

Curfew Ordinance in New York Proposed

New York — A bill restricting children from playing in the streets or attending places of amusement after 10 o'clock at night during the summer months and after 9 o'clock during the winter will be introduced shortly as a war measure by the Committee on Civic Problems of the Mayor's Committee on National Defense before an aldermanic meeting. This bill prohibits children under 16 years of age from attending a dance hall, theater or other public places of amusement, or being on the streets after 10 o'clock from May to September and after 9 o'clock from October to April, unless accompanied by an adult who is responsible for the child. It is proposed that this bill shall become effective at once and be legal for twelve months after the war. Previous hearings have been held by the Committee on General Welfare of the Board of Education with regard to enforcing a curfew law for children under 16 years of age. So many protests were filed at the last meeting against such restrictions during the hot weather that the matter was postponed for future consideration.

Labor Proposals in Readjustment

New York — Some of the things labor is thinking about in connection with the period of readjustment were reflected in resolutions recently adopted by the Central Federated Union in this city. These resolutions, endorsing the Wilson peace points and calling for armament reduction and a League of Nations, commended the government's plan for placing disabled soldiers and sailors in useful occupations. The resolutions also proposed that labor be represented on the peace commissions of the various nations, so that the peace treaty "shall prevent the possibility of an alliance between two or more nations in rivalry for commercial supremacy, or any discrimination or exclusion of the rights of other nations to the disadvantage or suppression of the working people of any nation." Another part of the resolutions read: "All labor laws and standards suspended for the duration of the war should be restored and enforced, particularly those for prohibiting child labor and for restricting the hours of employment of women and the prevention of night work; a minimum wage scale and equal pay for both sexes in the same kind of employment, and equal federal and state grants for assisting orphaned children to remain at school under the age of 14 years." Algerians Given Political Rights Paris, France — The Chamber of Deputies has passed a bill bestowing political rights on Algerian Muhammadans. The bill was supported by M. Jonnart, Governor of Algeria. COLDS Head or chest — are best treated "externally" — VICK'S VAPORUB YOUR REMEDY FOR COLDS NEW PRICES — 30c, 60c, $1.20

Is a matter of serving rather than money-making—"For the fun of it," and the greatest good to the greatest number of people," replied Mr. Doutrich when asked what he was in business for. Our problem is NOT to "sell" our merchandise, because we have a tremendous output, we insist on keeping up the Doutrich Standard — Manufacturers are very careful what they ship to this "Live Store" for if it looks a bit doubtful, "back it goes"—We can't afford to sell "cheap," shoddy or inferior merchandise.

Some stores serve to sell. We sell to serve — We are distributors of the finest clothing the market affords — We insure it's satisfaction-giving qualities — We give our customers the benefit of every financial advantage arising from our enormous purchasing power— We started our Overcoat Fair with

Forty-Four Hundred Overcoats

It required a great deal of capital to invest in such an unusual number of "Overcoats," but we wanted to have enough to supply the demand this season, for we knew there was going to be a shortage of good wool fabrics — We won't have too many "Overcoats" — We can tell that already by the enthusiastic and eager crowds who are coming HERE daily to get the greater values that are obtainable through our keen foresight in preparing so generously for our customers.

Just now we are rendering a greater service than ever—by taking only our USUAL profit on these "Overcoats" made from wools we purchased months ago before prices had risen to their present levels — But that's the DOUTRICH way of doing business — We'd rather have "more friends" and "less profit" — You'll find us ready to serve you with large assortments at prices you'll be willing to pay when you compare our Overcoats with what you've seen elsewhere.

This Is the Home of the Overcoat

Our Boys' Department has kept us on the jump. There were many times during the week that we scarcely had time to "turn around" the news spread among the boys that we had the "Overcoats" and there was no let up in purchases—Say, every Boy who came Here for a suit or overcoat went away a "Happy fellow" — We're glad we can please the boys so well for we are counting on big things from these young Americans in the future.

There's no end of variety in overcoats at this "Live store" and never have we experienced such hearty co-operation and deep interest as has been shown by the enthusiastic crowds of men, women and children who came HERE to see this unique Doutrich attraction — It's scarcely believable that one store could sell as many overcoats as we sold the opening day of the Overcoat-Fair, but tomorrow is going to be a record-breaking day — We can judge it from this past week's results — It's been wonderful.
