Washington, Nov. 11.—The terms of the armistice with Germany were read to Congress by President Wilson at one o'clock this afternoon.

Assembled in the hall of the House, where nineteen months ago Senators and Representatives heard the President ask for a declaration of war, they to-day heard him speak the words which herald the coming of peace. The President spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the Congress: In these times of rapid and stupendous change it will in some degree lighten my sense of responsibility to perform in person the duty of communicating to you some of the larger circumstances of the situation with which it is necessary to deal.

The German authorities, who have at the invitation of the supreme war council, been in communication with Marshal Foch have accepted and signed the terms of armistice, which he was authorized and instructed to communicate to them. Those terms are as follows:

The strictly military terms of the armistice are embraced in eleven specifications which include the evacuation of all invaded territories, the withdrawal of the German troops from the left bank of the Rhine and the surrender of all supplies of war.

The terms also provide for the abandonment by Germany of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk.

Allies to Take Navy

The naval terms provide for the surrender of one hundred and sixty submarines, fifty destroyers, six battle cruisers, ten battleships, eight light cruisers and other miscellaneous ships.

All Allied vessels in German hands are to be surrendered and Germany is to notify neutrals that they are free to trade at once on the seas with the Allied countries.

To Make Restitution

Among the financial terms included are restitution for damage done by the German armies; restitution of the cash taken from the National Bank of Belgium and return of gold taken from Russia and Rumania.

The military terms include the surrender of five thousand guns, half field and half light artillery; thirty thousand machine guns, three thousand flame throwers and two thousand airplanes.

Seize Transportation
