

JACK HALL AND CAPT. MARTZ STARRED SATURDAY; TARSUS WINS CITY FOOTBALL TITLE

The City Football Title Is Won by Tarsus A. C.

Although outweighed by about twenty pounds to a man, the Tarsus school of gymnastics football team won the city championship from the West End aggregation by the score of 14-0. The game was very rough and several fights occurred among the players. Both teams are from the West End of the city and are bitter rivals. The Tarsus aerial attack was too much for West End.

First Quarter
Fetrow kicked off to Heiney who was penalized for fighting and was held through the line for first down. Williams made fifteen yards around right end. Kunhart through five yards through the line, bringing the ball to the thirty-yard line. West End was penalized for fighting and was held for downs. A Tarsus forward pass was grounded. Euker made five yards through the line. Fetrow made seven around left end. Lick made ten yards on a long end run. Euker made a forward pass to Krebs which was good for three yards. Another one was grounded. Euker then shot one to Lick, which was good for twelve yards. Meck made two yards on a line plunge. Euker then punted to Krebs, which was good for nine more, bringing the ball to the twenty-yard line. West End then took the ball by holding Tarsus for downs. Williams then punted to Euker, who ran the ball back ten yards before being tackled. The quarter ended with the ball in Tarsus' possession on the forty-yard line. Score, Tarsus 0, West End 0.

Second Quarter
A forward pass was grounded. Euker lost a yard on an attempted run. Fetrow made two yards through the line. Lick made ten more through the end. A forward pass was grounded. Euker then shot a forward pass to Meck who caught it on the two-yard line and fell over the goal line when he was tackled. Fetrow kicked the goal.

Fetrow kicked to Reed, who fumbled and Cless recovered. Williams made twenty yards around the end. Dill made ten more through the line. After Dill and Kunhart were only able to make five yards on line plunges, Williams punted to Euker who carried the ball back fifteen yards. A forward pass by Euker to Krebs, netted twelve yards for Tarsus. Euker made a first down around right end. Tarsus was held and Fetrow punted to Williams, who carried the ball back twelve yards. Dill made ten yards around the end. Kunhart made twelve more through the line. Williams made ten more, bringing the ball to the ten-yard line. On a fake play Fritz went around left end and was on his way for a touchdown when Euker brought him down on the five-yard line. The quarter then ended. Score, Tarsus 7, West End 0.

Third Quarter
Hoffman kicked off to Euker, who was downed after carrying the ball back five yards. A forward pass was grounded. Euker punted to Krebs, who carried the ball back twelve yards. Meck and Fetrow made another first down. A forward pass, Euker to Lick, placed the ball on the thirty-yard line. West End then took the ball by holding Tarsus for downs. Dill and Williams made two first downs in succession. Kunhart made five yards through the line. Tarsus was penalized for off-side. West End then punted to Krebs, being held to three downs. A forward pass, Euker to Meck, was good for thirteen yards. Meck then carried the end for twelve yards. Euker was thrown for a six-yard loss on an attempted forward pass. He then shot a forward pass to Fetrow which brought the ball to the thirty-yard line. Then the quarter ended. Score, Tarsus 14, West End 0.

Captain Martz and Hall Star In Great Bucknell Victory

History repeated itself Saturday afternoon on the Island when Bucknell triumphed over Gettysburg, 27 to 0. From the first kickoff when Captain Martz booted the ball to Lewis, there was no question as to which was the better team. From a local standpoint, the greatest centered in the local boys who were playing on the two teams. Then there was the unusual sight of khaki-clad lads doing the snake dance between the halves. Two blaring, college bands, and the street parades before and after the contest, about three thousand people saw the game, and while the contest was rather a tame affair, the spectators got their money's worth just to see that bunch of khaki boys let loose the kind of "pep" that has made the American soldier famous the world around. In the Bucknell contingent were sprinkled a dozen snappers with their navy blue uniforms and white hats cocked upon the back of their heads. The signing of the armistice brought them back from the Jersey coasts where they were patrolling on subschasers, to their studies at Gettysburg.

One name that was on the lips of every spectator was that of Jack Hall, former Central player, Jack played left end on the Bucknell team, according to the lineup. But from a spectator's standpoint, Jack played at most every position on the eleven. On the defense he nailed the runners before they had a chance to start. On the offensive, Jack snatched down forward passes with as much ease as an outfielder handles flies. Pitt kicked three out of four goals from touchdowns.

On the other team was Captain Martz. He was easily half the battlefield eleven. He was especially strong on the defense, often heating the ends down on punts and the kick-off. Had it not been for the great defense play the score would have been much larger. Wueschinski and Wolfe were other "local" boys who had good opportunity to show his caliber, as the Bucknell line crashed through and Wolfe hauled him before he had a chance to start. Wueschinski played

Tarsus 7, West End 0

West End held Tarsus for three downs and on the fourth Fetrow punted over the goal line. The ball was brought out to the twenty-yard line and given to West End. Williams made twenty yards through the line. Dill made ten more. On the next play Kunhart fumbled the ball as he was going through the line and Meck recovered it. Lick made sixteen yards around the end. A forward pass to Krebs brought the ball to the ten-yard line. Fetrow made five yards through the line. Meck made ten more. The ball was now on the two-yard line. West End then gave a great exhibition of defensive playing by holding the Tarsus team for downs. Hoffman dropped back to punt, but the ball went out of bounds on the two-yard line. After hitting the line three times and failing to get the necessary two yards for the score, Euker shot a forward pass over the goal line to Lick. Fetrow kicked the goal as the whistle blew, ending the game.

