Denied the privilege of fighting for his flag, Theodore Roosevelt's interest was centered on his family's participation in the war.

Denied the privilege of fighting for his flag, Theodore Roosevelt's interest was centered on his family's participation in the war. His four sons and his son-in-law, Dr. Derby, carried out a prediction made by the former President before the United States took up arms—that if war came they would enter service. Theodore Jr. became a major and Archibald a captain, both in France. Quentin entered a French aviation squadron, and Dr. Derby the medical service, also both in France.
