WOULD FORCE NEW MOONEY TRIAL BY A GENERAL STRIKE

Labor Delegates Adjourn Convention Following This Action

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Delegates to the National Labor Congress are on their way home to-day after having decided yesterday for a general July 4 as a means of obtaining a strike of organized labor beginning new trial for Thomas J. Mooney and Warren Billings. This action will only be taken delegates to-day said, if federal intervention and every other means adopted to procure the desired relief fail.

The convention concluded its four-day session last night and adjourned. It authorized the raising of a fund of $1,000,000 to carry on a campaign of education to liberate the labor leaders and to promote a general strike. It is planned to finance the movement by levying an assessment of fifty cents on each member of organized labor in the country.

Dr. George E. Bowles to Address Forum

At the meeting of the People's Forum, to be held in Wesley A. M. E. Church to-morrow afternoon, Dr. George E. Bowles, colored educator, will discuss the benefit derived from community house. Dr. Bowles cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

In his hand a telegram from a big firm in Milwaukee which announced that having seen notice of the opening of the Penn-Harris it would hold its gathering of eastern representatives here, having desired to come for the past two years, but refraining because there were not hotel accommodations.

Fine Entertainment

The dinner was excellent and well served. The tables occupied the whole of the room and the speakers were seated at a long table extending from one end to the other on the Third street side.

After the fun came the speaking and the additional stock subscriptions. Forty thousand dollars was very quickly subscribed. The first speaker was Spencer C. Gilbert, himself a big stockholder, who said that the city had provided all the comforts and conveniences of the modern municipality except adequate hotel accommodations.

Warwick M. Ogelsby explained the financial status of the company, its leases and prospects, every precaution being taken to insure the stockholders a fair return on their money.

Bidding for stock then became lively. Mr. Tracy followed Mr. Hill-drup with $10,000. Mr. Wallower took $10,000 more. Mr. Tracy pledged $10,000 for Mr. Starkey, who is in England on business for the Pipe and Pipe Bending Company.

Mr. Stackpole took $5,000. Spencer C. Gilbert came forward for $5,000. David Kaufman for his two sons subscribed $1,000. Mrs. Kaufman took $500. Mr. Bowman put up $5,000. Mr. Stoddard took $1,000. Mrs. M. Virginia Weiss sent a check for $2,500. John Fox Weiss put in $1,000. And so it went, the tables joining in the bidding until $103,000 worth of stock and had been pledged.

MAYO REGRETS TO SEE WARSHIPS AS TROOP CARRIERS

Admiral Pays Tribute to Men Who Trained Fighters For Duty Overseas

Philadelphia, Jan. 18.—Admiral Henry T. Mayo, commander of the American Atlantic fleet throughout its active service in war, speaking last night before the fourteenth annual Poor Richard Club Franklin Day banquet, questioned the wisdom of converting battleships into transports to bring men back from France.

"Armistice does not spell peace," he declared. "If this great war ends without difficulties following, it will be different from any other war and we may need our battleship at any time. The idea that the only thing to do now is to get the boys back quick is all wrong."

"If you knew how great a task it is to get a battleship prepared for war and to train and equip a crew, you would know how terrible a blow it is to the navy to have two-thirds of the crews taken off the ships, have them torn apart and sent to transporting soldiers."

When war began, Admiral Mayo said, the navy, as a whole, was not ready for war. "We were not ready because we had not had the money to be ready," he said. "We did not have enough ships, we did not have enough men. To get ready for war, we had to multiply our personnel nearly ten fold, from 60,000 to nearly a half million. I think we all agree now that had America spent millions before the war for preparedness, she would not have had to spend many billions in war and had she spent a few hundred millions there would not have been any war."

TWO AMERICANS PERISH

Marseilles, Jan. 18.—The two American citizens who were on board the French steamer Chaoua, which was sunk by a mine off Sicily with the loss of nearly five hundred lives are given on the passenger list as Thomas Rallis and Mrs. Susan Rallis. They are listed as "Americans" without any mention of what part of the United States they came from.

quite a large repertoire of comedy songs, all of which are good. Eddie and Ransden are a clever duo and present a little comedy number that is full of good laughs. Arnold and Allman also do their share in furnishing the fun. They have a flirtatious skit that contains a lot of bright, snappy lines and sing some songs that are new and original. The closing number is an entertaining musical comedy offering entitled, "Blow Your Horn."

The early half of next week, "Very Good Eddie," the musical comedy attraction that played the Orpheum a short time ago, will be presented here. Two other acts will appear in conjunction with this offering.

