

DIXIE LAND ALL EXCITED OVER BIG GAME SATURDAY TWIXT GEORGIA TECH AND PITT

TECH HOPES FOR A HARD GAME

Williamson Trade School to Bring Good Team Here

When the Williamson Trade School football eleven visits this city Saturday afternoon, the Tech football squad hopes to have a chance to show just how well they can play.

The players state that they can play a better game than what they have had to date. If this is the case, then it is to be hoped that Williamson Trade School, coming from Philadelphia, will show enough opposition to make the Maroon players fight hard for victory.

No matter what the result of Saturday's contest the visitors come to this city with a clean slate for the season. They have either won or tied in every game played to date.

Dickinson Will Meet Gettysburg Saturday in Annual Battle

Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—Gettysburg College will meet its old rivals in football on Saturday.

AROUND THE BASES

"I'm a second Attila," said William the Hun. "Our notions were precisely the same." And with this, we are willing, most of us, to believe that Attila was "game."

The Keystone state, in Dr. Kalbfus, has one of the most enterprising men in the country for this job. Not waiting until the hunting season is over he is busy these days planning for the purchase of deer in Michigan, and other northern states for the game preserves of this state.

"Well, old man, how are you getting along with your poultry raising? Making expenses?" "Not yet, but my hens have taken to laying their own eggs, so I hope that they will soon be self-supporting."

If Germans worked as hard to earn the food that now they need, As Germans worked to murder folks their aid would come with speed.

Towanda, Pa., Nov. 20.—Charged with violation of the state game laws, Albert B. Pott, Philadelphia, was arrested here yesterday.

A motorist passing through a country town stopped to look at a man who was putting a dog through a number of clever tricks.

Horse Is Brave Under Fire Relate Soldiers

Among the curious facts which American soldiers have noticed in the European war is the unexpectedness of cavalry mounts for battle and their reluctance to leave the battlefield after the charge.

If his rider falls, the horse will dash along with his fellows and crash into the ranks of the enemy. Participants of the famous charge of the Light Brigade have related how scores of riderless horses rushed down "the valley of death" right up to the mouths of the Russian guns.

A cavalryman will tell you that his mount knows as much of military as he does himself. The fanciful tales are all familiar to the experienced horse, and instances have been noted when the rider's mistake was rectified by the horse who went through the ranks correctly, regardless of the soldier's contrary command.

Horses have been given honors which thousands of men have vainly striven for. Among them was Colonel Lord Roberts' little Arab, which carried him in the famous march from Kabul to Kandahar and around whose neck, at Queen Victoria's express wish, he hung the Kabul medal.

The American army will be given similar aid by the American Red Star Animal Relief, an organization founded at the request of Secretary of War Baker.

Season's Biggest Game When "Yellow Jackets" Meet Pitt

No football game scheduled in years has aroused so much interest as is being manifested in the big battle between Pitt and Georgia Tech, carded for November 23, and judging from reports from the South similar enthusiasm is being shown in Dixie land.

McLaren and Easterday were the only men who complained yesterday, the former having been slightly lamed since last week, while Saturday stung his heel in Saturday's game.

Joe Tinker Predicts Great Baseball Season

The leading minor league baseball magnates are not only determined to resume the sport in their circuits next year, but they confidently predict the season will be an extraordinarily successful one.

Joe Tinker, the former star shortstop, now president of the Columbus, Ohio, club of the American Association, is one of the most optimistic. He declares that the last barrier has been removed and that baseball is due for one of its greatest years.

Reading, Nov. 20.—Two knockouts marked the Maennerchor's boxing show here last night. Freddy Corbett, Reading, with a right swing to jaw sent Buddy McCarty, Phoenixville, into dreamland in the second round of the windup after Corbett was concealing the number in his pocket.

A view of part of the elaborate defense built by the Germans on the Belgian coast near Ostend. These positions were taken by the British naval forces without any fighting, the enemy having practically every gun intact.

SNOODLES

TIGHT WAD

By Hungerford.

Season's Biggest Game When "Yellow Jackets" Meet Pitt

No football game scheduled in years has aroused so much interest as is being manifested in the big battle between Pitt and Georgia Tech, carded for November 23, and judging from reports from the South similar enthusiasm is being shown in Dixie land.

