Still Collect Salvage

For the Local Red Cross

The salvage committee finds it necessary to remind the people of Harrisburg that it needs large donations of oid newspapers and magazines. The Red Cross collector will call for contributions if Red Cross headquarters are notified, Bell phone 4884. Drop a post card to the chairman at 105 Locust street, if desired. Many people who were giving their papers regularly during the early fall seem to think that the need of salvage work has passed, whereas it is even greater than ever. It is hoped that at least twenty-five people daily will notify headquarters or the chairman that they have salvage to give.
