Patriotic Upper End Town Has Made Good in Every Campaign During War

Millersburg, Pa., Nov. 18.—When the working solicitors in the United War Work drive made their report to Chairman H. W. Bowman on Saturday, it was found that Millersburg had, as in all the other war work drives, more than made good. Millersburg's quota in this drive was $2,000. Collections to Saturday evening amounted to $3,776.90, and with money still coming in the total amount will be near the $4,000 mark.

HIGH PRICE FOR FARM Marietta, Pa., Nov. 18.—Two hundred and ninety-five dollars per acre was the price paid for a thirty-seven acre farm, belonging to the Jonathan Rutter estate, near Intercourse.

Home in a Unit This would permit the sending home to Harrisburg as a unit the Harrisburg men who marched away to the war in the Governor's Troop, Companies D and I and the smaller organizations. Plans for a similar demobilization of the 79th division also are being considered. Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington have put in claims for a parade of this crack organization which trained at Camp Meade and is composed of National Army men from Eastern Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia. Dauphin county men largely make up the 316th Infantry in this division. It was this regiment that returned Philadelphia officer described as being "men who fought and die like heroes."

Plan Big Parade The suggestion made by Mayor Keister that Harrisburg wait until its men get home to celebrate peace in formal fashion has gained many supporters when it was learned that in all probability the soldiers can get home in a body for a parade that is now conceded ought to be the greatest pageant the city has ever known.

Definite arrangements for the parade cannot be made, it was pointed out, until it is learned at what time the hundreds of men in other divisions will have returned. It is probable, however, that the 3,000 men of Dauphin county will want to join with those of Harrisburg in the pageant. It is generally believed that most of the youths serving with the soldiers return so that every branch of the service may be represented.

General March in discussing the situation said that this problem of demobilization, one of the features which had to be considered was the subsequent retaining of men in the Regular Army, when Congress passes laws reorganizing that Army.

When the war broke out there were only a limited number of men in the service, and the great number of men who filled out these units were men who voluntarily enlisted for the period of the war. So we have offered these men who came in for the period of the war the option of re-enlisting if they care to. "We have offered an immediate honorable discharge with a furlough of one month upon re-enlistment and we propose to ask Congress to give every single man who has been honorably discharged one month's pay, whatever his grade is, as a bonus. Every man who is discharged from the Army is entitled to wear his uniform for a period of three months, that is a very necessary thing, because the releasing to civil life of three or four million men makes it impossible to clothe in civilian clothes so great a number.

As men are discharged, we take up the question of the officers. Officers who want to apply for commissions in the Regular Army will be considered; officers who want to put themselves in a class where they can be used for further military operations, will be offered commissions in the reserve corps. The rest of them will be discharged. "I have called General Pershing to return to the United States on troop transports all the men who are casuals or convalescents, sick and wounded who are able to be moved; and these men will come in a steady flow across the Atlantic before the larger number come back as units."

Samuel Koplovitz Again Wounded in Action

Word came this morning from the War Department concerning Samuel Koplovitz, president of the Harrisburg Newsboy's Association, with this brief message: "Deeply regret to inform you that he was slightly wounded in action." Arthur Koplovitz, who is in charge of the business since Samuel bravely took a chance on life in service, said that the family had never been able to get any information about the soldier newsboy since he was taken to the hospital with shell shock, although great efforts were made to learn particulars. Sam has had all sorts of thrills, getting caught one day in a barrage in which dozens of his comrades were killed. The latest message seems to indicate that he recovered from this and went back only to be again wounded. He is serving in Company K, 112th Infantry Regiment.

each section being drawn by a tractor. The entrance of the Americans into Spincourt on Saturday was one of the most spectacular features of the American advance. Lieut. Emmet Gruner, of St. Louis, represented the First Army with Lieut. Robert Nicolson, of Salisbury, N. C., going as artillery expert to see that the guns were all in good condition. The lieutenants were accompanied by an infantry sergeant and four privates.

Lieut. Gruner, the sergeant, and one private went ahead in an automobile, carrying a white flag. Lieut. Nicolson and the other private followed. Upon reaching the outskirts of Spincourt, they were met by a lone German lieutenant who spoke English. He conducted the Americans to the village hotel, where billets had been provided. After saying he was glad to see them, and expressing his relief that his responsibility was past, the German said: "I am damn glad the war is over."

Paris, Nov. 18.—Major Dickman, who will command the Third Army, which will be the "army of occupation," was formerly in command of the third division at the time of its defense of the south bank of the Marne, in east of Chateau Thierry on May 21, and the succeeding weeks. Later he was put in command of corps. His chief of staff will be Brigadier General Malin Craig.

HOLLAND GROWS TOO WARM FOR FORMER KAISER

Potsdam Hears That Hollenzollern Is to Return to Germany

London, Nov. 18.—The Potsdam Soldiers and Workmen's Committee learns that William Hohenzollern intends to return to Germany because of disturbances in Holland, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin says he is likely to be permitted to return. Prince Eitel Frederick, son of the former emperor, has appealed to his comrades of the Potsdam garrison to place themselves at the disposal of the new government in Germany.

Marna, Holland, Nov. 18.—Count Charles Von Bentinck, son of Count Godard, in an interview to-day declared his father was unaware of the intended coming of the German emperor until last Sunday when the Dutch government telephone asking him if he would receive the exile. The count acceded as a duty to the Dutch government.

