CAMPS' RETURNS LACK RESULTS OF VOTES TAKEN

Commissioners Get Few Ballots, With Heavy Expense Accounts

A few of the returns filed at the department of the secretary of the commonwealth by commissioners appointed by the Governor to take the votes of Pennsylvanians in military or naval service do not contain any statements of the candidates for whom the men voted. The names of the men voting are given, but no statement of results.

In one instance a commissioner reported fifty-nine soldiers voting and stated that their names had been sent to the twenty-nine counties whence they hailed, but that there was no record of the way they voted. In another return names of thirty of thirty-two men who voted were filed here without any vote. Officials here took statements from the commissioners regarding the situation and are hoping that the returns sent to counties may be found to contain some figures.

Eighty-seven out of 126 commissioners have filed returns and expense accounts at 10 cents a mile. In one or two instances it is calculated that the votes cost the state of Pennsylvania $10 apiece, while in the Salt Lake case, wherein the commissioner found all but two men gone when he arrived, the state will pay more for affording means to vote. In all, men were sent to 109 places, Camps Lee, Meade and other big stations having more than one commissioner. The Camp Lee commissioners brought back the largest vote, about 3,000 out of 13,000 men from Pennsylvania reported in that cantonment.

Some of the return books do not contain oaths of election officers, some are without names of camps in proper places and with other omissions which officials here are endeavoring to correct.

Somewhat of a chill was cast over Republicans here when the returns of about eighty commissioners to the bulk of the camps and stations were canvassed for Congressional votes. These returns were from the big camps like Lee and Meade, and showed these soldier votes regarding candidates in Congressional districts where contests are close: Tenth—Farr, 74; McLane, 56; Eleventh—Carpenter, 71; Casey, 111; Sixteenth—Lesher, 42; Duy, 29. There are forty commissioners to report, but the bulk of the big camps and stations have been heard from. Just what will be done about votes where the returns are lacking or imperfect is not known now.

Liverpool Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. S. A. ROBISON

Liverpool, Pa., Nov. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Robison, of Liverpool, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary quietly this week at their home in Front street. It was the desire of the children to have a family reunion at this time, but owing to the Spanish influenza, which has invaded the homes of three of the family, the reunion has been postponed. Mr. and Mrs. Robison have a family of five children—Mrs. W. M. Chauncey, Bradford; R. B. Robison, manager of the Globe Clothing Store at Harrisburg; George W. Robison, of Philadelphia; E. F. Robison, of Mechanicsburg; Miss Puera B. Robison, a member of the faculty at Williamsport Dickinson Seminary. "Daddy" Robinson is 87 years old, the oldest resident in Liverpool, a Civil War veteran and a stanch Democrat.

A Disgrace to Journalism

Blacker discredit was yesterday afternoon brought on American newspapers, than by any event in the memory of the oldest journalist. It is all very fine to rush out in ordinary times with sensational but unverified dispatches, in order to snatch a few more pennies from credulous folk. But to deceive the public and purvey false news in reference to one of the most momentous events in the history of the world—this is nothing short of an offense against public morals, as well as a violation of professional ethics, which ought to be severely punished. And the reckless papers, which flamed with a report that they should have known to be incredible, and which was shown to be untrustworthy on the slightest inquiry, involved in their disgrace other editors who strove to be honest with themselves and with their patrons. For the public is little discriminating. It lumps all the newspapers together, and, after yesterday, will give new edge to the sneering question: "You surely don't believe anything you see in the papers?" It is for this reason that the Evening Post feels that yesterday's reckless imposition, and betrayal of public confidence, by the United Press ought seriously to be taken into consideration by all newspaper men who wish to keep their calling reputable.

We speak of the gross offense of the United Press, but we should speak just as strongly of the Associated Press if it had been capable of such criminal trifling with the public. Take the original story and the later lame defense of the United Press. On its face, the Paris dispatch was inherently improbable. It was inconsistent with what we knew about the journey of the German commissioners to Marshal Foch. Even before the later dispatches showed that the United Press telegram was either a pure invention or a stupid misunderstanding, the evidence of its huge improbability was before every news editor. The thing might be printed as an unconfirmed rumor, but the whole affair cried out for careful verification. This was instantly undertaken by the Associated Press, and in no time enough was discovered to show that the United Press dispatch was either a fabrication or the most idiotic blunder. Yet with incredible levity and in the biggest headlines the dispatch, which every intelligent newspaperman knew to be violently suspect, was flung to the public without a hint that it was not official, and not to be taken for gospel truth. The limping and shamefaced explanations could not overtake the original lie. In fact, the alleged explanations had lying stamped all over them.

