Store Closes Regularly
On Saturdays at Six

BEIL 1991-2356 UNITED

HARRISBURG, MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1918.

FOUNDED 1871

That is, nineteen shopping days. And bear in mind that this store will not be open any evening preceding Christmas—not even on Saturdays—because you know this store closes on Saturdays at six o'clock.

We would, therefore, suggest that you do your Christmas shopping as early as possible in order to secure best selections. We shall endeavor to replenish our stocks where assortments may be sold out, but the extraordinary demands on the manufacturers, because cessation of war made it possible to enjoy Christmas this year to the fullest extent, leaves no assurance of securing Christmas merchandise later. Come in the mornings if possible.

Drapery Department Moved to 4th Floor

The improvement and growth of a store is frequently evident to customers by interior changes. No store cares to make alterations or change departments about for the fun of the thing. It is usually because some departments outgrow their allotted space, and other arrangements must be made to care for a growing business. In moving our Drapery Department to the Fourth Floor, improved facilities are permitted for the better display of the many beautiful curtains, draperies and upholstery materials. In this department you will also find cedar chests, shirtwaist boxes and the sewing machines.

Such Blouses

Merit a Christmas Welcome

They are unusually smart—the one of Crepe Georgette being trimmed with hemstitching and embroidered dots and with lace which very cleverly simulates the expressive filet patterns. Of shimmering white satin comes the newest modes in Suit Blouses. Sailor collar, front and dainty cuffs are edged with fine pleated frill, and tucks trim the fronts.

White, flesh, maize, bisque and all the new popular shades; also the dark Suit Blouses, $4.95 and up.

Full line of smart Tailored Waists, with high and low neck, tucked bosom; Pussywillow, Crepe de Chine and also Georgette Crepe; snug-fitting cuffs and collars, $3.95 and up.
