Legislature to Be Impressed
With Popularity of Prohibition
Amendment

In connection with the Legislature's opening and the inauguration of Governor Sproul, the ratification forces of the state are descending upon Harrisburg in such a manner as to let the country be heard from. Wednesday, Jan. 22, practically all the temperance and uplift agencies will meet in the annual Dry Federation convention at the Chestnut Street Auditorium, with all day and evening sessions. Indicative of the size of this demonstration is the fact that twenty thousand credential cards are being sent out, and the fact that prohibition interest is at high tide. By that time, if the required thirty-six states have not ratified, interest will be all the more acute; and if they have, the question of what Pennsylvania will do, and the natural jubilation over assured victory in the nation, will make a situation equally interesting.

On that same day, and the evening preceding, the State Anti-Saloon League will hold its annual meeting of trustees at the Penn-Harris. At 6 o'clock dinner, on Tuesday—inauguration day—the day before the convention, there will be a good-fellowship conference of the state's uplift leaders, a delegation of five from each county will be present. Through arrangement with Grace Methodist church this preliminary gathering will likely take place there, the table to be set by one of its auxiliaries.

Sunday, January 26, is annual field day of the Anti-Saloon League in Harrisburg, and on Tuesday following, William Jennings Bryan, who for some time has been president of the National Dry Federation, will speak under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League in Chestnut Street Auditorium, at 8 P. M., with ex-Governor Frank B. Willis, of Ohio.

Ratification Vote.
As under the amended plans of J. W. Vickerman, whose leadership is accepted by all the agencies, ratification will not come up in the Legislature until it reconvenes, all these manifestations of the public will are well timed by the "Drys." Ratification arguments will be presented by the nation's best speakers, including many from Pennsylvania and Harrisburg. Strong pressure has been brought to bear to secure the presence of Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, a flood of requests going to him from rank and file of the prohibition people.

Governor-elect Sproul has expressed his willingness to accept the invitation earnestly tendered him, if his newly assumed duties will possibly allow. Congressmen Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, and M. Clyde Kelly, of Pennsylvania, have agreed to speak.

Such well-known temperance advocates as Hanly, Howard, Tope, Woodfin, Mary Harris Armour, Mrs. Richards, president of Ohio W. C. T. U., are on the program. Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Waring, of Washington, will render solos and direct the singing. The Commonwealth Band, of Harrisburg, will play. Local ministers, the Revs. Robert Egnell, S. W. Henman, L. S. Mudge and others, have been assigned places on the program.

The local executive committee is made up of the Rev. E. R. Worrell, D.D., the Rev. Harvey Klaer and Miss Ella Broomell. Mrs. Harry Leonard and Mrs. M. M. Steese are on the decoration and entertainment committee. A monster Bible class turn-out is being planned for the evening of the Federation convention by the Rev. Harvey Klaer, through Mr. O. P. Beckley, leader for this section.

The Rev. Dr. John Royal Harris, of Pittsburgh, state superintendent of the Dry Federation, has been in the city the last few days working out details of the convention, and is high in his appreciation of Harrisburg courtesy and enterprise. He said the local committeemen say that though this is a convention city, it will see something it is not used to in the swooping down upon the capital of these ratification hosts at this time.

To Tell How Italy's Army
'Came Back' After Defeat

The story of how the Italian army was pulled back on its feet after the disastrous onslaught of the Austrians, will be told by George D. Braden, physical director of the Italian army, who will speak at the men's mass meeting in Fairmount Hall Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Central Y. M. C. A. The speaker's subject will be "Helping the Italian Army to Come Back." Braden is associate general secretary of the Philadelphia Young Men's Christian Association. He enlisted in war work, going to Italy where his merit was quickly recognized and he was given the position of physical director. This office gave him entire charge of the physical instruction of the Italian army. Military critics attribute much of the splendid morale of that famous military organization to this man.

It is believed by General Secretary Robert B. Reeves of the Central Y. M. C. A., that the crowd of men to hear the speaker will be a record-breaker. A strong program has been arranged with special musical features.

ASKS COURT TO BE RELIEVED OF CHARGE

Stating in a petition to the court that he needs too much time to attend to his personal business that he can no longer continue to act as guardian for nineteen-year-old Margaret Willow Mayes, formerly of Middletown, now of Philadelphia, Clarence W. Sylvester asked to be discharged from further duties in that capacity upon the approval of his account of the estate Miss Mayes will receive when she is of age. It was stated also that she will receive a considerable sum as legatee of E. T. Swain and because of the additional work involved in controlling the funds Mr. Sylvester asked to be relieved. The court granted the order, which becomes final when his account is approved in orphan's court. It is likely a petition will be presented soon in the Philadelphia courts, asking for the appointment of the Girard Trust Company as guardian for Miss Mayes, who is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late Thomas E. Mayes.

In every County, State or City there's always a recognized "leader" and when you think of the place wherever it may be; that "leader" comes before your mind because there's an indelible impression been left by that "leader" that's impossible to erase — and it's just the same with stores.

It takes several things to build a permanent, active business the most important is dependable merchandise; then the "Know How," the other is the "wherewith" or capital to operate — Any store can drift along in a small way but it requires plenty of steam and a "good pilot" to weather the storm. There have been many "business storms" in Harrisburg, stores have come and gone, while others are on a "standstill." This "Live Store" looms out in the path of progress with a record that is unmatched; our honest representations and square dealing have made us many friends and their faith in us is unshakable. Our greater values bring the crowds. If you need "good clothes" and want to buy them at "GENUINE REDUCTIONS" come Here where
