Thirtieth Division, Withdrawn From Battle Zone, Soon to Return

Tours, Nov. 29.—An American liner will sail from a French port in a few days for Rotterdam, where it will take on board ninety-six American officers and 2,000 men who have been prisoners of war in Germany. They will be brought to France before being taken to America. Major General James G. Harbord, head of the supply service of the American expeditionary forces,

ENTENTE ALLIES DEMAND KAISER

London, Nov. 29.—The Entente Allies have decided to demand that Holland surrender the former emperor of Germany to justice, according to the Daily Express.

has directed that sufficient rations and clothing be taken to Rotterdam and that the commissary department provide tobacco, canned goods and other articles.

Paris, Thursday, Nov. 28.—An announcement is made that the Thirtieth division of American troops has been withdrawn from the battle zone and will follow the Seventy-sixth and Twenty-seventh divisions to the United States.

The Thirtieth division was, with the Twenty-seventh brigaded with the British in the fighting near Cambrai when the Hindenburg line was smashed. Field Marshal Haig, commander of the British armies, paid a glowing tribute to the work of these two divisions, saying: "Brancourt, Premont, Busigny, Vaux, Andigny and St. Souplet testify to the dash and energy of your attack."

The Thirtieth division is made up of troops from Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and the District of Columbia. It was announced on November 27 by the War Department at Washington that this division was at that time at Queirieu, near Amiens. The division is under the command of Major General Edward H. Lewis.

FOUST ATTACKS EGG SUBSTITUTES

Says That Most of Those on Sale Throughout the State Are Open to Suspicion

Two more prosecutions on so-called egg substitutes, both in Philadelphia, have been ordered by Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust, based on the analysis of Prof. Charles H. LaWall. The one is called "Savage," and the other "Agg-o-la-Powder." Some of the claims for these alleged brands are, "Take the place of eggs in baking and cooking at less than ten cents a dozen." "A great discovery to reduce the high cost of living." "Dollars saved to every family by the use of 'Agg-o-la-Powder.'" "With 'Agg-o-la-Powder' you have no eggs to break, no spoiled eggs to throw away," notwithstanding the fact that the products consist of starch, coal tar dye, and in some instances milk powder.

Says the commissioner, "No egg about them, no constituent of an egg, and nothing that will take the place of an egg. There is no more respectable way of making money than to take a common everyday substance, disguise it, alter its appearance, make a lot of lying claims for it, and then sell it under a fancy label at fifteen times its market value, extolling it as a war saving economy. These egg substitutes not only have no merit, but they are mere toll collectors, depending for their popularity upon deceit and capouillage."

SERVING THE NATION AT HOME AND ABROAD

Reports have come to Mountville, the Lancaster county town with more men in the service than any other town its size in the state, that two more of its young men have been severely wounded in action.

C. M. Sheffer, Jacob Miller, Lester Bender, Sergeant Benner, James Frank, Clarence Henry, Amos C. Rees, T. Beckwith, Earl Kelly, Benjamin Miller

In a letter written by Sergeant Tryon E. Benner, Company A, One Hundred and Third Motor Supply Train, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Benner, 1404 Derry street, he tells about his company being on advanced lines at Chateau Thierry shortly before the war ended.

Sergeant Benner tells of his daily duties and how each soldier must be on the alert. He states that after the roll call, 5.30, each morning, the boys get in line for breakfast. He continues: "After breakfast we get our orders for work. Arriving at our destination, we are loaded with rations and supplies for our division, whose number is very large, as you know."

"On our way to the different supply dumps very often we must stop along the road and put on our gas masks and seek the best dugout along the road or in a cellar. And when we hear the guard give the signal, 'All clear,' we then take a look and again start on our way. After we deliver the daily rations we return to our camp, fill up our trucks with the necessary requirements, and are ready for another call."

Reports have come to Mountville, the Lancaster county town with more men in the service than any other town its size in the state, that two more of its young men have been severely wounded in action. Benjamin F. Miller, aged 23 years, left for Camp Meade with the first drafted men in September, 1917. His brother, Jacob E. Miller, aged 25 years, left for the same camp in May, 1918. Both young men, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Miller, sailed for France in July, 1918, and, although belonging to different branches of the service, were able to see each other often.

The brothers had been in active service about two months. Jacob is attached to the Three Hundred and Fourth Engineer Train, and Benjamin is a member of Company I, Three Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry. A singular thing is that for some time neither brother knew of the other's injury, although only a short distance apart.

Arrives Overseas Mrs. Lester Bender, 414 Second street, West Fairview, has received word of the safe arrival overseas of her husband, Private Lester Bender, Private Bender is a member of Company E, Twentieth Battalion, Infantry.

Promoted to Sergeant Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sheffer, 220 Seneca street, have recently been informed of the promotion of their son, Chester M. Sheffer, to the rank of sergeant. Mr. Sheffer enlisted in June, 1917, in the United States Engineer Corps. He was for a time stationed at Washington, D. C., where he received his training for overseas. In December, 1917, he sailed for France, and in March, 1918, was fighting the Huns near the Somme.

He was later confined to a hospital for five months. In September he was discharged from the hospital and transferred to the Transportation Corps, where he is at present serving as a stevedore.

Killed in Service After being on the firing line but nine days, Amos C. Reese is reported to have been killed October 9. Private Reese was a member of Company K, One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Infantry, and formerly resided at 5 North Tenth street. Before leaving for the service he was a conductor in the yards of the Bethlehem Steel Company. Private Reese received his training at Camp McArthur, Texas.

Serves in Navy Earl "Chubb" Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly, 623 Kelly street, is stationed at Puget Sound Naval Training School. He enlisted in June and was called to the service September 12, 1918.

Returns Home James Frank, of this city, has returned to his home from the Central Officers' Training School, Camp Lee, Virginia. After being on the training corps instructing replacement troops, Mr. Frank was recommended to the officers' school. He was included in the unit that was mustered out last Saturday.

Wounded in Action Corporal Clarence Henry, of Company B, Three Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry, is another Middle-town soldier who has been reported in the casualties as wounded in action overseas. He is a son of B. F. Henry, of South Wood street, and formerly resided at Chambersburg.

Promoted to Corporal Word has been received in Steelton that Trenor T. Beckwith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Beckwith, 162 Ridge street, has been promoted from a first-class private to corporal. Corporal Beckwith is a graduate of the Steelton High School, class of 1902, and also of Howard University, Washington, D. C., class of 1916. He was a member of the football team at high school and was popular. Corporal Beckwith enlisted with the Three Hundred and Fifty-first Artillery and sailed for France June 19.

Bavaria Breaks With Berlin Government

London, Nov. 29.—Bavaria has broken relations with the Berlin government, according to a Munich message transmitted by the Central News correspondent at Copenhagen.

The Munich dispatch states that a message has been sent to the Berlin Foreign Office by Kurt Eisner, the Bavarian Premier, stating that the Bavarian Foreign Office breaks its relations with Berlin "owing to the efforts of Berlin to deceive the people by withholding the truth about conditions."

HUNGARIAN MINISTER RESIGNS Berlin, Nov. 29.—Count Theodore Batthyanyi, Minister of the Interior of the Hungarian Cabinet, has resigned. His withdrawal from the ministry, it is stated, was the result of conflicts with the Socialists.
