

BOCKNELL-GETTYSBURG BATTLE TO DRAW CROWD SATURDAY; FLYERS SLAY ACADEMY

Middletown Flyers Take Academy Lively Trip Through the Clouds

The men in uniform from Middletown Aviation plant took the Academy team for a ride in the clouds yesterday in what was humorously called a "practice game." These practice games are mere childish tiffs, with no rough stuff, and the two managers were only interested in trying out their demon athletes at various points in the lineup. Of course, sometimes, even in these friendly bickerings things happen, so thought Manager Loose, at least, when a great big rough chapmaster tackled him so hard after he made a daisy catch that all the muscles of his left leg were signposted, his knee disjuncted and he was so stove up in general that the first aid carried him off. The soldiers made so many goals that Manager Lieutenant Blamer, sent down town for an adding machine, but it did not arrive in time and so no one will ever know the score.

The fray was so disconcerting and, as it were, confounding, that the sporting reporter only saw buzzsaws and whirlingbats on the horizon. He was certain, however, that many touchdowns were made, as evidenced by "Dore, playing quarter, was perhaps the best man on the offensive for the soldiers. During the first five minutes of play he dashed across the goal line for six points, each time. His first game was on a long run, and the second was on a long run, but he was intercepted, but as we have said, the score was too high to keep track of the number of touchdowns by each man. The aviators carried on so briskly that the historians related: "Not one pass that was thrown by the acting captain of the blue and gold during the entire game was worked, except one shot fling that Armstrong snatched away from England." Men who conquered and suffered in the historic encounter included: Academy Middletown Armstrong, L. E.; Stewart, Michaux, L. T.; Rooney, Good, L. G.; Hughes, Hawkins, C.; Richards, Hunter, R. G.; Strunk, Loose, R. T.; Stepien, Yoffee, R. E.; Davis, Weigle, Q. B.; Dore, Menger, L. H.; Lovell, Yinst, R. H.; Shaw, England, F. B.; Knothe.

SNODDLES

Big Crowd to Witness Gettysburg-Bucknell Game

WADDELL, BUCKNELL CAPTAIN CAMERON, GETTYSBURG TACKLE

"Lay a bet on it; we'll carry on" whooped a lurid Gettysburg roofer over the phone this morning. "This is the year we put Bucknell under the sod." Huge delegations of rooters have engaged transportation to jazz up our lovely city, and the same being an only one in a long time here should draw like flies to a molasses jug. The Gettysburg chap reports: "We are making strenuous efforts this week in preparation for our old enemy, Bucknell, and splendid results are already noticeable. Pep and polish are developing steadily and technical play and formations are being perfected by Coaches Leathera and Wood. In signal drill and scrimmage the dash and spirit that mark a team as playing together are evident. The line is regularly stopping the assaults of the scrubs, while the backfield is offering interference and working together in a way that insures greater ground gaining ability. "The physical condition of the men in general is measuring up to the best about to be put upon it, with men who have been suffering 'drip' daily reporting in shape for work. Dummy drills and other rudimentary practices are being employed to keep the men trained to the proper working condition, while the morale of the men, is raised to the zenith by the simple thought of soon renewing the struggle with our upstate foe. "Doc" Rice, Gettysburg publicity agent and six-cylinder roofer, announced to-day that the officials on Saturday's big game will be umpire, Todd Eberle, Swarthmore; C. L. Miller, Haverford; referee, E. W. Saul, headlinesman, Otterbine University. Bucknell's lineup will be: Jack Hall, left end; Johnson, left tackle; Kremer, (Charles), left guard; Gerhart, center; Rosenbloom, right guard; Piekarski, right tackle; Kramer, (Edward), right end; Waddell, (Capt.), quarterback; Kostos, or Bortz, left halfback; Lewis, or Brandt, right halfback; Morrison, fullback. Gettysburg's array will number: Martz, center; Ziegler, guard; Fuhrman, guard; Nicely, tackle; Cameron, tackle; Widman, end; Wueschinski, end; Folf, quarter; Bream, half; McDowell, half; Cushing, fullback.

SOCIALISTS IN EVERY SEAT OF TEUTON CABINET

Supporters of Former Kaiser Divide Power With Independent Wing of Party

Copenhagen, Nov. 14.—The new German government has been organized with the following cabinet members: Premier and Interior and Military Affairs—Friedrich Ebert. Foreign Affairs—Hugo Haase. Finance and Colonies—Philipp Scheidemann. Demobilization, Transport, Justice and Health—Wilhelm Dittmann. Publicity, Art and Literature—Herr Landsberg. Social Policy—Richard Barth.

Announcement of the members of the new German government confirms previous reports that the cabinet would be composed entirely of Socialists. The majority Socialists, who supported the imperial government during the war are represented by Ebert, Scheidemann and Landsberg, while the Independent Socialists are Haase, Dittmann and Barth. Herr Dittmann, who sits in the Reichstag as a deputy from Hamburg, was sentenced to imprisonment last February in connection with labor troubles in Berlin. He was released by the imperial government a few days before the war. Richard Barth formerly was editor of the Socialist Vorwaerts and is a member of the Spartacus or Bolshevik, element of the Independent Socialists.

