

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH

Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO. Telephone Building, Front Square

E. J. STACKPOLE President and Editor-in-Chief

Member of the Associated Press-The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it...

By carrier, ten cents a week; by mail, $3.00 a year in advance.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 1919

THAT PRESIDENTIAL TRIP

President Wilson contemplates a trip about the country after his return to "tell the facts about the peace conference."

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Mayor Keister's review of municipal activities for the last year was somewhat in the nature of an accounting of official stewardship and it was of more than usual interest from that standpoint.

tion a year ago, but for some reason the plan of obtaining an expert board for the Water Department was postponed.

Another thing which the Mayor recommends and which will make him more friends than any other of his official suggestions...

PROUD TO RIDE 'EM

The editor of the Sharon Telegraph is disturbed. Writing of next Tuesday's inaugural ceremonies in this city he says:

Some Harrisburg citizens are worried because they're supposed to know the riding and ride horses in the gubernatorial parade.

A BIG PROBLEM

Proper recognition of the gravity of the housing situation in Harrisburg is given by President Renoehl in the selection of an able and experienced committee of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce to give the subject study and consideration during the coming year.

One observation on the subject of the organization of the housing committee might be viewed with suspicion. It might be regarded as an attempt to boost prices of real estate and, as such, it need not be made.

Roosevelt's Favorite Verse

The favorite poems of Colonel Roosevelt were those expressing vigour and enthusiasm. It is quite natural that he should admire in Browning's Saul the words such as a fine sympathy for the soldier and hatred of the base.

practical builds. The committee is a strong committee and Harrisburg will expect great things of it.

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

The vigorous manner in which the applications for liquor licenses are being attacked in a number of the counties of Pennsylvania right in the face of the strong probability of the ratification of the Prohibition amendment is one of the most interesting conditions now observable in the state.

—In view of the attention being given in political circles in Pennsylvania to the make-up of the committee of the legislature just now there is much interest in a speech made in Philadelphia by ex-Representative Fletcher W. Stites, of Montgomery county.

TRADE BRIFES

The American Consul at Punta Arenas, Chile, reports that there is a large local production of tallow in his district and that catalogues are desired of machinery for making candles.

The enormous coal and iron beds in Spitzbergen belonging to the British Company, the Northern Exploration Company, Ltd., have been investigated by experts, who declare that the iron ore beds are without exception the largest in Europe.

Estimates place the production of wine in Greece for the year just ended at 400,000 hectoliters, or 10,668,800 gallons. This is nearly double the estimated production of 1917 which was placed at 6,962,000 gallons.

One of the great drawbacks to the establishment of American banks in Portugal has been the refusal of the recent Government decree. Under its terms foreign banks doing business in the republic will be assessed the industrial tax on the amount of capital.

A firm in Leicester, England, which before the war was engaged in importing typewriters and selling and repairing them, now proposes to manufacture them. Another firm in the same town which formerly made the pressings for magnets will now make counter-rotating moving picture machine adaptable also for colored slides.

Slam's budget estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1919, provides for an expenditure of $1,992,265 for further work on the construction of the Southern Railway main line and $22,200 on branch lines while for the Northern Railway the sum $44,600 is allocated.

A WELL-POINTED JEST

Mr. Wilson's readiness for repartee upon occasion has never found better point than in his responses to the Italian Foreign Minister at Rome. The latter was arguing, Mr. Wilson said in the course of a speech delivered at Turin, for certain Austrian territory upon the ground of the Italian inhabitants being made by the President of the United States was:

"I am sorry we cannot give you New York, Baron."

The reply and its point in the fact brought out by the King of Italy in conversation with Mr. Wilson, that the American metropolis contains 800,000 Italians. Thus the jest, the man to whom the Italian look with confidence in his justice toward their claims, pointed out the absurdity of any claims based solely upon the fact of nationals being found within alien territorial limits.

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.

OH, MAN!

DJER CHRIS -- DO YOU REMEMBER THE DAY I MADE THE LONG 18TH IN PAR FIVE?

AND THE DAY I DROPPED THE BALL DEAD ON THE 7TH FOR A TWO

AND THAT DAY I HOLED AN APPROACH SHOT OF ABOUT 30 YARDS ON THE 10TH

AND THAT LOVELY DAY IN JUNE WHEN I SUNK A 25 FOOT PUTT AND BEAT YOU

WELL -- TODAY I GOT MY BILL FROM THE CLUB FOR THE ANNUAL DUES.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

PREVENT TUBERCULOSIS

To the Editor of the Telegraph: Sir: As such a vast number of people are dying of tuberculosis, I wish to offer a few observations, not on the cure, but on the prevention of the disease.

By BRIGGS

AND THE DAY I DROPPED THE BALL DEAD ON THE 7TH FOR A TWO

AND THE DAY I DROPPED THE BALL DEAD ON THE 7TH FOR A TWO

Evening Chat

Major V. G. Murdock, the State chief draft officer, who has for years interested himself in compilation of the local history of the Susquehanna valley and has written extensively about the history of his own county of Northumberland...

Books and Magazines

Sheila Kaye-Smith, whose new novel, "The Challenge to Sirius," E. P. Dutton & Co., have for early publication, is an English woman whose several previous books have won her an important place among English authors.

"What America Did," is the title of Mrs. Florence Finch Kelly's book recounting the achievements of the United States in the prosecution of the war which E. P. Dutton & Company will publish a little later in the season.

Richardson Wright, writing in the New York Times Book Review of Siegfried Sasson, Robert Nichols and Robert Graves, calls them "the Three Musketeers of English verse" because of the friendship which exists between them.

Our Ad Writers Poets

Maria Moravsky, writing in the Bookman, propounds the original idea that our ad writers are none other than poets. After much praise of the fairness of the American advertiser, she goes on to say:

THE ROOSEVELT CREED

Virtue by itself is not enough, or anything like enough, to strengthen the world. It is the determination to use that strength. The good man who is ineffective is not able to make his goodness of much account to the people as a whole.

State Agricultural Notes

Twenty-five tractors and tractor cultivators are to be on display at the State Farm Products Show at Harrisburg, January 21 to 24.

It is estimated that 45,600 acres were devoted to tobacco culture in Pennsylvania during the past season.

Pennsylvania has regained its rank as the leading buckwheat producing state, an advantage lost to New York in 1917.

Manners in 1855

Some people affect to think that nice table manners are of recent invention, and that our grandfathers were unacquainted with dainty conduct. To show such people how wrong they are allow us to quote from a treasured work, "Inquire Within, or 3,700 Facts for the People," published in Philadelphia in 1855.

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.

Bridgeport (Conn.) machine workers have been granted the right to organize.

JOY IS COMING

Home is lookin' mighty bright— Joy is comin'— More of love and more of light— Joy is comin'!

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.

LABOR NOTES

Efforts are being made to revive the broom-making industry in the farms.