Railway Men Will Test Politics Order

Tour by Daughter of Pres. of France

New York.—Miss Margaret Wilson, eldest daughter of the President of the United States, has begun a year's singing tour of the army entertainment centers in France and Belgium, according to word received here.

Miss Wilson wears the regular uniform of the military welfare worker, and her present activities are a practical continuation of her singing tours of camps in the United States, where she gave upward of one hundred concerts during the past year at the request of Thomas S. Lane, chairman of the entertainment section of the Y. M. C. A.

Everywhere Miss Wilson's popularity with the soldiers was marked, and as a result of this came her decision to sing for the expeditionary forces.

Mr. Turbett was nominated on the Republican ticket in August, two weeks before the order issued by Mr. McAdoo. A strike was proposed by his fellow-workers, but Mr. Turbett persuaded them to stay on the job.

He has called attention to the protest made by the brotherhood chiefs against the order. In part, the protest states: "This means disfranchisement, by Executive Order No. 42, of over 300,000 men. Railroad employees during all the years of their service always have understood that the Constitution of the United States guaranteed to them certain rights and privileges, the same as all other citizens."

They will resist, they say, the attempt of any man, either by official order or otherwise, to deprive them of that right.

America and, we believe we are justified in saying on behalf of all Jews of the United States, we congratulate you on your election as president of the Czechoslovak Republic. We believe that no happier choice could have been made by your people, not only for themselves, but for the benefit of the mid-European peoples generally. It has been our privilege and pleasure to co-operate with you in your work, and we have come to regard you as the personification of broad-minded, far-seeing and liberal statesmanship. Therefore both to you and to your people, we offer our best wishes on your assuming the
