Our Fighting Men Assured of Their "Makings"—the Government Releases Part of the Output of "BULL" DURHAM Tobacco.

THIS is good news from Washington! Since April, at the request of the Government, our entire output of "BULL" DURHAM, thirty-six million sacks a month, has been going to our fighting men—going forward with the colors—until now every camp, every billet, every naval station and every ship is supplied and the Government is assured that wherever our boys in khaki and in blue are—there also is "BULL" DURHAM.

For this purpose, was our entire output requested and given. The purpose accomplished—and full supplies of "BULL" DURHAM guaranteed for the future—the Government has released the remaining part of the "Makings of a Nation" for civilian consumption.

Ask your dealer for a sack of "Bull," and once again, with your own hands, roll a cigarette for yourself—a cigarette machines can't imitate—the mildest, the most fragrant, the most economical cigarette in the world. Thus, we know, you will welcome good old "Bull" home again. For "Bull" has done his bit gladly and well—and will continue to do it right into Berlin.

316th Infantry Fought and Died Like Heroes, Writes Company Commander

Tribute was paid to members of the 316th Infantry by Captain John McInnes Somers, Philadelphia, commander of Company M, when he said: "They fought and died like real men and heroes—they all do it, and one should never be cited for bravery over another." The 316th is composed largely of Dauphin county men.
Captain Somers was in command of his company only two days of what he terms "five days of hell." After that he commanded the battalion, his major having been killed. "On the last big advance," he writes, "in one of the most historic sectors and the bloodiest of France, this division got its first real fighting. Never did I think or know what a real shambles would look like! The first two days were bad enough, but the last three no one will ever forget who lived through them. We lost very heavily, as our artillery could not keep up and support us.
"We were fighting five days in rain and no food at all and very little sleep. After five days of heavy artillery one doesn't sleep well."
"From rumors I hear, I think the Germans are beginning to get their bellies full of our kind of fighting, for we certainly have been hammering away relentlessly, and where we get a start we don't stop for anything—through machine guns, gas and their heaviest artillery. They don't understand it."

Edison on Witness Stand; Inventor Is Called in Suit

New York.—Thomas A. Edison was a witness in the Supreme Court action against him for $6,891 brought by Archibald M. Ostrom, as commissioner on a contract for the British government.
Counsel for Ostrom sought to have the inventor identify his signature to a letter.
"It looks like my signature," replied Mr. Edison. "I'll tell you if it's mine if you will let me read the letter." He read the epistle, recalled the contents and then said the signature was his.
J. P. Morgan, who was to be a witness, was excused because of his confidential relations with the British government.

T. R. Ill of Sciatica; Likely to Lose Tooth

New York, Nov. 14.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is in danger of losing one of those famous teeth.
In a statement issued by his secretary, Miss Josephine M. Stricker, it was explained that the rheumatic condition from which the Colonel is suffering is believed to be due to the condition of one tooth, which will probably have to be extracted. As the offender is a molar, its loss will not detract from the Roosevelt smile.
Dr. John H. Richards, the Colonel's physician, visited him at the hospital and gave him a thorough examination. After this visit Miss Stricker gave out a statement in which she said that Dr. Richards reported Colonel Roosevelt's physical condition as "excellent," his blood pressure and arteries being those of a man of forty."
