TOILERS DEMAND A VOICE IN PEACE

Milan, Jan. 6.—President Wilson voiced again to-day his view that the working people of the world demanded from the coming peace conference not merely treaties of peace but guarantees of the justice and the future of the peace to be made.

He declared his belief that the social structure of the world rested upon the great working classes and reiterated his conviction that the peace must be made with the consent of those classes constantly kept in view.

The President made these declarations in his speech at the reception given him by the municipality, his principal speech of the day. The reception accorded the American executive was a most enthusiastic one, both here and at Genoa, where he made a brief stop on his way from Rome to this city.

Milan, Jan. 6.—President Wilson journeyed from Rome to Milan yesterday, stopping at Genoa en route. There he was greeted by hundreds of thousands of the common people, who acclaimed him in the most extravagant terms, sought to be near enough to touch him and even attempted to kiss his hand or clothing as he passed through the dense crowds.

Mr. Wilson's visit of three hours in Genoa was marred by a tropical downpour of rain which drenched the President and all his party. The streets ran rivers and a gale snapped the flagstaves. Nevertheless, the President carried out his full program, including visits to the monuments of Columbus and Mazzini and to the city hall, where he was given a reception.

Wherever arrangements might have been made to receive the President were dissolved on his arrival, with the city being lashed by the blinding rain squalls. All the members of the motor car crawled through the streets and made the best possible back to the official train.

The secret service men, seeking to protect the President, rejected motor cars and carriages which were provided by the local committee, but somehow managed to get through the program and back to the train without mishap.

Before leaving Genoa, President Wilson laid a wreath at the base of the statue of Columbus and, standing bareheaded in the driving rain, made a short address.

He said, in a service for the world in discovering America and now it was America's pleasure and pride to show it in its service of mankind.

"America desires to show others that they may also share in the freedom of the world."

The demonstration in Milan was of the same character as that in Genoa but proportionately greater in view of Milan's greater size. It seemed as if all the inhabitants and the people of the surrounding countryside had jammed themselves into the squares and streets along the line of the march. The thoroughfares were so choked with humanity that the President's motor car crawled through with the greatest difficulty.

FELT "BULLY" ON CHRISTMAS Suffered For Long Time With Attack of Rheumatism

New York, Jan. 6.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, former president, American statesman and soldier, died early to-day at his home at Oyster Bay. Colonel Roosevelt had been confined to his room since New Year's Day with an attack of inflammatory rheumatism. The attack settled mainly in Colonel Roosevelt's right hand, and Mrs. Roosevelt sent at once for a nurse in the village of Oyster Bay. His condition did not at first seem alarming, and the turn for the worse is believed not to have come until last night.

Dies at 4 A. M.

A telephone message received later this morning from Oyster Bay said that Colonel Roosevelt had died at 4 o'clock this morning.

The immediate cause of Colonel Roosevelt's death was pulmonary embolism, or lodgement in the lung of a blood clot from a broken vein, one of his physicians stated.

Sudden Attack

News of the death of the former president was received here by Miss Josephine Stricker, the colonel's secretary, who telephoned the message from Mrs. Roosevelt. Miss Stricker said the colonel had suffered an attack of inflammatory rheumatism on New Year's Day and had since been more or less confined to his room.

In announcing Colonel Roosevelt's death, Miss Stricker said:

Not Worried Before

"The attack must have been very sudden. On New Year's Day inflammatory rheumatism developed in Colonel Roosevelt's right hand, which became very much swollen. Mrs. Roosevelt sent for a nurse in the village and the colonel was made as comfortable as possible. It did not occur to me at that time he was seriously ill."

Only Wife at Home

Miss Stricker went to Oyster Bay last Saturday to pay the colonel a visit. She said:

"Mrs. Roosevelt called me on the telephone shortly before 7 o'clock, saying that the colonel had died early to-day. She did not give me any particulars and am leaving at once for Oyster Bay."

Reorganizing to-day the board of county commissioners re-elected Charles G. Cumberly president for 1919, and elected E. Frank Snively, president. All the other officials and clerks employed by the board were retained. There are no salary increases.

Montgloss Says Recovery Will Be Endlessly Hard; Wants Sporting Chance

Berne, Jan. 6.—Germany will slowly recover from the disasters wrought by the war and will in time regain its place among the nations of the world—but in a democratic, not a monarchial spirit—according to Count Max Von Montgloss, formerly in charge of American affairs in the foreign office at Berlin and now German minister to Switzerland, Vice Baron Von Romberg, retired.

"This recovery," he said to-day, "will be endlessly hard and will require every ounce of German discipline. It can be accomplished only in case the Entente nations give Germany a sporting chance—that is, to alleviate the blockade sufficiently, to permit Germany to pursue her fisheries as formerly and not to impose suffocating industrial and economic conditions such as the occupation of the territories west of the Rhine."