The press, as we say, has a duty to perform respecting this outrage but has not the public also? Will our easy-going people simply pass it off as merely one more proof of newspaper irresponsibility, and laugh at the next tale offered to the gullible? All that we can say is that if readers of the papers who got this blow on the head are not roused by it to protest, and to resolve to distinguish between the journalism that strives to be accurate, and that which does not care a straw what it prints, so long as it sells, they will continue to be cheated by unscrupulous newspapers. And, in our opinion, they will deserve to be cheated. What ought to follow is some kind of organized and visible public protest, to bring it sharply home to the pockets—we speak not of their consciences—of dishonorable papers that their impostures and their frauds do not pay.—New York Evening Post.

LIEUT. TOWSEN WOUNDED FIVE TIMES IN ACTION

Jaw Broken in Battle Near Verdun; Captain Rupp Wounded

Convalescing in a base hospital in France, after having been wounded in five different places in one engagement, Lieutenant J. Wilbur Towsen, writes an interesting, if somewhat gruesome letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Towsen, 616 North Second street.

Lieutenant Towsen was engaged in the vicinity of Verdun in the operations which took place September 25-27. Although he was wounded in an engagement on the latter date in the jaw, hip, foot, arm and wrist, he was able to walk from the lines, and did not seem to feel the effects of his wounds until after he had left the zone of excitement. His most serious wound is in the jaw, which was broken.

His left hand, it is claimed by Lieutenant Towsen, was saved by his wristwatch, a flying missile having struck him in the wrist of that hand and lodged against the watchcase, with such force as to have otherwise severed his hand or made amputation necessary. Lieutenant Towsen reports that when leaving the battle lines, he saw Captain Rupp lying on the ground wounded and, as he thought, dead.

It was thought that the Captain Rupp referred to was a Shiremanstown man, however such report could not be confirmed to-day. Some say that the Captain Rupp referred to may be a York man, formerly connected with the Governor's Troop.

Lieutenant Towsen is a member of Company D, Three Hundred and Thirteenth Infantry. He received his training and commission at Fort Niagara, N. Y., and later was sent to Camp Meade before sailing overseas in June.

Mother and Girl Killed During Peace Celebration

New York, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Louise Thompson, widow of Howard N. Thompson, one-time correspondent of the Associated Press at Paris and Petrograd, and her daughter, Margaret, 10 years old, were killed at the height of the celebration in Yonkers over the false armistice reports, when an automobile struck and hurled them under a trolley car.

They were caught in a pocket in the crowd while crossing a street shortly before midnight. The driver of the motorcar was arrested charged with homicide.

Mrs. Thompson, who lived in Ossining, was a violinist of more than local repute, having studied in this country, France, Italy and Germany. She was born in Columbus, Ohio and her daughter in Paris. Mr. Thompson died in Paris.

Clemenceau Greeted as Savior of France

Paris, Nov. 9.—Premier Clemenceau appeared for a moment last night in the lobby of the senate after a sitting of that body which had declared him, in traditional phrase, to have "deserved well of his country."

The premier's approach to the group of senators lingering after the adjournment was the signal for an ovation to him. He was speedily surrounded by numbers of the senators, who pressed forward to shake his hand.

"You are the savior of France!" cried one.

"No, no," replied the premier, shrugging his shoulders, "it is the country which has done everything itself."

Battleplane Kills Two Spectators at Scranton

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 9.—When a big battleplane which had alighted at Olyphant yesterday attempted to take the air it crashed into a crowd of spectators, with the result that a boy and a man were killed and seven others hurt. The machine was being driven by Lieutenant Ziegman, of St. Louis. The crowd gathered too close to the machine as it started, and Lieutenant Ziegman, seeing that it would be impossible to clear their heads, turned the machine into the ground, wrecking it. It was when the machine turned turtle that the spectators were killed and injured.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING POSTPONED

The opening meeting of a series to continue through the winter, scheduled to be held in Fahnestock Hall to-morrow afternoon has been postponed because of the activities in connection with the Unitew War Work drive.

WAR FUND IS VITAL

The following telegram was received at noon to-day by the Telegraph from Dr. John R. Mott, head of the United War Work Drive.