The many admirers of Norma Talmadge will no doubt be pleased to learn that they have one more opportunity to see Colonial "Fifty-Fifty," the excellent photoplay that was shown here some time ago. Monday and Tuesday Earl Williams will be seen in "The Man Who Wouldn't Tell," Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Rex Beach's international comedy-drama, "Too Fat to Fight" will be the attraction, and prove to your own satisfaction that nobody loves a fat man.

Elsie Ferguson, in an absorbing drama, "Heart of the Wilds," will be the feature of the Regent at Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The story is a dramatization of "Pierre and His People," Sir Gilbert Parker's famous novel. Miss Ferguson plays the part of the heroine, "Pierre," and her narrative. She is said to display exquisite artistry in her delineations of the character.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, D. W. Griffith's master production is scheduled. "The Greatest Thing in Life" is a photoplay of universal interest. In it Mr. Griffith has used new and wonderful methods of photography, evolved by a wounded French soldier. He has incorporated actual scenes of real fighting along with the dramatic scenes of ideal beauty. A Sennett comedy, "Whose Little Wife Are You?" will also be shown.

In the opinion of the hundreds of persons who crowded the Victoria Theater yesterday to see Gladys Brockwell star in "The Master Mystery," the picture drama which presents so strikingly many of the vital problems of marriage, is a masterpiece of art. It is that of a young girl who is forced into marriage for mercenary motives, lives to regret every moment of her unhappy married life, from which death mercifully rescues her, and then falls deeply and truly in love with a man who measures up to her ideals. Believing that happiness through matrimony is impossible, because of her first venture, the girl decides to refuse the man she loves except on certain conditions.

William Hodge will present his latest comedy drama, in four acts, "The Cure for Curables," at the Orpheum on Tuesday night. Mr. Hodge has long since been conceded to be one of America's best comedians and not since his name became a household word of admiration for his portrayal in "The Man From Home," has Mr. Hodge had a play so widely seen and enjoyed as perfectly. This year he will appear as a young Kentucky physician, who has inherited a sanatorium from his uncle. There are many wealthy patients, and in order to keep control of his gift, the doctor declares that the young doctor must cure ten patients before the end of thirty days or forfeit all claims. Among the patients is a young girl who has a very remarkable love story that unfolds, amidst the wit and humor of the play. Mr. Hodge will be supported by a cast of twenty-six clever and capable players.

The advance sale of reserved seats for the engagement here of the Army and Navy Players in an intimate Revue and vaudeville act, "The Man From Home," will open at the box office of the Orpheum, Monday. Mail orders will be received for this greatest of all Army and Navy shows, indicates that the coming engagement will be one of the most notable on record. With the players will be the famous vaudeville show proper Black and White, under the leadership of Lieutenant Eldridge. The players are managed by the Lieutenant William Moss, in command, and Sergeant Dennis F. Cray. The entire production was staged by Sergeant Hal O'Ver.

To-night is the last opportunity patrons of the Majestic will have to see the excellent comedy drama at the bill appearing there. At the opening of the program is the thrilling serial, "The Lure of the Circus," is shown. After that the vaudeville act of William Moss, in command, and Sergeant Dennis F. Cray. The entire production was staged by Sergeant Hal O'Ver.

DANIELS IS TO MAKE STEEL CO. KEEP ITS WORD

Every Power of Navy to Be Used in Making Labor Board Awards Binding

Washington, Jan. 18.—Every power of the Navy Department will be used to force the acceptance by companies with which it has contracts of awards made by the War Labor Board, Secretary Daniels said to-day, after a conference with Joint Chairman Taft of the board, on the situation growing out of the Bethlehem Steel Company's refusal to put into operation one of these awards.

Mr. Daniels said he was taking up at once the question of how the department should proceed. It appeared, he said, that the Bethlehem Company had acceded some months ago to permit collective bargaining and the establishment of shop committees among its employees, but as soon as the armistice was signed, "the company lost interest."

No hint was given as to what form the Navy Department's action might take, but Mr. Daniels pointed out that every contract let by the Navy included a cancellation clause. The War Department has more and larger contracts with the Bethlehem Company than the Navy.

Joint Chairman Taft announced later that the War Labor Board would defer for ten days its decision on the complaint of Bethlehem Steel Company employees that the company had not lived up to the terms of awards.

Deputy Register of Wills James G. Miles, who was acting register from October 17 to December 16, when Edwin H. Fisher took the office, reported that during the period he was in charge, the receipts totaled $1,805,400; expenditures, $378,490; balance, $1,426,910, of which $118,553 went to the county treasury. Mr. Miles probated fifty-three wills and issued letters of administration on 143 estates.
