Poultry Dealer Arrested For Alleged Bootlegging

A. G. Nesbit, poultry dealer from Dillsburg, was released under a $50 forfeit for a hearing in police court this afternoon on the charge of bootlegging. He was arrested at Fourth and Market streets by Patrolman Keyes, last night, and when police refused, according to custom, to cash a check for his forfeit, he was accompanied by an officer to the Harrisburg Club, where he readily secured cash for his check. It is charged he bought a quart of whisky in Highspire.

ANOTHER WOMAN HELD FOR POCKET PICKING

Frances Green, colored, was arrested by Patrolmen Whiting and Lowery, last night, on the charge of being implicated in the theft of $250, more or less, from Henry Seers, 648 Verbeke street, on which charge Ethel Davis and Josephine Willis are being held for court under $500 bail each.

According to Seers, he was walking home from prayer meeting with a friend, about a week ago, when three girls accosted them and started to talk. One of them extorted his wallet from his pocket, and the three fled. The Davis and the Willis women were arrested the next day and held after a hearing. The Green woman was given a preliminary hearing in police court this afternoon.

Why You May Be Asked To Wait A Few Minutes. The absolute privacy you enjoy when selecting a dress or wrap in one of my individual fitting salons makes a selection much easier. There is no possibility of any annoying interruptions to distract your attention from the articles on view. And a visit to my shop will convince you that it will be no easy task to choose from the wide assortment of gowns displayed, each as beautiful and attractive as the other. Regardless of who serves you, she gives you her undivided attention. You never have the slightest suspicion of being hurried. Many of my customers make it a practice to shop only in the morning. If you do have to wait a few minutes remember it's because I insist on individual service. Many gift articles are to be found here in blouses, boudoir slippers, silk underwear, hosiery, etc. May Sachs North Third Street at No. 210
