

Sergeant J. A. Cassel Tells of Experiences After the Armistice

A letter has been received from Sergeant Jonas A. Cassel, in which he states that he is located in an old French fort at Langres, France. Sergeant Cassel tells of some of his experiences before the signing of the armistice and afterwards. The letter, which is addressed to his father, H. B. Ulrich, 1270 State street, follows:

"I would drop you a few lines to let you know I am well, as usual. There is not much news to tell, except that I am now attending an infantry specialist school at Langres, and this is some place—an old French fort on the tip of a mountain. It snows here quite often, and is very cold.

"I have been on the lines in every drive our division was in, and at times my platoon was pretty well shot up, although we gave a good account of ourselves and made the Hun run quite often. I was very lucky myself, getting through this big game with a scratch, except a little gas a few times, but never went to a hospital. The day the armistice was signed I had my squad on the lines, and a few minutes after 11 o'clock my whole bunch went over to see the Germans and exchanged rifles, and they sure did seem happy over the war ending, and they said the Yanks sure were some scrappers.

"My platoon had a big loss at Fismes on August 7, when we put a one-pound barrage over for thirty-eight minutes, just four minutes too long, and they got our range. I lost my runner, loader and driver and had three men wounded and four men gassed, and there were only two of us left, and I consider myself lucky in being one of the two. One instance, our crew spotted a dugout with ten Germans in it, and we got every one of them, as they were afraid to come out, and that was what we wanted. After we had their range, we dropped shells in their dugout as pretty as could be.

"I have seen some awful sights over here, men killed just a few feet away from me and some of the shells make holes big enough to bury horses in, and plenty of these shells came our way. I have also seen a few good air fights, which were great. Well, I will close for this time, and when I get back to those good old States again I will be able to tell you more. Give my best to all. Hoping these few lines will interest you, I remain,

"Your son,
"JONAS."

The Proof of the Butter

is in the eating, and by the time-honored gastronomic test Benefit Brand "Sweet Nut" Margarine, the new Nut Butter Luxury, stands up to the test. When served it looks and tastes exactly like the choicest dairy product. Dillsburg, Pa., Jan. 8.—Chestor Harbold, of Mechanicsburg, has been elected teller in the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank to succeed L. L. Bentz, resigned.

BRIEFS FROM THE BIG NEWS EVENTS

By Associated Press

New York.—For delivering coal without a permit the Wilkes-Barre Coal Company of New York, contributed $60 as a penalty to the New York County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Washington.—Formal notice has been given the State Department by the Serbian legation that it had become the legation of the new joint kingdom of Serbs, Slovenes and Croats.

Washington.—General increases in class and commodity rates in eastern and central trunk line territory to and from Virginia cities designed to bring the charges of nonfederal controlled railroads up to the level of last spring's increases have been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Baltimore.—Peace finds American agriculture on a substantially sound foundation and developing in the right direction, Secretary Houston said today in an address to the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations.

Bethlehem.—The motorman and four Bethlehem Steel Company workmen were injured this morning when a car on the South Bethlehem and Saucon Street Railway Company's line jumped the tracks at "Dead Man's Curve" in this city, due to slippery rails.

New York.—Charles M. Schwab, who resigned recently as head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, has been decorated by the French government with the Order of the Legion of Honor. It was announced here today.

