By MISS VIOLET OAKLEY

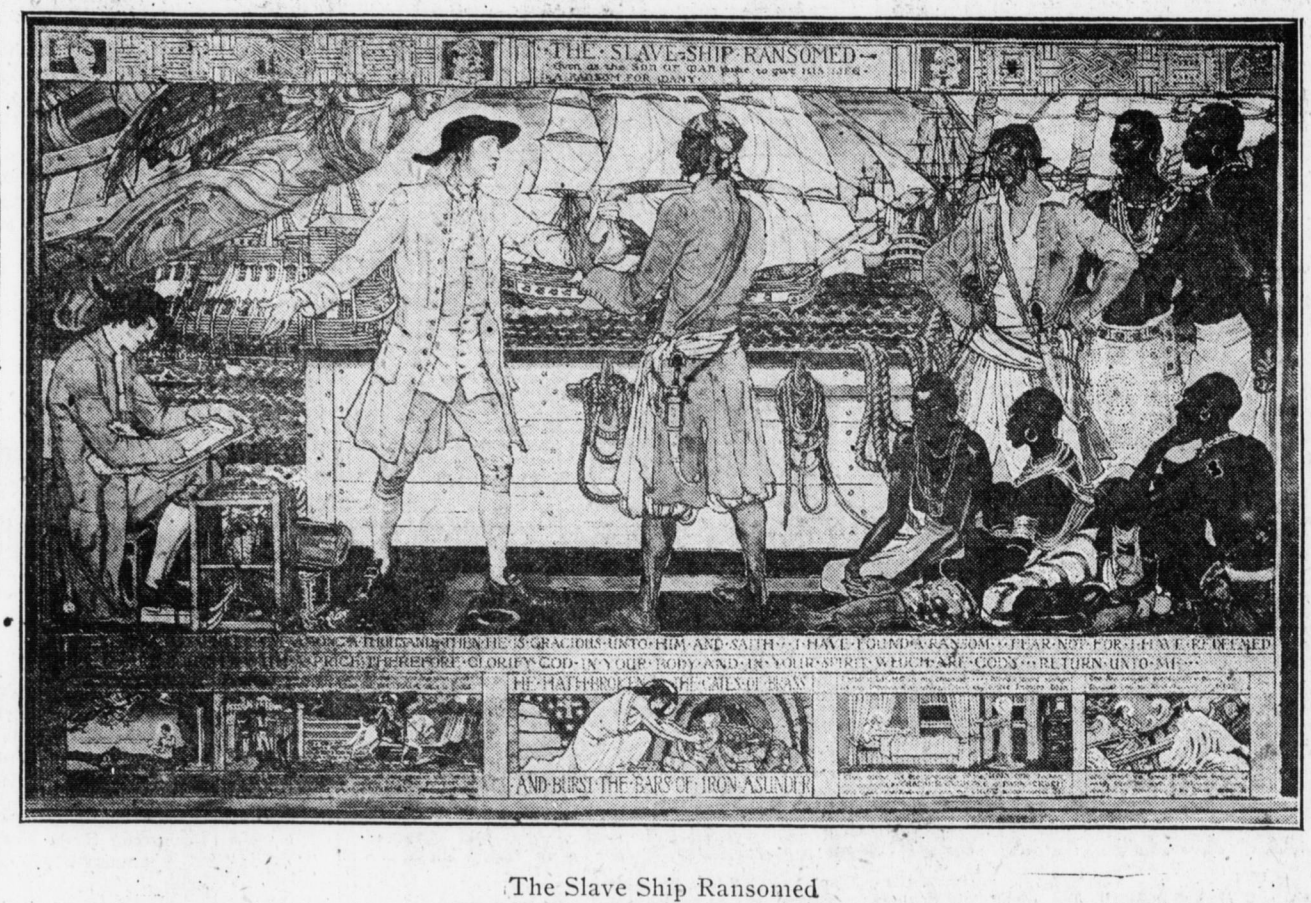

(Copyright by Violet Oakley, 1918). The two paintings just completed are to be placed on the wall of the Senate chamber of the State Capitol of Pennsylvania under the visitors gallery to the right and left of the central entrance. They will thus face the main wall of the chamber and the five large panels which were unveiled two years ago. Although the last to be finished, these two panels form the beginning and foundation of the entire series, the theme of which is "The Creation and Preservation of the Union," the title of the last great panel, stretching high over the others in its length of forty-five feet, being "Supreme Manifestation of Enlightenment in International Unity."

