issued in Pennsylvania was raised in every county except in a few isolated sections where conditions do not warrant such action by Dr. H. F. Royer, acting commissioner of health to-day.

Since that time Dr. Royer has gradually lifted the ban in counties as reports showed a decline in the death rate.

The imposition of the ban led to a controversy with Lancaster where an absolute quarantine was established for the first time under the act of 1905 and with city officials of Pittsburgh.

The following counties were freed to-day in Lackawanna, Fayette, Elk, Armstrong, Berks, Washington, Luzerne, Franklin, Forest and Westmoreland and practically all of Allegheny with few exceptions.

It contains individual portraits of the enlisted men as well as photographs of the colonel, major and all other commissioned officers. Many of these books have been sold in Pennsylvania and the Telegraph was fortunate in being able to secure copies of this fine history to offer to its readers. Call at the business office of the Telegraph and examine the book and we believe you will desire a copy.

ORPHANS' CARE TO BE DISCUSSED

Saddest Feature of the Influenza Epidemic Will Be Subject of Conference

Steps to provide systematic care for the children left orphans by the influenza epidemic, estimated to be between 40,000 and 50,000, will be taken at a conference to be held at the Capitol next Wednesday which various agencies interested in the care of children will be invited to attend.

Acting Commissioner McNichols announced that the principal aims of the Department of Labor and Industry will be to co-operate with employers and employees, to prevent employment of women and children during too long work periods or at unsuitable tasks; to prevent excessive labor turnover; to aid in finding suitable jobs for returned disabled and able-bodied soldiers and sailors; to keep industrial conditions stabilized throughout the state and to meet promptly through the Emergency Public Works of the state any tendency toward unemployment of numbers of workers; to prevent strikes or lockouts; to prevent, in any locality, increase of industrial accidents, due to shifting of workers to new tasks, and to make every effort to reduce the present accident toll; to let down the labor laws in any plant nor to allow night work of women in manufacturing establishments nor longer hours of work for children than designated in existing state statutes.

While the problems concerning the care of the children who have recently become orphans will doubtless be the absorbing topic of discussion at the conference, many other phases of child welfare work will also be discussed and an important program of relief work will be adopted. The tentative program is comprehensive.

ACCIDENT LIST GROWING LARGE

Fears That Some Youths May Be Among Those Who Have Met With Gunning Hurts

Considerable apprehension is being felt here among men interested in game that in the number of hunting accidents which are being reported here will be found a number such as have occurred in Dauphin county. One county treasurer has insisted upon using his own discretion as to issuance of hunter's licenses to persons under eighteen or nineteen. The law allows licenses to be issued to persons over fourteen provided parents give consent when required. In the single case reported the county treasurer has turned down some juvenile applicants as not qualified to carry firearms.

The number of hunters' licenses issued thus far has been large. In a dozen or more counties the supply has been sold out and new licenses have been asked. However, Allegheny, which issued the largest number last year, has not been heard from. Counties like Philadelphia, York, Butler, Washington, Erie, Lawrence and Mercer have asked additional tags. Allegheny issued 21,500 last year. The reports on the hunting season are all favorable. The State Game Commission has heard reports of good pheasant and quail shooting where the birds were cared for, while the State Fisheries Department reports are that many bass and salmon have been taken and that there are plenty of wild ducks on the streams. The Fishery authorities are sending out trout again and will continue planting until the weather closes the streams. The trout distributed this fall have been the subject of some complimentary letters. In some sections of the state sportsmen have asked that the state make a game distribution and purchase quail and pheasants for next year. Rabbits have been abundant and squirrels have been shot by the thousand.

Dr. Joseph Kalbfus, secretary of the Game Commission, says there are many wild turkeys and that the season, which starts Friday, should be good. He is also hopeful of good deer and bear hunting. Many bear have been seen in mountain counties.

FISHER THANKS LOAN WORKERS Highway Leader of Indiana County Says That State Will Now Come Out of the Mud

The tremendous favorable vote given the proposed constitutional amendment which will permit the state to borrow $50,000,000 for road purposes is attributed by the Associated Highway Builders of Pennsylvania, which backed the proposition, to the fact that the state at large has tired of unpermanant main roads. Figures received by the associated highway state show that votes to have been nearly 200,000 more than the Noes.

The approval of the amendment by the voters of Pennsylvania is complete evidence that the people of this Commonwealth are progressive," said Ex-Senator John S. Fisher, of Indiana, president of the associated highway builders. "The state is now enabled to borrow money and build highways on a wholesale scale."