Capitol Hill Notes

Pardon Board Meets.—The State Pardon Board in executive session has cleared its calendars of all important cases upon which hearings had been held and the new board will take over the remainder of the business when it organizes in February. The following decisions were announced: Russell Fields, Fayette county, assault with intent to rob, sentenced to 18 months in Allegheny workhouse, application refused; John New, Philadelphia county, aggravated assault and battery, sentenced to seven years in the Eastern Penitentiary, June 27, 1917, pardon recommended; Azza Shehab, Allegheny county, burglary, sentenced to 12 months in the western penitentiary, refused; Frank Doran, Montgomery county, felonious entry, sentenced to seven years in the Eastern penitentiary, held under advisement; Jackino Miraco and Mary Miraco, Delaware county, murder, second degree, sentenced to 18 months to 18 years in the Eastern penitentiary, held under advisement; George Miller, Dauphin county, felony, sentenced to Huntingdon reformatory, refused; Charles Mays and Edward Ellison, Lancaster county, recommended; Preston Yates, Philadelphia county, burglary, sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary, rehearing allowed; Jennie Igenfritz, York county, felony, sentenced to six years in the Eastern Penitentiary, refused; D. Frank Kline, Lancaster county, felony, sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary, rehearing allowed; Charles Valentine, Chester county, felony, sentenced to three years in Eastern Penitentiary, refused.

Two Important Reservoirs.—Two important lower court opinions relating to the Dairy and Food Division have been turned by the Supreme Court. One, an Allegheny county case tried before Judge Carpenter, permits the Dairy and Food Division to seize all products held in cold storage beyond the legal limit. This was a suit brought by Edward S. Nolan, of Allegheny, against Commissioner James Foust and his agents to restrain them from seizing butter held beyond the limit prescribed by law, claiming confiscation of property. Judge Carpenter took sides with Nolan, but the Superior Court held the law to be constitutional and the state acting within its rights in seizing the butter and the Supreme Court upholds the Superior Court. The other decision rules out of Pennsylvania all canning compounds in which there is boric acid. Judge Bailey of Bedford county gave it as his opinion that Mrs. Price's Canning Compound might be sold legally in this state and the Superior Court upset that decision. The Supreme Court upholds the Superior court in the reversal of Judge Bailey.

Sweet Nut Margarine

ARE YOU LOSING YOUR GRIP ON HEALTH

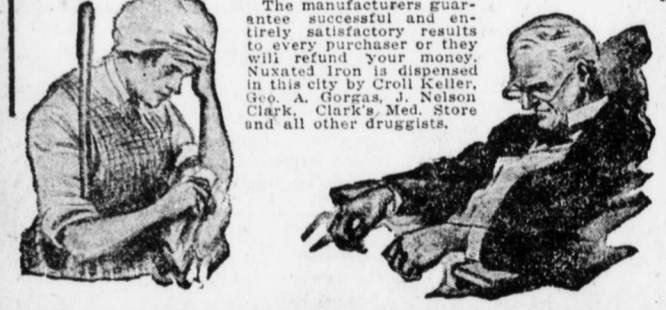

Your Blood May Be Starving for Want of Iron—Making You Weak, Nervous, Irritable and Exhausted.

Nuxated Iron increases the red blood corpuscles and builds up the strength, energy and endurance of delicate, run-down people in two weeks' time in many instances.

Thousands of men and women are impairing their constitutions, laying themselves open to illness and literally losing their grip on health, simply because their blood is thinning out and possibly starving through lack of iron.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital Outdoor Dept., New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: "Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, and Ex-Governor of Iowa; former United States Senator and Vice-Presidential nominee, Charles A. Tamm; United States Commissioner of Immigration, Anthony Caldarola; also United States Judge, G. W. Askison of the Court of Cassus of Washington and others.

Alkali in Soap

Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary sulfated cocoanut oil which is pure and greaseless, and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, sand and excess of oil. It leaves the hair soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get sulfated cocoanut oil at any pharmacy. It's the same old, old, a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

"Main Factor to Good Health Was Tonal"

"I had indigestion and stomach trouble for years," says John S. Chillas, of Windsor, Pa. "I could barely get around to attend to my duties. I was losing weight, was nervous and had no appetite. I was a Physical Wreck when I began to take Tonal, which was highly recommended to me. "Now I feel better, my appetite is restored, gaining weight and strength, and the dizziness has gone. My nerves are good and in fine condition.

"I recommend Tonal to all my friends and neighbors." This testimonial was given December 30, 1918.

Tonal is sold at Gorgas' Drug Store, Harrisburg, and all leading drug stores in Eastern Pennsylvania.
