

Heroic Penna. Soldiers Awarded Service Medals

Washington, Jan. 9.—For acts of extraordinary heroism, Distinguished Service Crosses have been awarded the following Pennsylvania soldiers: Wayne G. Lyster, Headquarters Company, Fifth Regiment, United States Marine Corps, for extraordinary heroism in action near St. Etienne, France, October 4-6, 1918. Private Lyster, a runner, displayed exceptional courage in volunteering to carry important messages over terrain constantly swept by machine-gun and shell fire. Home address, John C. Lyster, father, Alden, Pa. First Lieutenant Joseph W. Gray, Seventh United States Engineers, for extraordinary heroism in action in Romagne, France, October 18, 1918. Lieutenant Gray, although wounded, personally supervised the construction of a bridge under severe artillery and direct machine gun fire, thereby making it possible for the infantry and artillery to advance to more advantageous positions. Home address, Dr. D. W. Gray, father, 308 Second street, Titusville, Pa.

Protest Made Against Use of Tobacco in Passenger Coaches as Being Harmful

To the Editor of the Telegraph: A lady returning to Harrisburg from Philadelphia two days ago, entered a day coach and found a seat, which was soon shared by a gentleman of the old school, and incidentally, a member of our state Legislature. A party of younger men, care-free as school boys, also entered the same car, and immediately lighted their cigars, soon puffing away in clouds of tobacco smoke that resembled a smoking-car's atmosphere. One lady after another in the car began coughing, until the male escort of one of them went forward to protest to the conductor regarding the unusual annoyance. When he returned, he quietly told the smokers that he had been given permission by the conductor to tell them that there was a special car provided for smokers at the rear of the train. Evidently, the rollicking crowd preferred remaining where they were, possibly they objected to segregation, they good-naturedly threw away their cigars, the air cleared, and the incident was closed.

But was it closed? The lady relating this incident was told by the courtly legislator beside her that the men who violated the official notice of the railroad company against smoking in that car, were none other than the very men who make the laws of our state. Had it not happened that there was a red-blooded man in that car to object, the violation of the company's law would have continued. What guarantee have we that our state legislators are not going to act again as though the cars they occupy are the same as the cars in Baltimore where there is at least one railroad line where smoking is tolerated in all the cars. Are we in Pennsylvania to be forced to tolerate the same unhealthful, annoying conditions? If our laws-makers set the example and nothing is said about the intrusion on the rights of the nonsmoking public will this infringement cease? It is high time that some protest were uttered, lest smoking everywhere become common practice. Medical science frowns down upon the tobacco habit more and more, and its baleful influence on the human system extends even to inhaling the fumes. Why, then, should we be forced to tolerate the constant jeopardy of our health, in order that a few selfish human beings may escape segregation? Would that every jolly legislator in the "bunch" that "owned" the car which several women, who had paid full fare, were forced to occupy, knew the story of the nervous wreck who entered a doctor's office in search of relief. "You smoke," asked the "M. D." "Certainly," replied the patient, "everybody does." "Let me show you something," and the doctor took a leech from a box and fastened it on his patient's bare arm. After filling with blood, the leech fell off dead. "What caused it to die?" asked the awe-struck invalid. "The presence of tobacco in your blood," said the man of science. "Whew! that's sort of gruesome," replied the cigar victim.

Gives Up $2,000 For Brass to Persuasive Swindler

Philadelphia, Jan. 9.—Swindled out of nearly $2,000 by purchasing brass which had been represented to him as gold, Louis Weisban, a grocer, of Twenty-eighth street and Polk avenue, Camden, yesterday asked the Camden police to investigate. About two weeks ago a man giving his name as Adam Kerensky called on the grocer and asked to be assisted in getting employment, claiming his wife and three children were destitute. The hard luck story excited the sympathy of the grocer and he procured a position for the fellow. Returning a day later the man said he felt under obligations to the grocer on account of his kindness and told him he was in a position to purchase a chest of gold at one-half its value. After two men arrived with a chest supposed to be gold Kerensky, who was in waiting with the grocer, said he would get a jeweler to test the "gold." A supposed jeweler returned a day later the man said he was to have paid some additional yesterday, but when the men failed to return with the money he became suspicious. He had the stuff tested elsewhere, only to find it was brass.

Conferees Begin Work on War Revenue Bill

Washington, Jan. 9.—In beginning consideration of the differing Senate and House drafts of the war revenue bill, the joint conference committee of the two houses yesterday agreed upon rates of surtaxes and normal taxes on individual incomes as levied by the Senate bill and upon exception of state and municipal bonds from Federal taxation. The conferees announced that agreements on the various sections of the bill would be made public each day as reached. The conferees said their decision as announced would be final and protests would not be entertained. The Senate bill provides for surtaxes on a graduated scale from one per cent. on amounts in excess of $5,000 to sixty-five per cent. on incomes of $5,000,000. The normal tax as provided in the Senate bill and agreed to by the conferees is twelve per cent. for 1918, with reductions to eight per cent. in 1919 and 1920.

Two Oiled, Then Set Fire to His Body, Man Charges

Chester, Pa., Jan. 9.—While visiting the accident ward of the Chester Hospital yesterday, Chief of Police Vance and Sergeant Robinson learned the details of what Chief Vance characterizes "one of the most cruel crimes perpetrated in this vicinity in a long time." The policemen found Ernest Walls, a young man, suffering with burns which covered the greater part of his body. When questioned by Chief Vance, Walls said Charles Ward and John Shields, young men of the western section of the city, had poured oil over his body and set him on fire. The alleged crime was committed in a garage. Walls told the police. Ward and Shields were arrested and are being held under bail to await further investigation.

Catarrh of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It." Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from fur, a coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter gas, wind and stomach acid, and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician. Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface. That the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. His condition soon breeds deadly disease in the form of ulcers, indigestion, and loss of appetite. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are to be feared and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer. Catarrh of the stomach is cured by a safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarck Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the Bismarck Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bismarck Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bismarck Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milk, oxides, etc., but get it in the pure Bismarck form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose. For sale at G. A. Gorgas at Kennedy's.

A dangerous rasping cough and sore throat can be quickly relieved by Kemp's Balsam.
