Northern Hunters Revel in Dixie Duck Heaven

When you read of the random duck being shot in these parts then bear a yarn of doings in sunny South, it is enough to be a hunter's mouth water.

to the naked eye, the Joe pushed on to Jack's Shoals, where it anchored opposite Ingraham Point, named after the Commodore and distant about twenty-five miles from Manteo.

While almost impossible to believe, yet the climate at this point was balmy and winter clothing was almost superfluous. Some of the company took their morning dip from the seas and swans.

Here ensued four or five days of the best shooting imaginable. It is not an exaggeration to say, state the Commodore and his guests, that ducks appeared as if they were clouds or at times a black fog approaching.

While brant and broadbill predominated, yet there were many red-heads, butterballs, black ducks, mallards, sprigs, widegons, canvasback and geese and swans.

One pretty sight at Pamlico sound which interests the New Yorkers is the airplanes that stop at Manteo daily on their trips from Newport News to Morehead City.

Commodore Ingraham and his friends found it unnecessary to Hooverize with "Bobbie" Matthews in the cook's galley. The menus for breakfast and dinner follow:

Breakfast - Fruits, grapefruit, orange, apple, apricot; oatmeal or other cereals; pancakes in three different styles; sausages, corned beef hash, fried or boiled ham, ham and eggs, eggs in all styles; tea and coffee.

AROUND THE BASES

Woodrow Wilson tells the Allies Why he went across the sea. But, love o' Mike, with home folks He's never been so free.

A dispatch from Norristown says that Jack McGuigan, long famous as a boxing promoter in Philadelphia, died last night very suddenly.

Willie Jackson, the New Yorker who knocked out George Ernie, of Buffalo, not long ago, added another K. O. to his record at the Olympia, Philadelphia, when he electrified by finishing Dick Stosh, of Cleveland, within forty seconds of the opening bell.

New Brunswick, Jan. 7.—Rutgers College reopened today on a peace basis with 425 students. In his address to the students President W. H. S. Demarest declared that the problems now facing the nation require the co-operation and unity of all ever more than did those of the war.

Roosevelt's last written sentence was: "Any man who says he is an American but something else also isn't an American at all. We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and that is the red, white, blue, which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile."

This is the kind of rot America is reading: He rushes forward to embrace her: "At last! I was so anxious!" She wards him off as best she can: "S-sh! You must pull down the shades. If I should be recognized."

She, despite her protest, sweeping her bundles onto the couch, takes her in her arms: "In such a veil?" She, struggling free: "But why not? My hat? or dress?" He, removing her wraps: "Swathed like some strange gyptian queen in beauty of the night, you could pass for Cleopatra in the Pharaohs."

France now boasts of a female boxer. She is Mme. Gopraud, niece of the famous one-armed general of the same name. Mme. Gopraud was a spectator at a boxing show held in Paris recently, and after the bouts were decided she asked if she could have a forward and she was granted and she succeeded in knocking out the opponent selected for her.

Do you want a better situation? Now, more than ever before in our history merchants and Manufacturers must maintain the most efficient organization possible.

Each one of us should do the work he can do best. Today the employer is using his best efforts to secure reliable and experienced helpers so that the organization may be the best obtainable.

Because of the great demand for "the right man in the right place" and because there are thousands of workers in all walks of business life who are capable of filling better positions. The Harrisburg Telegraph will start a new classification in its want columns to enable the ambitious employer to tell the employer of his ability and experience. To tell the employer what he can do best—in what position he is worth the most money.

Here is the heading of this new classification: BETTER SITUATIONS WANTED This column has two objects; first to help men and women who are now employed to secure better positions, second, to put employers in direct touch with an ambitious class of workers.

Remember this new classification is for the purpose of enabling ambitious workers to tell employers about their ability and experience so that they may secure a better position. Get your advertisement in early for next Thursday's issue. Copyright, 1918.
