

PADEREWSKI NOT IN ACCORD WITH POLISH DICTATOR

Says Pilsudski Represents Less Than One-Tenth of Populace

By Associated Press
Warsaw, Jan. 6.—Ignace Jan Paderewski has announced General Joseph Pilsudski, the Polish military dictator, was not given his authority in Poland at present. The two Polish leaders have had an interview which is indicated it was unsatisfactory. Paderewski came to Poland as the representative of four million Poles from whom he has received plenary powers, he says. He claims to have the power to make loans to the Polish government and also to be the representative at Paris of the Polish committee.

FRANCE DEPENDS ON AMERICA FOR AID OUT OF WAR

Republic Relies on United States to Assist in Regaining Poise After Conflict

By Associated Press
Paris, Jan. 6.—France relies on the United States to help her re-establish her economic equilibrium, Etienne Clementel, the minister of commerce, declared in an address at the closing session of the Franco-American Congress of Civil Engineers yesterday. American assistance was counted upon as well for the work of repairing the war damage to France as for the economic up-building of the country, the minister added.

M. Clementel explained that when he spoke of repair he meant all things that in justice should be repaired, these including not only the damage brought about by Germany's work of destruction, but also that done to the economic equilibrium of France by the war.

To illustrate, the minister compared the costs of food products and raw materials in the principal allied nations, showing that the level in France was much greater than that in Great Britain and still greater yet than in the United States. This was largely brought about, he explained, because of the sacrifices to the common good to which France had willingly consented but which, nevertheless, had placed her in an inferior position for the economic activities of the morrow. It will be contrary to inter-allied solidarity, he declared, to force France to suffer because of conditions she consented to in the course of the war in order that the common victory might be achieved.

DEMAND RETURN OF RAILROADS 'UNSCRAMBLED'

Presidents of 125 Lines Oppose Five-Year Control Plan of McAdoo

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—Presidents of 125 railroads, representing every large system in the country, with the exception of the Southern Railroad, met at the Bellevue-Stratford yesterday and drew up a list of demands for submission to the United States Senate committee on interstate and foreign commerce, on Wednesday, as the recommendation of the railroads of the nation.

The points made are:
1. Opposition to the McAdoo plan of a five years' extension of control for the United States railroad administration.

2. Refusal to accept a return of the roads in their "scrambled" state brought about by the railroad administration.

3. Demands for thoroughgoing remedial legislation that will preserve all the good features of governmental control with the inclusion of the benefits of private ownership.

4. Inauguration of some form of national control that will permit pooling of stations, ticket offices, and equipment so far as possible.

5. Rate revision upward to care for increase in expenses.

6. Combination of the legislative control over railroads with the rate-making power. At the present time Congress, by its passage of the Adamson act, has usurped the power of regulation but has left the question of increases in revenue incurred thereby in the hands of the interstate commerce commission.

7. Removal of railroads from politics.

Committee Goes to Washington
The committee of railroad men who will appear before the Senate committee are Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railroad Executives; Alfred P. Thom, general counsel for the association; S. T. Bledsoe, general counsel for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Howard Elliott, President of the Northern Pacific Railroad and chairman of the board of the New York, New Haven and Hartford; Julius Kruttschnitt, president of the Southern Pacific; Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and of the Chicago Terminal Company. The committee left for Washington yesterday afternoon.

At the conclusion of the session yesterday, after a four-hour conference had thrashed out all phases of the railroad problem, the official statement of the association was issued by Mr. Cuyler, as follows:
"The Association of Railroad Executives, representing 92 per cent of the railroad mileage of the nation, adopted a set of principles that it believes ought to form the foundation for the readjustment of the railroads to peace conditions."

"Through out our conference we have kept in mind the fact, now universally recognized, that transportation is essentially a public service, and that the public interest must be paramount. The railroads will urge that remedial legislation be enacted as soon as compatible with the public interest; they will argue against such a prolongation of the period of uncertainty as has been proposed by the director general of railroads; and in their definitive suggestions as to the form of legislation they will favor the legislation under future private operation of a large part of the measures taken by the government railroad administration to co-ordinate and unify railroad facilities."

"In response to the invitation of the Senate committee on interstate commerce, which is now considering railroad legislation, representatives of our association will appear before that committee publicly to present the views of the railroads. It is our earnest hope and belief that out of the present discussion there will soon come constructive legislation that will mark the dawn of a new era in American transportation."

Want Roads Back 'Unscrambled'
Former Senator Clarke, of Montana, copper magnate and president of the Butte and Los Angeles Railroad, summed up the views of the railroad men in an interview after the conclusion of the conference. He clarified the official statement by giving definite voice to the opinions of the railroad men.

"We want the railroads given back before the expiration of the twenty-one-month period set after the signing of the peace conference," he said, "but we are perfectly content to let the railroad administration use that time to unscramble the difficulties into which it has plunged the roads. Under no circumstances would we be willing to receive our roads back until the tangles of Federal operation are straightened out for us."