The former emperor's host seems somewhat uneasy over the delicate charge given him as his family has considerable English connections. Count Charles said he asked the former emperor: "Well, how long will you remain?"

Major Miller Tells How It Feels to Go Through Training For Officer

Major William C. Miller, formerly of the State Health Department, now connected with the medical department of the United States Army, made a delightful speech before the Rotary Club to-day in which he recited his experiences in military training. Major Miller went through all the requirements of the new recruit, lost twenty-five pounds in weight and looks ten years younger. He was high in his honors in the quality of the American officer and the man in the ranks. The Rotarians sang a new song, written by the author of the Battle Hymn of the Republic, entitled, "The Guard on the Rhine," from the pen of a new member, Lee Moss, as follows: See the Yankee soldier boys go o'er the German line, Singing Yankee Doodle songs away beyond the Rhine, Fritz lutes the Star and Stripes, he's got to do it fine, As our boys go marching on, Chorus: Glory, glory, halloo, etc. Yanks are backing on the ramparts of the old fortress of Metz, The Germans used to hold it but their hands in their registers, The harder the Doughboys push him, the faster Fritz "gets," As our boys go marching on, Chorus: Two million Yankee soldiers went across he bridge, They fought and died and won a glorious victory; They helped to bring to all the world beloved liberty— And they are marching on.

Harrisburg lads at Chateau Thierry battered the Germans down. In thirty hours at St. Mihiel the Yank* won world renown. We'll ring the praises long and loud, this is a proud old town, When our boys come marching home, Chorus.

TELEPHONE HARD HIT

The Bell Telephone Company reported to-day that in all 325 telephones in the city were out of commission this morning as a result of last night's storm. Of this number 243 were located at Riverside and the remainder, or 82, were on the Sixth street cable line. No failure of service was reported from other parts of the city. Trouble was experienced in making connections with suburban towns.

Establishments which already had been ordered licensed by the federal food administration. The licenses will be secured at once, the order states. Restaurants to Meet At the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon, information and instructions will be given and a checking up on the food rules still in effect will be made, during a meeting in which all restaurant, hotel and eating house proprietors have been invited. Donald McCormick, county food administrator, will be present and Miss Mary East, State College home economics extension expert, will address the meeting.

It was said at the office of the food administration that ice dealers need not pack any more than the usual amount of ice during the coming winter, as the cessation of hostilities will release for ice manufacturers huge stores of ammonia which hitherto have been used in the manufacture of munitions.

All Bakers Affected Mr. McCormick said that bakers who have been compelled to make reports of the substitutes used, will not have to make these reports in the future. With the announcement that substitutes may be eliminated from their bread, the bakers are relieved of the necessity of making the reports. It is urged upon them to remember, however, that the regulations governing the amount of sweetening and shortening allowed to a barrel of flour in mixing their doughs still are in force and must be observed.

The victorious Allies will not concern themselves primarily, it is believed, with Germany's redemption of her own national debt, since this is largely internal. Comparatively small amounts of German war bonds are owned outside Germany and perhaps the largest sums are held by citizens of the United States, former German subjects. Officials here who have known internal conditions in Germany in the past do not believe the government will repudiate the internal indebtedness, but rather think that taxes will be made so heavy as to force citizens to turn in their bonds in settlement. In this way the debt would be canceled without actual repudiation. There is some discussion in official circles here of the advisability of the Allies requiring payment of an indefinite amount for repatriation, this sum to be determined in the future by commissions, as the physical reconstruction progresses in Belgium and France and the actual cost of the work becomes more clearly determined than now. It is pointed out that future prices cannot be ascertained accurately at this time, on the part of American officials in the subject is somewhat indirect, however, inasmuch as the government expects none of the payments to go to its credit.

Germany's Burden Greatest Whatever may be the weight of the final burden of repatriation and restitution to be placed on Germany, the enormity of the task ahead of her may be illustrated by comparison of her national debt with that of the United States. Germany has 66,000,000 population and $80,000,000,000 of estimated wealth, to pay $35,000,000,000 of war debt already created. The United States has 110,000,000 population and an estimated national wealth of $250,000,000,000 to pay nearly $18,000,000,000 war debt already created, or approximately $23,000,000,000 within another six months. This means that the per capita burden will be at least three times greater in Germany than in the United States.

Five wards so far have failed to subscribe their quotas. The majority of these, however, are only slightly short of having their full allotments. At headquarters this morning it was said that they probably have the necessary amounts raised, and it remains only for the additional contributions to be reported. The Sunday schools have not reported the amount of Victory Boy and Girl subscriptions received yesterday. It is thought that a considerable sum was raised in the churches and Sunday schools through the efforts of pastors, superintendents and teachers. Tenth Ward Report Lieutenants J. K. Kreamer and D. E. Brightbill to-day reported in full for the second precinct of the Tenth ward, as follows: "The following is a correct report of the 22 workers in the Second precinct of the Tenth ward in the United War Work campaign: 572 homes were visited; 8 houses found vacant; 411 cash contributions received; 11 pledges received; 7 cash contributions were donated by solicitors for sick families; $35 was largest contribution received; 10c smallest contribution received; $349.40 received in cash; 195 contributions reported to industrial plants; $102 in pledges; 36 yellow cards at end of second day which were all worked to a successful finish.
