The new paintings recently hung in the Senate Chamber will be presented to the state formally at tonight's session of that body by the artist, Miss Violet Oakley. The presentation will be very informal and will be confined to a brief address by Miss Oakley and a response by the presiding officer of the Senate, Lieutenant-Governor McClain. It is expected that Mr. McClain also will make a brief statement as to the work of the state "war board," with which he was prominently identified. Lieutenant Governor-elect E. E. Beidleman means to simplify the furnishings of his reception room at the Capitol. At present it is filled with great, upholstered chairs, very conductive to leisurely occupation, and the Lieutenant Governor believes in business first and pleasure after-afterward, so he will order that the big chairs be disposed of and cheaper and simpler furniture installed. Also he will cut down the number.

GRANDMOTHER OF

Any Government Will Fail if Assistance Isn't Given, She Says

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 20 .- If help is not forthcoming at once, any govern-ment set up in Russia will fail, de-clared Madame Catherine Breshkov ment set up in Russia will fall, declared Madame Catherine Breshkovskaya, known as the "grandmother of the Russian revolution," who arrived here yesterday from the Orient. Czecho-Slovak, rather than Allied troops, are wanted in Russia, she declared. "The coming of Czecho-Slovak soldiers would be welcomed by the people as they would welcome the coming of Christ," she said.

"The only order existing to-day in Russia is that which has been established wherever Czecho-Slovak troops gained a foothold," she declared.

The cause to which Madame Bresh kovskaya says she has devoted the rest of her life is the securing of financial assistance for the four million Russian orphans and the eight million Russian orphans and the eight million, she says, is the main purpose of her visit to America.

The Russian Bisheviki were severely arraigned by the visitor.

"They have failed because they are destroyers," she asserted. "Ruination is their motto."

Madame Breshkovskaya said she went, in hiding in Petrograd for eight months when Kerensky was overthrown. Then she went to Moscow, where she remained two months. Later she toured Russia secretly in what she said was a great co-operative movement, the principles of which she intimated were along Socialistic lines. She declined to say whether her work involved steps against the Russian government of to-day.

Is tives and intimate friends. He will spend the night at the Executive Mansion.

To-morrow at 11 o'clock he will be met by Senator William E. Crow, of Foyette county, chairman of the inaugural committee together with the remainder of the committee, at the Executive Mansion and will be secorted to the Governor's office in the Capitol.

There at 11.30 he will meet with the newly-appointed heads of the several departments. At the same time Governor Brumbaugh has requested present heads of departments to meet him. At the conclusion of the farewells, the new executive will be escorted to the grandstand.

While the big parade to-morrow is the principal feature of the inaugural ceremonies there will be no part of the day's functions, except the actual administration of the oath of offffice to Governor Sproul by Chief Justice Brown, that will be more formal than the processional from the Governor's office of state officials to the grandstand at Third and State streets.

Shortly before noon, according to plans announced to-day by Senator William E. Crow, chairman of the inaugural committee, the Governor-elect and the present Governor will be escorted to the grandstand. The line will be headed by Chairman Crow and William P. Gallagher, chief clerk of the Senate. Then will follow Governor - Brumbaugh and Governor-elect Sproul.

Lieutenant-Governor Brumbaugh and Lieutenant-Governor-elect Eeddle-wern will come next. The next lieu.

LOCAL MOOSE TO STAGE MINSTREL SHOW

Harrisburg Lodge, No. 107, L. O. O. M., has arranged to present to the amusement lovers of Harrisburg a fully developed modern minstrel. It is being staged and perfected by Grant Moore and Amos Shultz, two members who have been in the amusement game for the last twenty years. The newly organized Moose Band will make its first public appearance in the grand minstrel parade at noon on Thursday, January 23, the day of the show. As the Moose are well known for their charitable activities there is no doubt that the Orpheum Theater will be packed on Thursday evening, the night of the show.

Nine thousand persons will be in line of the big inaugural parade, Captain Francis H. Hoy, Jr., chief of the aids of the parade, told this morning. Arrangements for the event, which will be one of the big features of the day, are practically complete now and Lieutenant Colonel Lewis E. Beitler, chief of staff, and his assistants, are now busy in "gathering in the loose ends."

Lieutenant "Jack" Sproul, son of the Governor-elect, will be one of the special aids, it was announced to-day.
