The Lykens Valley anthracite mining region of Dauphin county will show a loss of hundreds of thousands of tons, possibly a million, as the result of the influenza epidemic which swept through that section with great severity. The ban was just raised to-day on that territory, the emergency hospitals at Lykens and Williamstown having been closed a few days ago. There are dezens of persons just recovering from the epidemic and there will be weeks before the full tide of production of coal can be resumed. In this city it is estimated that there were 500 deaths and between 7,000 and 8,000 cases, while Steelton was hard hit. Where housing conditions were not good there were many fatalities. Middletown, Hummelstown, Millersburg and Hershey were not so seriously affected as the mining section. In the mining region the men are leaving eatting back to work and much hampered by the epidemic. In Williamsport it is reported that there were forty-two deaths in a population of 5,000, while Tower City and vicinity, over the Schuylkill line, had about 115 deaths in 6,000 population. In Lykens and Wiconisco there were fifty-three deaths with a population of about 5,000. Several of the collieries were actually shut down for from three or four days to a week by the epidemic and the production of anthracite of a high grade, ordinarily 7,000 tons a day went down to fifty per cent. for the October working days. Much expense will fall on municipalities, but largely costs of fighting the epidemic are going to be taken out of the half million dollars or so to the credit of the State Health Department. All these bills will be paid and then sent to the Auditor General for final auditing. The cost to the state will not be complete for weeks owing to the widespread nature of the epidemic and the extraordinary conditions which had to be met.

So the United War Work organizations are getting right behind the men at the most critical time to prove to them that the people at home are ready to back them in war or peace. The plans that have been worked out to let our fighters go to school—to give men vocational and technical training that will fit them to earn more when they return than they did before they left—the opening of the English and French universities for higher education—the organization of correspondence courses so that however isolated a man may be he can benefit by these advantages—these are the things which the great army educational program of the United War Work campaign contentplates and which the people of the country are now asked to provide for in their contributions to the big drive that will get fully under way next Tuesday, the 12th of November.

The projects that have been launched, however, none is more far-reaching than the determination of the United War Work campaigners to establish among the fighting forces of the United States overseas universities for the continuance during the period of demobilization of the educational work which was interrupted with the breaking out of the war.

Several thousand professors are being mobilized under the direction of the united campaign leaders for educational work on the other side of the ocean. All the Y, M. C. A year after the defeat of Caporetto, in which German treachery accomplished what German and Austrian arms could not do, the army has shown the world how slight was the crack opened up in the Italian defense by the elaborate propaganda and barrage of lies with which the enemy had sought to break it down, and how steadfast and unshaken Italian nationalism and the character of the Italian people remained thoughout the ordeal.

The military party in Germany that has screwed up its face, shut its eyes and declared it won't take the medicine under its nose may learn something by opening one eye and taking a look at the armistice terms imposed on Austria.

Armistice terms, the kaiser and his advises may be informed, are going up. They are a war commodity and those that must have them have to pay dear. Germany must buy in a rising market.

People hereabouts are wondering what effect the end of the war is going to have on the plans of the government and the great military storehouses established at Middletown and Marsh Run, Some very ambitious projects for road improvement and other developments are in the wind and if the national authorities determine to curtail or abandon the plants there will be changes. The belief is that they will be permanent, at least for a decade to come. WHAT shall I do when I get back home?"

"Will I be all out of step?"

"Will these warfare years unfit me for making progress in business when I return?"

These are the questions that boys are asking over there—asking them eagerly, half fearsomely. They have given a year, or two, or three years and of the best part of their lives. Will it mean that they are handicapped permanently because of that sacrifice?