McLaren and Easterday were the only men who complained yesterday, the former having been slightly lamed since last week, while Saturday stung his heel in Saturday's game.

Joe Tinker Predicts Great Baseball Season

The leading minor league baseball magnates are not only determined to resume the sport in their circuits next year, but they confidently predict the season will be an extraordinarily successful one.

Reading, Nov. 20.—Two knockouts marked the Maennerchor's boxing show here last night. Freddy Corbett, Reading, with a right swing to jaw sent Buddy McCarty, Phoenixville, into dreamland in the second round of the windup after Corbett was concealing the number in his pocket.

A view of part of the elaborate defense built by the Germans on the Belgian coast near Ostend. These positions were taken by the British naval forces without any fighting, the enemy having practically every gun intact.

MITCHELL FOR CUB'S PRESIDENT

Aggressive Manager to Be Hoisted as Successor of Weeghman

MITCHELL, CHICAGO CUBS' MANAGER.

If merit has its reward, Fred Mitchell, manager of the Chicago Club, 1918, champions of the National League, will be elected president of the club to succeed Charles Weeghman, as announced authoritatively yesterday.

Serious Flareback of Influenza in Franklin Co.

Chambersburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—Influenza has shown a flareback of alarming proportions in Franklin county. About St. Thomas the epidemic rages worse than ever, one physician, Dr. S. H. Swan, having ninety-nine cases since last Friday.

GERMAN GUN POSITIONS ON BELGIAN COAST NEAR OSTEND

A view of part of the elaborate defense built by the Germans on the Belgian coast near Ostend. These positions were taken by the British naval forces without any fighting, the enemy having practically every gun intact.

Standing of the Crews

HARRISBURG SIDE Philadelphia Division—The 131 crew first to go after 4 o'clock: 103, 124, 106, 132, 128.

Middle Division—The 33 crew first to go after 12:45 o'clock: 16, 33, 26, 17, 31, 248, 29, 235, 31, 234, 306. Laid off: 29, 28, 15.

ENOLA SIDE Philadelphia Division—The 235 crew first to go after 3:45 o'clock: 216, 225, 206, 231, 208, 210, 212, 229, 205, 224, 237.

Middle Division—The 119 crew first to go after 1:45 o'clock: 232, 218, 114, 253, 220, 229. Laid off: 107.

Philadelphia Division—Engineers up: Pleam, Osmond, Welsh, Kennedy. Firemen up: Floyd, Everhart, Euston, Cover.

Middle Division—Engineers up: Crimmel, Graham, Smith, Keane, Jas. Keane, Crum, Schreck, Buck, Delozier, Kiley, Keiser.

THE READING The 66 crew first to go after 12:00 o'clock: 67, 8, 5, 15, 55, 11, 14, 52, 62, 21, 53, 57.

Boat Torpedoed on Day Before the Armistice

London, Nov. 20.—The British mine sweeper Ascot was torpedoed and sunk on November 19, the day before the armistice was signed, with all aboard, the admiralty announced tonight.

"Six officers and forty-seven men are missing; there are no survivors," the statement says.

Life's Problems Are Discussed

Slacker! It is a word of disdainful meaning, a term of reproach coined at the beginning of the war to designate those who in one form or another shirked their duty to their country.

"Dear Madam: I have been married twenty years. I simply worshipped my wife. I would do so still if she were only half way square. We have several children, but for a number of years she has been in the habit of departing from home whenever she chose, leaving myself and the children for weeks at a time, going about where she pleased and receiving many attentions from men.

Play Safe--Stick to KING OSCAR CIGARS

the quality is as good as ever it They will please and satisfy you morning to night, reach home about three minutes before their husbands do, and then deliberately lie about how hard-worked they are.

It is an exceeding bitter cry, and who would blame the poor man. He certainly puts his finger on one of the slacker's most marked characteristics—the effort to camouflage his or her worthlessness by mouning about multiple and onerous duties.

The woman who is described in this letter is not the only one of her kind. Even our community knows her prototype. Her husband, her children, her home is her capital—the only asset she has, and she will never let it go.

If the husband is able to provide shelter, food and the comforts of life for his children and fails to do so, the law compels him. But unfortunately and tragically the arm of the law does not reach to the woman in such cases of flagrant and criminal neglect.