Five Directors Elected by Lemoyne Trust Co.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lemoyne Trust Company, held in the company's building yesterday afternoon, five new directors were elected to serve for a period of three years. The new directors are: C. B. Attieks, C. H. Bishop, S. H. Bowers, C. W. Hardt and A. J. Wright. The new board will meet Wednesday for organization. The Lemoyne Trust Company is controlled by eighteen directors, five of whom are elected each year to serve for a period of three years. Besides the five members elected yesterday the board consists of the following: U. G. Barnitz, George Bower, Dr. J. W. Bowman, George D. Cook, S. K. Fraser, Harry B. Witman, L. E. Hartman, G. A. Hempf, John E. Myers, Robert L. Myers, H. W. Neidig, Jacob L. Rife and A. U. Shuman.

Dauphin Farmers Map Out Big Program For 1918

The program of the Dauphin County Farm Bureau for 1918, will include three major projects, it was announced to-day. They will be soil fertility work, potato production and potato blight. Much of the work done will be in the form of demonstrations, which will make possible the calling together of farmers at meetings to show definitely the results of projects which will improve the agriculture of the county. A report has been made on the increase in wheat acreage. The increase was to be 884 acres, but the farmers of the county have pledged to increase their acreage 1,254 acres, not including four townships which have not reported. It is certain the increase will be 1,710 acres.

THE OPEN BOAT "When this here war is done," says Dan, "and all the fighting's through, There's some'll pal with Fritz again as they was used to do; But not me," says Dan, the sailor man, "not me," says he. "Lord knows it's nippy in the open boat on an awful night at sea. When the last battle's lost an' won and won an' lost, There's some'll think no 'arm to drink with squareheads just the same. But not me," says Dan, the sailor man, "not me," says he. "Lord knows it's thirsty in an open boat when the water beaker's dry. "When all the bloomin' mines is sweep' an' ships are sunk no more, There's some'll set them down to eat with Germans as before; But not me," says Dan, the sailor man, "not me," says he. "Lord knows it's hungry in an open boat when the last biscuit's done. "When peace is signed and trenties made an' trade begins again, There's some'll shake a German's hand an' never see the rain; But not me," says Dan, the sailor man, "not me," says he. "Lord knows, it's bitter in an open boat to see your shipmates die." —London Punch.

Doc Kalbfus, of the State Game Commission, Said he: "I have a certain hunch That turkey wild is ripe to-morrow, But awful scarce, much to my sorrow."

Boston, Mass., Nov. 13.—Johnny Dundee, of New York, clashed with Johnny Buckley, of South Boston, in the feature six-round bout of the 44-round drive for the United War Work Campaign Fund, before the members of the Army Athletic Association last night. Dundee was in excellent form and found little difficulty with Buckley. In fact, the go was not quite stiff enough to meet the desire of the more enthusiastic fans, but Dundee did not consider the occasion one for letting himself out, and so contented himself with just keeping Buckley busy.

U. S. to Sell Gems Valued at $225,000 Belonging to Huns

Rubies, emeralds and pearls, property of alien enemies, are among the articles the Alien Enemy Custodian's office will sell within the next fortnight. This announcement was made yesterday by Frank P. Garvan, director of the New York bureau. Also included in the list are hides, oils and paints, the big plant of the German-American Milling Company, near Tampa, Fla.; motorcycles, leather and drugs. Pearls and precious stones valued at $225,000 were seized in Fifth Avenue shops, where they had been placed on sale by Rudolph Hahn & Sons, of London, prior to the entrance of the United States into the war. The collection, mostly unmounted, consists of 16 pearls, three rubies and emeralds. One of the rubies is valued at $5,160 and the emeralds at $4,440 and $3,840. The gems will be sold November 21.

Creates Trust Fund of $100,000 to Help Needy Townspeople

Derby, Conn., Nov. 12.—Frank A. Russ, a native of New York, who came to Derby when a young man and associated himself with the late Robert N. Bassett in the manufacture of corset steels, dress stays, etc., has prospered and now is willing to share his wealth with the less fortunate of his townspeople. He has created a trust fund of $100,000 to provide, as he says, "an income to be devoted to those in need, and to extend a helping hand to those who are weary and heavy-laden."

Starting as a workman, Mr. Russ gradually made his way until now he is president and treasurer of the R. N. Bassett Company. At the time that he began work for the concern but about fifty hands were employed; now in a new plant in the neighborhood of Shelton, over 1,200, mostly girls, are employed. The industry is one of the biggest in the Naugatuck Valley and one of the most profitable of its kind in this country.

Three years ago Mr. Russ showed his interest in the Elks of Derby and Shelton by surprising them at the dedication of the new Elks' home, when he presented Derby Lodge of Elks $20,000 to liquidate the mortgage on the new building. Although Mr. Russ was not an Elk, the local lodge received permission to make

TECH MAY NOT PLAY

Indications are that the Technical High School football eleven will not travel to Greensburg this Saturday for the annual contest because of the "flu" epidemic that is still prevalent in the Westmoreland town. The Greensburg management prefers to play the game in this city November 6th. While Tech plays Thanksgiving with Steelton High School, it is expected that the squad could rest Friday and go into the Greensburg game Saturday with its full strength.

It is a matter of much regret to Tech's followers that the team is unable to play more games than it has. Cancellations have been frequent because of the epidemic, while other teams have avoided playing Tech because of the local team's strength. Faculty Director Grubb expects to hear definitely this evening, as to what the Greensburg management proposes to do concerning the contest scheduled for this Saturday.
