Federal Employment Bureau Aids Discharged Men to Find Work

Soldiers who returned to Harrisburg after duty in army camps and overseas are being placed at remunerative occupations in civil life by the United States Employment Bureau for Returned Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, with offices at Third and North streets.

The bureau has been established here by the United States Employment service in the office of Jacob Lightner, head of the State Employment Bureau.

Laborers and workmen of all kinds apply to the bureau for employment. The labor situation in Harrisburg is such that unskilled laborers, skilled mechanics, railroad firemen and brakemen are most needed.

Assistant director general, Mr. Hines received $25,000 a year. There has been much speculation as to what the salary of a new director would be. Some estimates place it at $50,000.