"The united conclusion is that no matter how near or how distant permanent peace may be, the long period of demobilization and the period which will precede demobilization will present greater need than ever for the service of the seven United War Work cooperating organizations. Therefore the request for an oversubscription of 50 per cent. is most necessary. Our advisors in the American Army and Navy concur in this judgment. I have conferred on the subject with President Wilson and the War Department, and they strongly emphasize the need and importance of this work for the period which will follow cessation of hostilities. A letter from President Wilson will appear in two days expressing his satisfaction that our plans have been enlarged to render this patriotic service.

"The months following the victorious ending of the war will be followed by special dangers. We need not be as solicitous for our soldiers and sailors when they are drilling and fighting and confronting the great adventure of life and death as when this great incitement is withdrawn, discipline relaxed, hours of leisure multiplied and temptations increased. The seven organizations will then be more needed than ever to prevent the period of demobilization becoming a period of demoralization. It took two years to complete demobilization after the Franco-Prussian war, 18 months after the Turko-Russian war, six months after the Spanish-American war, ten months after the South African war and 13 months after the Russo-Japanese war. All with whom we have consulted agree that it will require one year or more to demobilize the American forces. For this period of greatest danger the seven organizations are planning to enlarge greatly their physical and social program by presenting helpful counter attractions to keep men from wrong practices. They are also launching a great educational program involving the use of thousands of teachers and spending millions of dollars on text and reference books. A remarkable religious program will be conducted — including the use of the greatest religious teachers and preachers of America. To occupy all the time of our men in these useful ways will cost much more than it has to help them during fragments of their time. We therefore call upon the entire American people to subscribe generously to the United War Work campaign in grateful recognition of the remarkable services rendered by our men.

"JOHN R. MOTT."

KAISER'S ANSWER TO BE RECEIVED IN SHORT TIME

Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, first lord of the British admiralty.

Reichstag Leaders to Know

It is regarded probable in well informed circles that Prince Maximilian, the German imperial chancellor, will to-day communicate the terms of the armistice to a committee of Reichstag party leaders and will himself convey their vote to authorize the plenipotentiaries to sign the armistice.

Germany May Use Wireless

It is probable that the German reply to the Allied terms for an armistice will be brought back by the same courier that took them to German headquarters at Spa yesterday. Under the circumstances, it is believed the reply cannot be delivered before the middle of this afternoon, at the very earliest.

The German government, however, may use the wireless, in which case the plenipotentiaries at Marshal Foch's headquarters will have only to ratify the decision thus conveyed to them.

BRITISH SEIZE MAUBEUGE; PUT ENEMY IN TRAP

Haig Men Make It Impossible For Foe to Meet New Attack

Washington, Nov. 9.—Capture of Maubeuge by the British, General March said to-day, marks the definite severance of the last German artery to that sector of the west front and will make it impossible for the enemy to shift his forces to meet a new attack.

Summarizing the Allied successes since the inauguration of the forward movement, General March pointed out that the Germans have been driven sixty-four miles farther from Paris and the territory they occupy in France has been reduced from 10,000 square miles to less than 2,500.

The American First army under General Pershing has advanced thirty miles in the last eight days.

Denounces Fake Dispatch

General March characterized the publication of the erroneous announcement of the armistice as "very bad for the military program of the United States." For instance, he said, in New York, the stevedores who were engaged in loading very essential supplies for the expeditionary forces, stopped work and did not return at all on that day or the next day and army food shipments thus were delayed.

In commenting on this incident the chief of staff made the statement that the American Army will be in France for some time even when peace is declared.

Price of Boston Papers Go Up at Week's End

Boston, Nov. 9.—Publishers of Boston daily and Sunday papers voted to-day to advance the price next Friday to 2 cents morning and evening, and 6 and 7 cents on Sundays. To-day all the Boston evening papers sell for 1 cent, except the Transcript, which charges 3 cents, and all the morning papers for 1 cent except the Boston Globe, which sells for 2 cents, and the Christian Science Monitor, which sells for 3 cents. All the Sunday papers sell for 5 cents.

Boston is the only large city in the country in which there still remained 1-cent newspapers, and the increase to 2 cents has been under consideration for some time. Largely increased operating expenses and the jumping price of print paper have made the 1-cent paper impossible.

Must Fill War Chest, Even if Peace Comes, Says Mott

New York, Nov. 9.—To guard against the demobilization period becoming one of "mental, moral and physical slackness and deterioration" in the American army and navy, the seven welfare organizations united in next week's war work campaign require, even more urgently than if hostilities continued, the full support of the public, John R. Mott, chairman of the drive, declared here yesterday at a rally of the Merchants' Association.

