New Concessions in Armistice Terms Germans Announce

London, Jan. 21.—In addition to securing an extension of the time limit until June for the delivery of agricultural machinery to the Entente Allies, says a German government wireless message, the German armistice commission in its negotiations with the Entente representatives at Treves last week for a renewal of the armistice, obtained other concessions: These included the stipulation that the quantity of such machinery to be delivered was to be left undetermined for the present.

It is declared that had the Entente insisted in its original demands, the German agricultural industry would have been faced with ruin and that this concession relieves Germany of the greatest anxiety.

Says Vail Wants to Unload the Q. T. & T. Upon Government

Washington, Jan. 21.—Senator Sherman, of Illinois, Republican, declared in the Senate yesterday that Theodore N. Vail, personal adviser on wire control to Postmaster General Burleson, favors government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines in order that the property of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, of which Mr. Vail is president, can be "unloaded" on the government.

"Theodore N. Vail is an assistant to Mr. Burleson and is interested in unloading the American Telegraph and Telephone Company on the government, and Mr. Burleson knows it," Senator Sherman said.

Shaffer's Last Flight

It was the same with the wood that the prisoners gathered to make their little fires and cook their few potatoes, turnips, etc. The Boche compelled each one to give up a certain portion, and true to his character of making all the useless suffering possible, he would pick out the wood that was most dry.

Loaded Down. It was not long before we were on the march and according to rumor, a fifteen-mile march ahead of us. Judging from the way some of those Frenchmen were loaded down I could not see how they were going to make it.

As for myself, I was traveling light, using one blanket as an overcoat and the other tied snugly over my back. I also had a small sack in which I had a few pieces of bread, which I had been at so much pains and expense to get for that night's getaway.

Organize for Escape. Being stationed miles back the lines and only firing over the top as at high altitudes, naturally, we knew nothing about the way an infantryman fights. Blissfully ignorant, though I was, however, I was waiting a few days for the proper time to wait for the proper time to wait for the proper time.

EXPECT SENATE WILL PASS FOOD BILL LATE TODAY

Penrose Attacks Hoover During Debate on the Measure

Washington, Jan. 21.—Although debate on the administration bill appropriating $100,000,000 for food relief in Europe and in the near East, prevented a final vote on the measure in the Senate yesterday, passage of the bill is conceded.

Attack on the bill and the administration of the relief fund by Herbert C. Hoover was led by Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, and Sherman, of Illinois, both Republicans.

Senator Penrose said Mr. Hoover "had insulted every Republican citizen" by advising the American people to support the Democratic party in the last congressional campaign.

Another amendment offered by Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, Democrat, would give every soldier, sailor and marine a bonus of six months' pay and his uniform upon discharge, but its consideration was deferred.

Senator Lewis urged passage of the bill as necessary to sustain President Wilson in his work at the Peace Conference.

German Elections Show Trend Toward Republican Government

London, Jan. 21.—"The course of the elections throughout the German state," says a German government wireless dispatch received here "has clearly proved that the development of a republican form of government interests the whole German nation.

Participation in the elections was strong everywhere, and in the sharp contrast to the indifference which vast classes, especially among the bourgeoisie, have shown on the occasion of former elections, especially remarkable was the strong percentage of women among the masses of voters and the perseverance of both male and female voters to record their votes, despite adverse weather conditions.

Only from the Rhineland, the mining district of Hamborn, Cassel and a few small places have there been disturbances due to the violence of Spartacist bands.

The party administration of the Independent Socialists has now appealed to the workers to suspend their strike and return to work."

Pennsylvania Men Win D. S. O. Medals

Washington, Jan. 21.—Twenty-seven American officers, all bearing the rank of colonel or higher and including Brigadier General William W. Atterbury, of Philadelphia, have been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal upon recommendation of General Pershing.

General Atterbury was sent to France early in the war to get the railroads into shape to start transportation facilities and to build overseas a system that would parallel the existence of the Pennsylvania railroad at home.

His experience and his administration have been one succession of triumphs, according to those who served under him and those who have witnessed the facilities that the United States had in France.

General William Weigel is a New Jersey man and commanded one of the infantry brigades of the Twenty-eighth Division, the famous Iron Division, comprised of Pennsylvania National Guardsmen.

General Malin Craig is also a Pennsylvania man and was appointed to the Military Academy from this state.

General Robert C. Davis is another Keystone Stater and was sent to West Point by appointment.

Negotiations begun on Jan. 14 to secure a cessation of hostilities on the Carinthian front, resulted in a renewal of the armistice.
