TROOP 19 WINS FROM THE TIGERS

Scouts Now Claim Championship of City After Rattling Good Game

Troop 19 defeated Allison Hill Tigers in a hard-fought game to the tune of 6 to 0. Our line held like a stone wall while the backfield tore holes in the Tigers' line at every moment. The Tigers were good on defense but their defense was poor. Wiedman did the best work for the Tigers. We claim the championship of the city—if any scout team disputes our claim, step out.

Lineup was as follows:

Hoffman, le.	W. Dreese, le.
Stanford, lt.	Black, lt.
Hoar, lg.	Flush, lg.
Daly, c.	Krusty, c.
Webster, rg.	Neefe, rg.
Gordon, rt.	Gilbert, rt.
Fox, re.	Michlovitz, re.
Hamer, qb.	Wiedman, qb.
Eissner, l hb.	H. Dreese, l. hb.
Taylor, r. hb.	J. Dreese, r. hb.
Hummel, fb.	Blair, fb.

Touchdown, Taylor. Referee, Zimmerman. Timer, Balthaser. Scorer, Faunce.

HOFFMAN,

TO SCOUTS

All scouts who have nothing better to do—and, if there is anything better, we'd like to know what it is—are requested to be at Scout Headquarters at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning to assist in the collection of the bags for the Nursery Home, of Harrisburg. A big truck will be on hand, and it is hoped that there will be plenty of boys to assist for an hour or more.

Don't wait until a cold and the grip have a firm hold. Take Lane's cold and grip Tablets as soon as you feel a cold coming on. Neglect is dangerous and often spells Pneumonia. Keep a package handy for emergency. Results are guaranteed. Sold by druggists everywhere.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE BOY SCOUTS

SCOUTS AID IN FIGHTING HUN

Khaki-Clad Youths Played Important Part in Winning the War

It will probably be a long time after peace is finally signed before the full story of all that the Boy Scouts of America have accomplished on the home battleground may safely be told.

The things that they have done in the sight of everyone—such as selling Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps, and distributing information as dispatch bearers of the government, locating black walnut for gunstocks and airplane propellers, and carrying to completion war gardens and assisting in farm work, and helping other organizations—are well known, but there is a side to their patriotic activity of which the public may not be generally aware.

There is many a Hun now safely interned who lays the ending of his trail of wireless conspiracy to the vigilance of a Boy Scout.

Not under suspicion as the actions of a man would have been, these youngsters with their alert eyes and ears have been able to locate many an illegal radio. In one day alone, 26 were reported from "somewhere in America." Their thanks for this may come in due time.

The officials of the government are now, however, testifying to the real aid given by the Boy Scouts of America in the line of their definite war tasks.

The Secretary of the Navy has sent this telegram to the Chief Scout Executive at the National Headquarters in New York City:

"Will you be good enough to give my greetings to the Boy Scouts. These chivalric young crusaders who have rendered such patriotic service in this war convince us that the America of the future will be worthy of the America of the fathers.

(Signed) "Josephus Daniels."

Scout Executive Virgin Is Ill With Influenza

All scouts and scout officials of the city have been sorry to learn of the illness of Scout Executive J. Fredrik Virgin, with influenza, but will be glad to know that he is rapidly improving and will soon be at his desk again. Headquarters isn't half the place it ought to be, without the presence of its executive, but we hope to accomplish three times as much when he returns.

THE OFFICE SCOUT

Breezy Bits of News From Headquarters

Here I am again, Scouts, but I thought I'd never get over my Thanksgiving dinner. I was dreaming about it last week; that's why I wasn't on the Scout Page.

This isn't going to be a lecture, but you fellows have got to liven up and take an interest in this page, or I'm going to stop. Do you ever read the Scout Page at all? I know that it's hard to find sometimes, but, honestly, man to man, it's not easy to make something out of nothing.

Next week all scribes are going to get a letter—and if they don't get busy after that—well, there are lots of other fellows who might like a chance at being scribe, too. I thank you.

Another thing I want to kick about while I'm kicking is that the scouts who were detailed to help in the campaign for the Nursery Home didn't nearly all turn out. Now, fellows, this won't do. Riding around on a truck distributing bags isn't work—it's play. Let's show the Nursery Home that we're willing to do all we can to help their kiddies and give them a big turnout on Saturday.

A scout came into the office the other day and said, "Well, what are we fellows going to do since the war's over?" Why, there's going to be twice as much for you to do since the war's over. Just give us a chance to get started. Aren't you going to be one of the bunch to greet our boys when they come home? That's a start, anyway.

Troop 1, of Middletown, whose scouts range in age from 14 to 15 years, is anxious to arrange for some basketball with Harrisburg troops. If you want a game, communicate with Scoutmaster Charles Hoover, Box 19, Royalton, Pa.

Headquarters is a mighty quiet place these days—but we do work. In fact, it's so quiet that Scouts Brooke and Hagar find it a great place to study French and algebra.