Not merely $170,500,000 set as the goal of the campaign, but fully $250,000,000 will be needed to serve the men in khaki and blue for the year or more that will elapse before they re-enter private life, he said.

700 MILES IN ONE TRIP

New York, Nov. 9.—A De Haviland power Liberty motor piloted by airplane, fitted with a 400-horse-Signal Electrician Elmer J. Spencer and carrying Major M. J. Boots as a passenger, established what he believed to be a new non-stop record for this country in a flight from Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, to Yonkers, N. Y., more than 700 miles, in four hours and thirty minutes. Leaving Mount Clemens at 11.40 a. m., they landed at Yonkers at 4.10 p. m.

CELEBRATION OF PEACE TO HAVE A DEEP MEANING

WITH a great military victory and a triumphant peace impending, it is the opinion of many thoughtful people of Harrisburg that any public demonstration should be in harmony with the ideals of the war and the great causes which led the United States to participate in the conflict.

There is a disposition too often to make of these occasions a mere jollification without meaning and contrary to the spirit of serious purpose underlying the alliance for righteousness and liberty and justice. In a premature celebration the other night upon a false rumor of peace, there was manifest a disposition to treat the whole thing as a Hallowe'en or Mardi Gras festival might have been treated.

The great sacrifices of the war have touched many homes, and while there should be great joy and rejoicing over the termination of hostilities and the coming of peace, there ought also to be a serious appreciation of what has been achieved and what the victory means for the country and the world.

The Telegraph believes that, above all else, there should be a recognition of God in appropriate services in all the churches. Of course, there should also be a great public demonstration in harmony with the ideals and purposes of the war. But all mere carnival features should be eliminated. It ought, in short, to be a fine patriotic expression of the joy of the people along the line of several of the imposing demonstrations which have marked the progress of the war in Harrisburg.

There is no necessity for any hasty celebration. It ought to follow quickly, of course, after the declaration of peace, but whatever is done should be done after some thought as to the character of the celebration and the proper arrangement of details. It would seem that even now Mayor Keister might call into conference the chairman of the Committee of National Defense and others who have been prominent in the war activities—men and women—with a view to outlining a program to the end that there may be no celebration that will reflect adversely upon a community that has acquitted itself so admirably throughout the war.

Reed will deliver an address on "What Constitutes German Propaganda." Members and friends are invited. A public meeting in the interest of the United War Work Campaign will be held on Tuesday evening in the High School auditorium. Several prominent speakers will be present. — The annual gathering of the Newville Branch of the Needleworkers Guild of America will be held on Friday evening, November 15 at 7.30, in the High School Auditorium. A short program will be rendered. The public is invited to her the program and see the display of garments.

Berne — The Swiss Federal Council has decided to break off all relations with the Russian Soviet Mission. Russian delegates have been asked to leave Switzerland because of their participation in revolutionary propaganda.

Trenton, N. J. — New Jersey's next State Assembly, which is expected to vote on the liquor question, seemingly tnurned Republican with official returns from Middlesex county, indicating the election of one Republican and two Democrats. The Middletown soldiers' quartet is composed of Sergeants Parfitt and Mullaney and Corporals Roberts and Corbin.

Only inclement weather will prevent a huge turnout when the meeting begins at 3.30 o'clock. Every Harrisburger who has a friend or relative at the front or in an Army camp, it is thought, will be on hand to see how the soldiers are being cared for by these war belief organizations.

A band, the Liberty Singers, and the Middletown soldiers' quartet will furnish music. Patriotic airs, mingled with popular soldier airs, will arouse the enthusiasm of the crowd.

The industrial drive is on its last lap to-day. Already some of the team captains have turned in their reports, although the canvass of industries will continue unabated until Monday noon. Chairman Starkey, of the industrial committee, still is of the opinion that employes should contribute more liberally than has been the response in some quarters. In view of the high wages, he feels, workingmen are in a better position than ever to match the contributions of their employes.

The reports of the team captains of the industrial committee will be received at a meeting in the Harrisburg Club Monday at noon, when the industrial canvass officially ends. When the industrial totals have been computed, they will be assigned to the wards in which the varous plants are located, and then the quotas for the homes committee will be worked out for announcement at the meeting of the homes canvassers in the Chestnut street auditorium Monday evening.

