

LIVELY SEASON FOR HARRISBURG GOLF PROSPECT; ATHLETICS WILL TRAIN AT HOME

Downfall of Bat Nelson Was Hastened by Rudy Umholz Who Beat Him Badly

"Probably no man in the world out of the world's lightweight title at a certain time than our Rudy Umholz," says Ed W. Smith, the veteran referee. "We won't say that Rudy was ever anywhere near being a champion, because he wasn't, but he was a sort of a side factor one time in a peculiar way."

"Rudy was a lovely little fellow, who hung out around Los Angeles at a time when Nelson was making a big name for himself. But he had just beaten Joe Gans twice and had obtained the title. The Dane was badly puffed up on himself, and thought there was nothing in the world to hold a certain kind of there wasn't at the time—in a long fight—but there were several kids just dying to set at him in a short battle."

PULPIT CALLS DENOUNCED BY BISHOP BERRY

Methodist Episcopal Prelate Warns Congregations and Ministers Practice Is Wrong

Bishop Joseph F. Berry, of Philadelphia, wishes to discourage the growing practice among Methodist Episcopal churches of "calling" pastors to their pulpits. "Calls" are in order in Presbyterian and Baptist churches, which adhere to the congregational system, the bishop says, but they are "lawless" in the Methodist Episcopal Church, where bishops appoint ministers to congregations at the annual conference.

It may have been his very youth which helped Steel make the change, for there are those who believe it would be fatal if a player who took up golf in middle life tried to switch, or even change from left-handed to right-handed play. Steel had never heard of until he turned in a '75 in the caddy championship at the Seattle Golf Club in 1915, and in the final round of that event one of the members followed the match.

"The gallery saw him take a cross-handed grip of his driver and hit the ball 'a mile' straight down the middle of the course. After that the lad used one club after another, and unless they had seen it, the golfers wouldn't have believed that it was a novice. But from that day on he never used a cross-handed grip, despite the fact that he has had some hard times, or even change from left-handed to right-handed play. Steel had never heard of until he turned in a '75 in the caddy championship at the Seattle Golf Club in 1915, and in the final round of that event one of the members followed the match.

Back With Honors

After having served Uncle Sam's fighting men for many months, the Harley-Davidson, being released for civilian use, will be back again on the old familiar city streets and country roads with greater honors than ever before. Because of its amazing performances—especially its dependability—the Harley-Davidson has won the respect of all, from the highest officer down to the plucky private. The great war proved conclusively that the qualities built into the Harley-Davidson will survive the severest tests. Even now the government demands one-half of our output. Red-blooded outdoor fellows demand qualities in a motorcycle that will fulfill their desires. The Harley-Davidson always was and always will be built to satisfy.
