NEWS OF THE RAILROADS

SHOPMEN FAVOR HOUR-RATE PAY

The Results Announced Today Show That Many Employees Refused to Vote

Shopmen of the several railroad divisions of the Allegheny region are in favor of the hour-rate as a basis for their payment rather than the piece-work, the vote taken among last week shows, railroad officials told here to-day.

The vote, however, was exceedingly light, many of the men refusing to vote, and the results may not entirely indicate what the men really desire.

In many districts, chiefly in Altoona, the railroad employees refused to vote, declaring that they were weary of being asked to vote on the question as to how their salaries would be affected.

Eighty-seven per cent. of the shopmen of this district have been paid at piece-rate wages, it is said, and through the misinterpretation of a wage scale put into effect last year, it was decided to take a vote on the wishes of the men in the future.