These panels are the first and second of a series of four panels which will be placed on the wall of the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol of Pennsylvania under the visitors gallery to the right and left of the central entrance. Germans Must Be Held on Rhine, Marshal Foch Tells Newspaper Men

"Devil's Own Punch" Had the Yanks, He Declares Knockout Blow Was Ready as the White Flag Flew

Treves, Wednesday, Jan. 15. (Delayed)—It is the conviction of Marshal Foch that the Rhine must be made the barrier between Germany and France. He expressed this clearly to-day to American newspaper correspondents. The marshal is here in connection with the meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice. Marshal Foch said peace must be commensurate with the price of victory. Germany now was beaten, he added, but with her resources, especially in men, recuperation in a comparatively short time was quite possible. It now was the duty of the Allies to prevent further aggressions. Marshal Foch praised the work of the American troops and said General Pershing had asked that the American forces be concentrated for an attack on one sector. The allied generalissimo admitted that the American forces were the best in the world. "France has a right to effective measures of protection after the formidable efforts she put forth to save civilization. The natural frontier which will protect civilization is the Rhine."

COMMISSIONERS WANT MAYOR TO NAME A MATRON

Row Restive Over Delay in Securing Policewoman For Important Work

City commissioners are discussing Mayor Keister's delay in acting to secure the appointment of a police matron, declaring that the need for someone for the position is increasing continually. One of the councilmen to-day called attention to the remarks of District Attorney Michael E. Stroup court this week, the latter stating at sufficient evidence to secure the retention of a woman, held as a pick-pocket was lacking because she had not been thoroughly searched immediately after arrest, it could not be as there is no record at police headquarters. Recently Mayor Keister said he would ask the civil service board to hold another examination to increase the eligible list, then probably would throw the name of Mrs. Edith Bergstresser and submit another name.

Congratulations Galore For Dr. Swallow on the Prohibition Victory

Dr. S. C. Swallow, at his apartments, No. 25 South Front street, is receiving congratulations from friends on the success of prohibition. They come in the form of letters, telegrams and personal calls. The Doctor, during the fifty years of the conduct, was at different times and places a target for abuse by every office in the gift of the people, from town constable to the president of the United States. As often stated, "not in expectation of reaping the emoluments of office, but rather to keep it before the people at every election as a political moral issue." The following is a sample of the communications he has received: "Harrisburg, Ind., Jan. 16, 1919. 'My Dear Doctor, I know you are rejoicing and thanking God for what the state of Nebraska did today, namely, the destruction of the demon drink. All over our land to-night men and women have labored for the cause are sending up petitions of thankfulness. But I know of no one who has labored as long, given their strength and material possessions, and at a time when the prospects of success were very remote, indeed, and to the average man, impossible, who should really enjoy and thank God for it. I should to-night, I would love to walk into your study and take your hand, and give you a hearty handshake, and congratulate you upon the success of the cause. For this the tears and insults of the enemies of the cause could easily be borne and in this hour forgotten. 'I thank God that He spared your life and permitted you to see the fruits of your labors, and trust you may enjoy the days of triumph on your many many ears. This is a Bone Dry state, and there is not a house in an apartment where I seldom see intoxicated people. Hotels are very frequently compelled to turn away guests. Evidence of 'dry rot' is not apparent, as it exists with kind regards to all inquiring friends. 'I am, as ever, Very Sincerely, 'GALEN H. CLAY.'

