Senate Committee Provides For Change, Which Is to Go Into Effect July 1

Washington, Nov. 30. — After July 1 next, a two-cent stamp will carry a letter anywhere and a postal card may be bought at the old price of one cent. Publishers of newspapers and periodicals may send their product to any point within a radius of 200 miles at the rate of one cent a pound, and beyond that for one and a half cents a pound.

the rate of one cent a pound, and beyond that for one and a half cents a pound.

The decisions were reached by the Senate finance committee, which is redrafting the revenue bill in the light of new developments resulting from the signing of the armistice. Of course, the action of the finance committee must be ratified by the Senate and agreed to by the House, but it is regarded as certain that both houses will agree to the changes now that the war is over.

Generally speaking, the changes which were voted into the revenue bill by the finance committee restore the pre-war rates on second class as well as first class postage. Instead of the present rate of three cents and ounce on letter mail, and a two-cent rate on postal cards, each is reduced one cent. Before the war publishers were able to send their newspapers and periodicals anywhere in the United States for one cent a pound.

Reduces Zone System

The action of the Senate committee, which was taken by a vote of 10 to 3, almost wipes out the zone system for which Postmaster General Burleson fought so hard.

Instead of eight zones with transportation charges graded according to the plan of the finance committee, will be divided into two zones—that of 200 miles, and beyond.

Furthermore, the action of the committee assuming that it is written into the law, will prevent the graduated increase in publishers' rates, based on percentages of advertising to reading matter, which were to have gone into effect on July 1 next. It is believed that the action of the committee zone system proposals of recent years.

32,000 Names Added to the Casualty Lists; Total Reaches 265,839

By Associated Press

Washington, Nov. 30.—The new casualty reports add more than 32, 000 names to the American total for the war. The summary announced last week fotalled 233,117, including 2,163 prisoners. General March said he did not think the number of prisoners would be increased materially by the new figures, indicating the probable total of November 26 will be 265,839.

To-day's summary adds 4,310 to the number killed in action or dead of wounds: 1,823 to the number of dead of disaster; 10,330 to the number wounded and the number of missing in action is increased from 1,160 to 14,290. The large increase in the latter classification is attributed to belated reports from all commands on the checking up of missing men.

Troops from eleven states composed the three divisions named by Troops from posed the three divisions named by General March as designated for early return home as they originally were organized. The 79th, composed of troops from Northeastern Pennsylvania, Eastern Maryland and the District of Columbia was in action east of the Meuse, advancing toward Damvillers when the armistice ended hostilities General March said.

There has been a near panic among railroad men in the railroad administration over the talk of John Skelton Williams for director general. Rather than serve under him, now that the war and its high demands upon patriotism are over, many of these men would resign and leave Washington in a body, as it were. 15,100 it were.

YANKS LAUGHED AT PROPAGANDA

Harrisburg Officer, in Letter Home, Gives Sample of Attempts to Weaken Morile

Lieutenant Albert H. Stackpole, of the 113th Field Artillery, in France in a recent letter to the home folks here enclosed a leaflet dropped by a German airman over the American lines. He says:

"The Germans are surely amusing, so thick-headed. For instance, just a few moments ago a cross-marked plane swept across at a very low altitude and dropped a sheaf of white papers. Several fell near-our position, the ignorance and misunderstanding of the pleas, amuses me; it's so thoroughly Boche. They have failed mightily in their interpretation of the American spirit and character. It's rather surprising at this time, too, after the fight we've pout up against them these last few months. The boys just laugh at that sort of propaganda and pay no attention to it."

The leaflet, heading and all, is as as follows:

The motive of an act is its measure. If you think the war is hell and that you as a citizen of the United States of America have no business to be fighting in France for England you are a coward to stay with it. If you had the courage to face criticism you would get out and over the top in no time to a place where there is some likelihood that you may see home again.

What business is this war in Europe to you anyhow? You don't want to annex anything, do you? You don't want to give up your life fcr the abstract thing humanity.

If you believe in humanity and that life is precious, save your own life and dedicate it to the service of your own country and the woman who deserves it of you.

Lots of you fellows are staying with it because you are too cowardly to protest, to assert your own wills. Your wills are the best judges of what is best for you to do. Don't ask any one's opinion as to' what you would better do! You know best what is the right thing to do. Do it and save your life! Germany never did any harm to you, all the newspaper tales of wrongs were printed to inflame you to the fighting pitch, they were lies, you know you can't believe what you read in the papers.

"Our party has been formed to support the republic, to further democratic reforms on a Socialistic-economic basis and to furnish a rallying point for the middle classes and keep them from falling into the power of the reactionaries. The party will, naturally, oppose Belshevism with all means at its command. In other words, we aim to win and hold the middle classes for democracy."

Herr Wolff explained that, in keeping with the party's aims, all former members of the progressive or other parties who have been active in militaristic and nationalistic agitations, or who, like Dr. 'Sustav Stresemann National-Liberal member of the Reichstag, have actively advocated the submarine campaign, have been faitly informed that, while they cannot be excluded from the party if they desire to join, they will, nevertheless, be rigorously excluded from any participation in its leadership. "The party's membership is already colossal," said Herr Wolff, "and thousands of accessions are coming in daily. Virtually the whole progressive party membership, excepting a few on the extreme right, will join, and many prominent Democrats who formerly stood far to the left that they were kept out of party councils. These include men like Hugo Preuss, Germany's foremost authority on constitutional law, who is now drafting a constitution for submission to the national assembly, Pressident F. Walter Schuecking, of Marbury Fischbeck, and Prof. Max Webser, "The left wing of the National-Liberals is also furnishing recruits, accommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended for the Croix de Guerre for the Telegraph, was recommended
