crowds last evening. At o time be-tween the hours of 5 ad 8 were there vacant places at my of the tables, and the workers were kept in a constant runk to seve the un-expected number of peple. The supper was held by the district nurse's committee of the Civic Club, the proceeds to be used to pay the expenses of keeping the nurse at her task of helping and alding all sorts and conditions of people in Siecton. The committee in chage of the supper originally had panned for five hundred plates, but the weather made this hope appear utile. The good will of the people however, was not deterred by the weather. and the crowds attendin exceeded the wildest dreams of those in charge of the affair. It is impossible to repert the fi-nancial result of the suppr at this time, because of the large number of people who thus far failed to re-port on the tickets sold. The fact that most of the food wa kindly and greerously donated by local merchants will swell the proceeds. The committee in charge synch, or selling tickets.
