Nurses Who Aid City in Influenza Epidemic to Be Entertained at Theater

Co-operating with City Health Officer John M. J. Raunick and heads of the Harrisburg Red Cross in acknowledging the splendid service of volunteer nurses and other workers during the recent influenza epidemic, Wilmer & Vincent, through their local representative, C. Floyd Hopkins, will tender a box party at the Orpheum on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The performance at the Orpheum will be "The Queen of the Movies," not a motion picture, but a high class musical comedy in which the moving picture actress is depicted in the start part. The play comes to Harrisburg with the record of a successful run on Broadway.

Dr. Raunick and those at Red Cross headquarters are immensely proud of the manner in which many Harrisburgers, chiefly young women responded to the call when the epidemic spread to such proportions that the regular paid nurses of the city were completely swamped and unable to cope with the situation.

At Red Cross headquarters a list of the volunteers is being compiled and from this list the tickets to "The Queen of the Movies" will be issued. The tickets will be placed in the hands of the women at Red Cross headquarters to-morrow noon, and all persons entitled to become members of the theater party are to apply at Red Cross headquarters, Front and Walnut street, for them.

"The Queen of the Movies" abounds in music, dancing, love, life and laughter. Music lovers throughout the entire world have been spellbound by the spell of "Oh, Cecilia," "Girls Run Along," "In the Night" and other musical numbers which have made the piece famous.

Cecilia Gill, a prominent motion picture actress known as "the queen of the movies" is in love with a motion picture actor, Baron de Clutterluck, who is engaged to Clutterluck's daughter, Cecilia. Cecilia plans to have Clutterluck's daughter and her wife, unconsciously participating in a film which will hold them up to ridicule. Her plans vary, to the consternation of the scientist. The young nobleman steals the film and in the last act peace and harmony are restored.

Crown Prince Is Now Reported Safe in Holland

Conflicting reports come from Europe as to the fate of the former German Crown Prince. Dispatches from London declare he was shot and killed Monday by frontier guards while trying to escape into Holland.

Turning from war to peace so suddenly that the transition has been almost bewildering, the nations which have been embroiled in the great conflict are hastily taking measures to meet the problems of the future, which appear to be no less serious than those of the past.

Germany insists on its demand that the peace conference be held at once. Dr. W. S. Solf, the foreign secretary, has pointed out the fact that the settlement of the questions arising out of the cessation of hostilities can save the German people from famine.

In the interim, however, the Germans are deprived of even civil administration in the Rhineland region, which will be taken over by the Allies until the final adjustment of the rest of the peace.

Allied and United States military authorities will govern the country from which Germany has agreed to withdraw her defeated legions.

Must Yield All U-boats This new supplement to the armistice agreement, it is announced, is accompanied by the surrender by Germany of her submarines.

Under the original armistice agreement, only 160 U-boats were to be turned over to the Allies.

Berlin Recognizes Bolshevism The grim specter of Bolshevism has appeared out of the turmoil of revolution in Germany, and has received recognition at Berlin.

Harrisburg Seaman Lands Safely After Wreck Henry Buch, complaint clerk at the mayor's office, received a card this morning from his son Harold Buch, who was on board the U. S. S. Lakeborgne when it struck a rock and foundered off the coast of September.

To-day was the first Officer Buch heard from his son, and was the first intimation he received as to whether he was alive or dead. The card was censored, and it was reported that he was in Cardiff, Wales. He said that everything he possessed was lost. Details of the rescue were not supplied.

Buch resides with his parents when he is at home. He was gun captain on the Lakeborgne when it was sunk.

Losers Entire Fleet of Submarines Under Amended Armistice Terms

Washington, Nov. 13.—Germany loses her entire fleet of submarines under the armistice terms as amended by Marshal Foch before he signed them with the German envoys Monday morning.

Eighteen of the articles as originally prepared by the supreme command of the Allies and the United States within fourteen days.

Instead of 60,000 railroad cars to be surrendered in evacuated territory, the number is made 150,000. The number of machine guns to be delivered by the Germans is reduced from 30,000 to 25,000; the German troops in East Africa are permitted to surrender; provision is made for considering food needs in Germany in the taking of means of transportation; and a repatriation of German prisoners of war at the conclusion of peace is added.

In response to the German fear of anarchy in occupied Russian provinces after evacuation, the time of evacuation is changed from immediate to "as soon as possible," taking into account the internal situation of those territories, shall decide that the time for this has come.

Another added clause provides for an armistice commission, to which Germans will be admitted, to carry out details under the direction of the victorious military authorities and in accord with appended notes, which were drafted during the conference between Marshal Foch and the German delegates and changes close with this:

This armistice has been signed the eleventh of November, nineteen eighteen, at five o'clock French time, by E. E. R. E. Wymess, Erzberger, Oberdorff, Winterfeld, Vanselow.

President Wilson has had the terms as drafted by the Supreme War Council and approved by the Allied premiers and Colonel House, in his hands since Monday of last week, when they were cables up to their completion. He prepared his address including the terms and read it to Congress before Marshal Foch reported the armistice as actually signed at his headquarters.

Tax collectors in the county districts have paid into the county treasury more than $142,000, the amount collected in 1918 taxes, according to County Treasurer Mark Mumma.

County commissioners have not received the triennial assessment reports yet but they said they hoped that the increase in the valuation of properties in the city and county, for county taxation purposes, would be large enough so that the tax rate can be lowered next year.
