Go Away in Prairie Wagons, Returning in Their Automobiles

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 24.—Some of the West Texas farmers who deserted their homes last summer in pitiful white lines of old prairie wagons are now going back in automobiles. Driven out by a three years' drought, they are going back as oil men.

Some of the farmers who straggled, almost penniless, from the "parched zone" a few months ago can qualify as oil magnates, according to Vance Muse, of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, who has just completed a tour of Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Breckenridge, DeLeon, Moran, Gorman and other towns in the heart of the new oil district. He says the population in many counties, almost completely deserted last summer, has reached unprecedented figures.

In this they are imitating the Russian soldiers, who, since the revolution, have commandeered freight cars wherever they found them and remodeled them for dwellings.