At ward meetings held during the week, the workers were instructed to meet in North Second street above Market for a parade to the Chestnut street auditorium. They will be led by a band, and the meeting, which leads off the homes canvass, is expected to be featured by the enthusiasm of the workers. The homes canvass, continuing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, will be concluded with another rousing mass meeting in the auditorium Thursday evening.

J. T. Hoffman, a Y. M. C. A. overseas worker who has recently returned from his strenuous duties among the soldiers along the western front, will address Monday evening's meeting. It is expected the meeting will be a great boost to the homes campaign.

The following ward meetings were held last night:

First ward, C. H. Hunter, leader, 62 workers reported, 30 present; Second, A. Carson Stamm, 70 workers reported, 50 present; Fourth, Joseph Claster, 46 reported, 48 present; Eighth ward, J. E. Gipple, 65 workers reported; Eleventh, J. P. McCullough, 100 workers, 25 present; Fourteenth, H. R. Omwake, 18 workers, all present.

Ward meetings to-night, with speakers and instructors, will be as follows:

Third ward, J. W. Rodenhaver, leader, court room No. 1, J. William Bowman, instructor; Flavel L. Wright, speaker.

Fifth ward, Frank C. Sites, leader, United States court room, third floor, Post Office, Paul Johnston, instructor, Jesse E. B. Cunningham, speaker.

Three big war work meetings have been arranged for to-morrow and Monday. Chairman E. K. Romberger and his committee, of Elizabethville, announce that there will be a rally at Elizabethville to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the United Brethren Church, to be addressed by Dr. J. George Becht, secretary of the State Board of Education, and a noted orator, and another at Pillow at 7 o'clock in the evening in the Lutheran Church to be addressed by the Rev. P. P. Huyatt, of Berrysburg, and County Recorder James E. Lentz.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock the people of Penbrook will gather in the United Brethren Church, where Jesse E. B. Cunningham, former deputy attorney general and a noted speaker, will deliver an address.

Professor Shambaugh will speak to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Grantville United Brethren Church and at 11 o'clock at the Shellsville Lutheran Church.

ASH COLLECTION CONTRACT PLAN

ment, he claims, has been a satisfactor yone, but he is planning now to have the collections of ashes made oftener next year, at least during the winter months. Numerous complaints have been received here. It will cost the city more money, he said, but will insure much better service. The present arrangement which went into effect early in the year will cost the city $40,000 by the end of next month. Dr. Hassler said he could not estimate what the bids for the work next year will be.

Behind in Schedules

At present collections are being made, according to officials of the Bureau of Ash and Garbage Inspection, by a fifteen-day schedule. During the last month there was some difficulty in maintaining this arrangement they said, due to the epidemic of influenza, which caused the death of two of the collection force and at times had many of the other men at home sick. November 16, however, the colection gangs will start at Market street, working north and south as usual.

Officials of the bureau have requested householders to provide from four to six receptacles holding from one to one and one-half bushels each. They said that with collections every two weeks, one or two receptacles would not hold the accumulation of ashes. Co-operation on the part of the householders will be a big help in meeting this condition, they said.

May Collect Rubbish

It was also announced that an ordinance may be introduced in Council in a week or two which will be effective beginning January 1 and will provide for the collection of rubbish and ashes from all buildings in the city. It is planned, if possible, to remove the refuse from hotels and restaurants, fire company houses and other places not included in the present agreement. Whether Council will approve this plan officials could not say, but a number of proprietors of hotels and restaurants during the year have made complaints because the ashes and rubbish has not been taken from their places.

Another plan which may be proposed would be to have weekly collections for apartment houses and other larger buildings where the amount of coal used is greater and the ashes accumulate in larger quantities. Officials said that collections every two weeks for these places do not prove as satisfactory as collections once each week.

Youthful Thespians Give Vaudeville For Belgians

The Keystone Entertainers, an organization of five youthful thespians residing in East State street, made their debut in a series of entertainments the last few evenings at the "Williams Playhouse," 1723 Apricot street, the entire proceeds of which go to the Belgian Relief Fund. A neat sum was realized.

Interspersed with lantern pictures, some vaudeville stunts were cleverly presented, a change of program occurring nightly. A notable feature of Thursday evening's performance was the human mummy doll, 27 inches high, born in Africa in 1784, and now speaking English fluently as it danced the latest "bunny-hug."

Last evening's headliner was the Capture of Sedan, a three-act war drama in miniature, showing the several military encampments, the forts in action, the hovering airplanes, the gunboats plying the river Meuse; concluding with the onrush of the American soldiers, the demolition of the enemy fortifications and the surrender of the Germans.