Who doesn't remember Red Cloud? He's been promising us a new column for this page, so be on the lookout. If it was to be a surprise, I've gone and done it—but I haven't told you all I know about it, anyway. I'll tell you this much—Red Cloud always writes good stuff.

I might as well stop right now. These Victory Boys are beginning to come around and there's no getting away from them. Are you one?

THE OFFICE SCOUT.

'Rah For Scout Moeslein; He Sells Bonds With His Arm in a Sling

Scout Karl Moeslein, of Troop No. 13, thinks broken bones are only a small matter. At least they don't interfere with selling Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps. Karl came in second in the Liberty Loan drive last time, and with a broken arm, too. The arm healed, but he broke it the second time. However, just by sticking to it, he became the possessor of an Achievement Button recently. Congratulations from Headquarters, Karl. The Office Scout wants to shake hands with you.

Goodby Nickname

One branch of the Government at Washington has instituted a campaign to discourage the use of nicknames for representatives of our Allies.

Boys are the ones who most of all perpetuate the use of undignified appellations, and the Boy Scouts of America are invited to put their active ban on them.

"The use of nicknames and names of derision as applied to the foreign-born in America is a considerable obstacle in the way of Americanization," says Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton in a letter to Chief Scout Executive James E. West.

"So long as the foreign-born person feels that we do not respect him, he does not want to join America, learn English or become a citizen. With the help of the Boy Scouts of America we believe the use of such nicknames can be eliminated to a very large extent."

The bureau believes that the Boy Scouts, who have pledged themselves to be helpful, friendly, courteous and kind, will be glad to adopt this Code of Honorable Names:

My name for every true man in these United States will be the honorable name of "American."

My reference to all "new Americans" born in other lands shall never be dishonored by slurs, nicknames or hyphens.

My purpose shall be to discourage in the native-born the love for titles, to help every immigrant to forget his hyphen and be proud of the name American and to stamp out the use of such nicknames as words of derision of the foreign-born.

We pledge our service never to use, and to discourage everywhere, the use of such words as Dago, Dutchy, Froggy, Ginny, Greaser, Heiny, Horwat, Hunky, Kike, Mick, Paddy, Sheeny, Spaghetti, Wop, as applied to any foreign-born resident in the United States of America.

'Rum! Dum! Dum! Hear the Roar of the Drum at Scout Headquarters

For the benefit of all future buglers, Headquarters wishes to announce that there is only one Scout bugle. The regulation Scout bugle is built in the key of G, with slide to play in key of F. The bugles built in the key of G only can be used also. Headquarters will soon organize its drum and bugle corps, and it is, of course, essential that all buglers have the same key. The bugles built in B flat are not Scout bugles; therefore, when you get a bugle, get the proper pitch.

Troop Eighteen Is Still Very Wideawake

The last meeting we received three new members, which was on December 2.

We have at present twenty-three stars on our service flag. We are very proud but sad to say that two have gone west. One was killed in action, hit by a Hun bullet, but the Hun bullets will kill no more of the Yankees. The other died in camp.

We have at present fifty-three boys on our roll.

On Saturday, despite the muddy country roads, our troop took a hike up the mountains. One fat boy, was so heavy that he forced a nail out of his shoe and forced it into the flesh of his heel. Oh, what howling he did while the doctor dressed it.

HELP RED CROSS

Troop 9 is now on the job and is preparing for its winter work. We were asked by the Red Cross to assist them in getting members, and are glad to assist, because, even though the war is over, our boys still need comfort and pleasure.

STRIP BUTTONS; JOIN BOY SCOUTS

Many Army Officers Now Wearing Scoutmasters' Uniforms

Boy Scout councils all over the country are beginning a vigorous campaign to emphasize the "Do a good turn daily" slogan and the careful personal observation of the scout oath and law.

Intensive scouting will be the thing from now on. With the splendid leadership to be found among our returning Army officers, taking over Boy Scout troops as scoutmasters, there is no doubt that the Boy Scout movement will see its greatest period of development during the coming year.

This is indicated by a call sent to all scout councils by Chief Scout Executive James E. West, who says in part:

"Now that the war is over, we will all want to co-operate in a definite drive to place scouting on as firm a basis as possible between now and the end of the calendar year.

"Our war activities will all be discontinued, except the completion of our War Savings Stamp drive and our readiness to help in the next Liberty Loan and possibly a definite program of food production next summer.

"We may all look forward to putting our major effort into the intensive development of scouting itself.

"Undoubtedly there will be abundantly rich opportunities to secure men of character and special training from among the officers and men who have been enrolled for military or naval service.

"These men will naturally have a keener appreciation of the value of organized boyhood for character development and citizenship training than ever before.

"We predict there will be many who will be willing to follow the example of Major-General C. M. Clement, who has just returned from active service on the western front and who has taken over a scout troop in Sunbury, Pa."