The entire Tarsus team played a Dill and Kunhart showed up well for West End. Lineup:

well on the defense while he was in the game for Gettysburg. Another deciding feature in Bucknell's victory was the good playing of Captain Martz, who carried the ball back fifteen yards. Meck and Fetrow made another first down. A forward pass, Euker to Lick, placed the ball on the thirty-yard line. West End then took the ball by holding Tarsus for downs. Dill and Williams made two first downs in succession. Kunhart made five yards through the line. Tarsus was penalized for off-side. West End then punted to Krebs, being held to three downs. A forward pass, Euker to Meck, was good for thirteen yards. Meck then carried the end for twelve yards. Euker was thrown for a six-yard loss on an attempted forward pass. He then shot a forward pass to Fetrow which brought the ball to the thirty-yard line. Then the quarter ended. Score, Tarsus 14, West End 0.

self behind the goal posts. "Bill" kicked the goal. Then the home team got half mad and gave the Tech lads some of their own medicine. Davis flipped two forward passes in succession to Hanna, and on the second toss Hanna scored, adding the seventh point to the lead. Here is a summary of the affair:

CAPT. "BOSSY" GOUGLER In Action

Two Harrisburg football players were much in evidence on the gridiron Saturday, helping to bring victory to their Alma Mater. Glenn Killinger beat Lehigh 7 to 6 for old Penn State. Usually, a star is mentioned as winning a victory single-handed. In this case it possibly would be better to say "single-footed." At the very start of the game played at South Bethlehem, Lehigh started off with a rush and scored six points within five minutes. The goal was missed.

Then State got busy and on a blocked punt Henry scored a touchdown. The local lad then made history by booting the oval squarely between the posts for the one point that meant victory. Killinger is a Soph at State, where he is taking a prominent part in athletics. Last year he played on the Freshman eleven, and was guard on the quintet. The first year eligibility rule kept him from the baseball nine. But Allison Hill fans are still talking about his home run to deep center in the Allison Hill League—the hit that clinched the pennant for Rosewood in the post-season series with the Reading aggregation.

Killinger is a Tech graduate and while at that institution won his "M" on the basketball team. Being light in weight he did not make the varsity eleven but was quarterback on "scrubs." He was then known as "Shrimp." Since then he has taken on considerable weight, and has outgrown that name physically. He is a peppery, clean, hard player who will make athletic history for the Centre county institution with several more years to play. When Pitt walloped Penn at Pittsburgh Saturday, one of Glenn Warner's leading lights was "Bossy" Gougler, the former Central player who scored a touchdown, kicked two goals from placement. This is nothing new for the local lad, who is one of the classiest players in the country on one of the classiest teams. Possibly it is the best team, but that can be better decided at the close of next Saturday's contest with Georgia Tech.

Academy Sets Fast Pace and Takes Game From Gettysburg

The Harrisburg Academy showed what it could do on Saturday by trimming a strong, fast team, Gettysburg High, 18-6. Severe recent practice under Coach Rudisill had built up the squad to real team-play, and the forward pass was pulled with precision and success. Captain England had the misfortune to be put out of the game with a wrenched ankle, but Welgie, as captain pro-tem, made a very good job of it, coping two touchdowns himself. Manager Loose was also out of this fray, not having recovered from his injury last week. M. A. Academy's equipment, Yinger who made the other touchdown, taking highest honors. Welgie, Manger, England and Yinger worked fast and sure. Gilliland, for Gettysburg, was a tower of strength. The lineup was:
Academy
Armstrong L. E. Berger
Michaux L. T. Peters
Rose L. G. Raymond
Mawkins C. C. Shumaker
Sides R. G. Mehring
Dallman R. T. Shetter
Yoffee H. E. Weiser
Welgie L. H. B. Hartly
Yinger L. H. B. Sheeley
Menger R. H. B. Hunter
England, Capt and F. B. Gilliland
Touchdowns—Hartly, Welgie 2, Yinger.
Substitutions—Fisher and Yoffee. Good for Rose, Hunter for Sides.

McAdoo's Pen Gives Wage Increase; Rebuke to Threat of Keymen

Washington, Nov. 18.—Telegraphers and associate employees of the St. Louis Terminal Railroad, were rebuked by Director General McAdoo for their threat to strike to-day unless the order giving them higher wages were issued before then. "You must understand that the United States government cannot be intimidated and that it is highly improper to do so," said the director general in a telegram to a leader of the St. Louis employes, made public to-day. He explained that the strike threat was recalled Saturday after he

Sammy Schiff Boxes Tonight For War Fund

Sammy Schiff, Harrisburg's premier boxer, will take on Tim Dronney to-night at Eer's Academy in Lancaster, for the benefit of United War Work campaign. About 100 of Sammy's pals will accompany him to root, although there is nothing at stake in this bout excepting how much they can raise for the good cause. Another local lad, Nat Isaacman, will take part in the charity, meeting some Lancaster boy of his weight. Dronney and Schiff put up a rattling fight here at the Motive Power show recently.
