Washington Believes Stephen Pichon Statement Voices Only Own Opinion

By Associated Press
Washington, Dec. 28. — Officials of the American government here expressed the belief yesterday that Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, was voicing his own opinion and not the policy of the French government when he said there would be no immediate intervention in Russia by the allied governments. The Russian situation has been the subject of earnest discussion by the representatives at Paris of the associated nations, but so far as is known here, none of the governments has put forward any definite plans. The understanding here is the whole subject will be left to the peace conference.

It was reiterated yesterday that the allied powers have no desire to interfere with the internal affairs of Russia and that if any aggressive action is determined upon the object will be solely to curb a menace to the peace of the world.

Advices reaching the State Department from Bucharest said the main force of the Boishevik army in Russia consisted of 500,000 Russian soldiers, forced to join the Boishevik ib because of fear of starvation, former Austro-Hungarian prisoners of war, 50,000 men from the Balkan provinces and 40,000 Chinese workmen.

There would be a congress composed of two chambers, a volkshaus, or popular chamber, which would be the chamber of representatives, and a stadtenhause, or chamber of states, which would take the part of a senate. The president would be elected by the people and would not be responsible before congress. The border states would be completely modified, the privileges of the nobility abolished and Germany would annex German Austria.

VATICAN APPEALS TO THE PRESIDENT

By Associated Press

Rome, Dec. 28.—Monsignor
Cerretti, the papal undersecretary of state, asked President Wilson to mediate with a view to settling the Vatican situation during their interview in Paris, according to newspapers here.

He also submitted to Mr. Wilson documents justifying the Vatican's attitude of neutrality during the war and set forth the humanitarian work done by the Vatican in favor of prisoners, deported persons and others who were similarly affected by the struggle.