TYPE OF ELECTRIC-PNEUMATIC ORGAN IN CITY CHURCHES

The accompanying picture shows the type of organ installed in a number of the city churches. It is a three-manual electric-pneumatic organ and is similar to those in the Colonial and Regent Theaters, excepting that the instrument in the latter place of amusement is four-manual, having an echo organ in the gallery. The picture shows the instrument installed in Trinity Lutheran Church, Hagerstown, Md. Organists to-day still were talking of the musical treat given at Messiah Lutheran Church on Thursday evening by Charles Heinroth, the Carnegie Institute organist. Mr. Heinroth, refreshingly modest in his demeanor, added an impetus to the musical life of the city, particularly that portion of it that delights in organ music. The Harrisburg Organists Association is being congratulated on its successful efforts to have Mr. Heinroth play here. Other recitals are in contemplation. It has been suggested that Dr. Orlando A. Mansfield, a gifted English organist, might be prevailed upon to play in the city. Besides being a skilled performer, Dr. Mansfield has written much music for organ and voice. He frequently speaks to the American musical public through the columns of the great music journals, and what he says is regarded as authoritative. John P. Gibson, tenor, is to sing the effective solo, "My Soul is Aflame For God," from Gault's "Holy City," at Bethlehem Lutheran Church to-morrow evening. Mr. Gibson has won a warm place in the hearts of church-goers of Bethlehem Lutheran Church and his rendition of this number is likely to be out of the ordinary. Augustus G. Shantz, tenor, is singing with Zion Lutheran choir again, for which the choir is to be congratulated. Mr. Shantz has been a most conscientious singer in Harrisburg for many years, receiving his early training in the choir of the Market Square Presbyterian Church. To the minds of many people, he has not sung nearly enough in recent years. He will be heard with Mrs. Deceved in a duet, "Come Unto Me," and will sing a gospel hymn, both at the evening service. At Reformed Salem Church to-morrow Mrs. C. W. Myers will sing "Alitosen's 'The Lord is My Light,'" a fine number. Mrs. Myers also will be heard with Mrs. Helsey in the Mendelssohn duet, "I Waited For the Lord." At the Second Reformed Church Mrs. Nelle Clark is to play the "Kindred Meditation" to-morrow evening. Many organists have found this number particularly favorable for quiet evening hour. It has been widely played wherever Mr. Kinder's name and works are known. TO INSTALL NEW PASTOR AT ST. JOHN'S REFORMED Installation services will be held in St. John's Reformed Church, Fourth and Maclay streets, Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, when the Rev. Clayton H. Ranck will be installed as pastor of St. John congregation. The Rev. Ellis N. Kremer, of Salem Reformed Church, will conduct the services, assisted by the Rev. Homer S. May, of the Fourth Reformed, and the Rev. Alfred N. Sayres, of Reformed. The Rev. H. H. Ruppel, of St. John, the Rev. Fred M. E. Grove, of Penbrook, the Rev. E. E. Snyder, of St. Matthew's Lutheran, the Rev. Owen Jones, of Sixth Street, Unfiled Brethren, the Rev. J. H. Mortimer, of Camp Curtin Methodist, the Rev. A. M. Starnes, Augsburg Lutheran, the Rev. Harvey Kiser, of Covenant Presbyterian, and the Rev. W. H. Hough, of the Church of God, together with members of their respective congregations are also expected present. The musical number for the services will include a male chorus, "The King of Love an anthem," by the choir and a soprano solo, "Save Me, O God," by Miss Amy Burd. Miss Viola Burd will give an organ concert from 2.30 until 4 o'clock.

MILD WINTER BIG BOOST FOR AUTOS

Thousands of Cars Beyond the Usual Number Are Registered This Year

Mild weather this winter and the work being done on roads which could not be handled in rigorous winters are believed by people here to be the reason for the unusually large number of automobiles registered at this time for 1919. Under ordinary circumstances the registration the first month is a rather small proportion of the total number of cars. This year, however, literally thousands of cars have been registered beyond the number licensed at this time in the last three Januarys. A big increase in the number of trucks licensed has also been noted, some of the vehicles being on large size and weight. From what is stated by applicants for the license use of trucks for hauling is noted as increasing and new ones are being put into service. Revenue from automobile licenses is far and away above all previous records at this time of the year. The State Highway Department's automobile division has had force at work day and night to get out licenses. Giving Men Credit—Major W. G. Murdock, the state draft executive, has suggested to local boards that in compiling their histories of the operation of the draft in their districts that they include not only names of the drafted men, but those who are wounded in France or who are cited for bravery. It is also suggested that the histories include the personnel of the boards and their auxiliaries and the number of men who have been examined, registered and the camps to which drafted men were sent, together with contemporary newspaper accounts. Board to Meet—Members of the State Armory Board will meet in Harrisburg next week to prepare the legislative plans for that branch of the military establishment and it is probable that an appropriation for continuing projects under way and for new buildings will be asked. The board will hear reports on the armory buildings throughout the state as they have been maintained since the National Guardsmen entered United States service and are to be ready to house the additional units of the Reserve Militia which it is expected will be authorized in every possible way because of the sugar situation during the war. Dr. H. A. Surface and C. N. Greene will make reports on bee keeping in Pennsylvania. To Go For Blackbirds—Legislation providing for a change in the blackbird season so that they may be shot in August when they are apt to be destructive in great numbers and other parts of farms and in gardens is being prepared. The game code provided for a season from September 1 to November 30, but opinions gathered by state officers indicate a general desire for the season to be advanced.

Crow is singing a new song, just written by Frank Hill, deputy chief of the State Department of Mines. Deaths and Funerals MRS. W. H. WALLACE Mrs. Mattie Holbert Wallace, wife of George W. Wallace, died at her home in Hainton Tuesday morning. Mrs. Wallace was the daughter of the late Jacob C. and Margaret Holbert. She is survived by her husband, George M. WILMER CROW Following an attack of influenza, Wilmer Crow, aged 38 years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Crow, Penn street, Reilton. Crow was a fireman for the Pennsylvania Railroad at the branch intersection, Royaltown. His wife, two daughters, Elma and Olive Crow; a son, Wilmer Crow, Jr.; three brothers, John, Charles and William Crow, and two sisters survive. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made. LIEUT. GEO. H. SEITZ Military funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Lieutenant George Howard Seitz, at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Daniel F. Seitz, 1221 North Second street. The Rev.
