

AID ASKED FOR THE ARMENIANS

Governor Brumbaugh Issues Proclamation Calling For Contributions

Contributions from the people of Pennsylvania to the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee were asked to-day in a proclamation issued by Governor Brumbaugh.

The Governor says: "The Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee has, with national approval, appealed for $30,000,000 to alleviate the sufferings of 4,000,000 good people, including 400,000 orphans who have been grievously stricken by the terrible war. These people have always been precious to American citizens. We have learned to their great credit of the persecution they have undergone for conscience's sake. We must answer their appeal for help. Let the Christmas spirit carry itself to the far-away friends, kind in spirit, that they may know that our people can be happy only when they have been generous to others.

"This appeal is made to the altruistic spirit of our fine citizenry and will, I trust, have hearty and generous response."
