Madame Lebaudy. Exonerated by Jury, Returns to Her Home

WEDNESDAY EVENING

Mincoln, N. Y., Jan. 22.- Exonerated by the Nassau county Grand Jury of the first-degree murder charge which had been placed against her, Madam Jacques Lebaudy is to-day at her home in Westbury, where, on January 11, she shot and killed her eccentric husband, the self-styled 'Emperor of Sahara."

Madam Lebaudy was accompanied Madam Lebaudy was accompanied by her 15-year-old daughter, Jacqueline for the preservation of whose happiness, more than for her own safety, she says, she killed her husband.
"My fondest wish is that I will be permitted now to rest in seclusion," was her only comment when she was asked for a statement as she left the county jail.

London, Jan. 22. — Industrial unrest throughout the United Kingdom is increasing. In addition to the threat of a railway strike, the whole Yorkshire coal fields probably will be idle to-morrow, throwing 150,000 menout of work while preparations are being made-in Scotland for a general strike for a forty-hour week.

The cause of the trouble in Yorkshire is somewhar similar to that which is occurring in other parts of the country. The operators there have locked out some 40,000 men who insisted on taking twenty minutes of the employers' time for meals. In reply to the lockout 'the Yorkshire Miners' Association has declared a strike for to-morrow. Compounded to gently stimulate the stomach, liver and bowels to perform their natural functions.

By Associated Press

Washington, Jan. 22.—President Wilson's failure to remove restrictions against the construction in American shipyards of steel ships for foreign account was criticized in the Senate to-day by Senator Jones, of Washington, who declared it unjustifiable and "almost criminal."

Such a policy, he said, not only compelled shipyards to suspend operations, throwing thousands of men out of employment, but resulted the proportion of education in the various localities and these directors will be under the authority of a commission of education, whose jurisdiction will comprise all the troops on foreign soil. Dr. Brumbaugh did not make known who his associates on the commission would be. He said to make known who his associates on the commission would be. He said accepted.

Offered the Senatorship

Senator Quay died in 1904 and Governor Pennypacker offered the senatorial appointment to Mr. Oliver. For personal reasons he declined and Philander C. Knox was named and subsequently elected. The Republican state convention of that year named Senator Oliver a delegate at large to the Republican National convention, which nominated Theodore Roosevelt for president. In 1906 Mr. Oliver was an active figure in bringing about the nomination of Edwin S. Stuart for governor.

Following the election of William H. Taft as president, in 1908, another call came for Mr. Oliver to enter the United States Senate because of the selection of Senator Knox as secretary of state in the 1908 another that the State Senate because of the selection of Senator Knox. Previous to that time Mr. Oliver had served as president of the Pittsburg Central Roard of Education from 1881 to 1884, as president of the Pittsburg Central Roard of Education from 1881 and supervisor of the Federal census for this district in 1890.

In 1910 Mr. Oliver had much to do with bringing about the nomination by the Republican State Convention of John K. Tener for governor. The Olivers and Teners are not related, but there is a bond of friendship between the families which had its inception in Ireland and has ripened with the years. Mr. Tener was elected governor and a Legislature was chosen which returned Senator Oliver from the Senate for a full term of six years, his service ending in March, 1917.

The retirement of Senator Oliver from the Senate was voluntary. Long before his term expired he amounced the senator of the senator of the senator of the senator of the state endeavored to have him reconsider his decision, but he declined. In 1916 Senator Knox was chosen to succeed him. In the same primary which nominated Senator Knox, Senator Oliver was elected a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention.

Although in poor health, Senator Oliver remained at his office almost constantly until June. In the May primaries of 1918, his support was given to the gubernatorial candidacy of William C. Sproul and was one who urged him to make the ratification of the prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution, one of the hief planks of his platform. Leegislative candidates standing on his platform received the support of Senator Oliver.

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most scaps and prepared shampoes contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittie, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive scap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. to manage.
