Market Broadens; Oils Extend Gains; Shippings and Rails Hesitant

By Associated Press

New York, Dec. 17.—Coppers and utilities were again the on y striking exceptions to the general strength of the active list at the opening of to-days stock market, reacting fractionally, while oils added 1 to 2½ points to yesterday's material gains and other popular issues also recorded substantial advances. *United States Steel, United States Rubber, Great Northern Ore, American Can and Distillers indicated moderate accumulation with standard rails. Trading slackened after the opening, but the market broadened on general advances of various specialties. Oils extended their gains and other strong features included beet sugar, Baldwin Locomotive, American Car, Utah Copper, Corn Products, Wilson Packing and American Woolens, Movements in motors were restrained by selling of Studebaker.
