CRUSHED BY FALLING TREE CASE DECLARED HOPELESS

Henning, W. Va.—"The early part of last winter I was caught under a falling tree and as a result suffered from concussion of the brain. My sufferings were so intense that at times I almost went mad. My nervous system was so completely shattered that I became a complete mental and physical wreck. I consulted several physicians, none of whom could give me any relief. I had about given up hope when one of the lumbermen from the camp came to visit me and advised that I try DR. CHASE'S BLOOD AND NERVE TABLETS. After taking them for a few days I immediately felt some relief and thus continued the use of these tablets."

Steelton News HOLD FOUR MEN ON SUSPICION

Police Keep Three Men Picked Up Yesterday and Take Another Today

Of the fifteen negroes picked up Wednesday by state police in company with the local police and Chief Metzner of the steel force, three are being held for further investigation. In addition to them Officer Wynn this morning brought to the station a negro named Sam Watson on suspicion of being implicated in the shooting of F. W. Lerch, of Highspire, Tuesday evening. The first three were taken from Locust grove, and hail from various parts of the South. In the hut of one of them a revolver was found after he had made the assertion that he had no gun. In the questioning thus far none of the three have been able to give satisfactory answers to their whereabouts at the time of the shooting, although they did try to show where they were after 9 o'clock. The shooting took place shortly after seven.

Sam Watson, the negro taken this morning has a bad scar on his left cheekbone as though he were hit a glancing blow with some instrument not unlike a hammer. It is recalled that Lerch said he struck at one of them with a hammer. Watson will be held for investigation.

The police have been handicapped in their search for the guilty parties by the lack of clues. It is known that several negroes were on the trolley car and left it at Highspire just a short time before the shooting. Others in Highspire saw three negroes go in the direction of Board's barbershop, and just a few minutes before the shooting two negroes came to the barbershop of Board and asked the way to the wholesale liquor store. Beard himself is said to have told them the way, but thus far Beard has refused to come to the Steelton lockup to make any attempt to identify the men now held, although he has been requested to do so several times by Chief Longenecker.

DAUPHIN COURT ENJOINS PHONE RATE INCREASE

Attorney General Schaffer Presents Petition on Behalf of State

The Dauphin county court yesterday on petition of Attorney General Schaffer issued a preliminary injunction restraining the Bell Telephone Company, of Pennsylvania, from charging the increased telephone rates ordered by the Federal authorities. The hearing was fixed for next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The petition of the state authorities, which was presented by the Attorney General in person and accompanied by affidavits from Public Service Commissioners Ainey, McClure, Brecht, Alcorn and others, averred that the Bell company had not complied with the provisions of the Public Service Company law which requires filing of rates with the commission and declared that the fixing of rates is a state matter entirely. Mr. Schaffer appeared as general counsel of the commission, Governor Sprout having requested him to act in the matter.

Both Judges Kunkel and McCarrell were on the bench and just before Mr. Schaffer presented the petition the new Attorney General and First Deputy Attorney General Robert S. Gawthrop and Deputy Attorneys General Emerson Collins, E. J. Myers and William L. Swoops were formally admitted to the Dauphin county bar on motion of Lieutenant Governor Biedeman. Deputy Hardest and Counsel Berne H. Evans, of the Public Service Commission, who are members of the Dauphin bar, were also present.

The petition presented by Mr. Schaffer required almost fifteen minutes to read. It set forth that the company is a Pennsylvania corporation, organized and existing under Pennsylvania laws; that it has been ordered and has filed rates with the commission, among them a schedule effective June 21, 1917, which can not be changed or discontinued by the company within three years without approval of the commission. It is then set forth that the company has done in the matter of the new rates, compliance of by the state, which is stated to become effective January 21.

Declared to be in Excess of Rates. The Federal rates are declared in excess of what the commission is authorized to charge by the state and the petition avers that the company in charging the rates complained of is acting in violation of orders of the commission and that the charges are illegal.

"Neither the defendant, nor the postmaster general, acting through the officers and directors of the defendant, is authorized by law to change the tolls and charges determined by said commission, except with approval of the commission." The prayer, which declares that "the attempt to change said tolls and charges above set forth is an impairment of the lawful police regulations of this state, as expressed in the Public Service Company law."

In the prayer it is asked that the defendant company be enjoined from violating orders of the commission and from charging or collecting the new rates until the commission applies to the commission for approval.

In answer to some questions from the bench Mr. Schaffer said the police powers of the state were never delegated to the United States government by any action in connection with the telephone systems and are in any event expressly reserved to the state. He said that he did not know where the Federal authorities got the right to increase the rates in this state and that the Bell was a Pennsylvania corporation.

Judge McCarrell asked if the government had not taken over the property to which the Attorney General replied that it had not, but was supervising and controlling it in the functions of managing director.

"We will fix next Monday, February 3, at 2 o'clock as the time for the hearing," said Judge Kunkel. "The effect of the action is to restrain the Bell from charging the new rates until the injunction proceedings is ended. The injunction may be either made permanent or dissolved."

The Secret Is Out. To-morrow! My Twice-in-a-Twelvemonth Clearance Sale

$27,000 Worth of High Quality Merchandise to Be Sold For $9,000

TOMORROW morning at 9.00 A. M. sharp the sale opens. I've been in the women's apparel business in Harrisburg for years. And I'm weighing my words carefully when I say, from the background of my own experience, that Harrisburg has never seen values even approaching those I'm offering during this event.

I absolutely refuse to carry one article over from the old season into the new. If I have to give my stock away I'll get rid of it. I haven't an inch of space for storage. I don't want past season goods around anyway. Every season I start in business anew — at least from the standpoint of merchandise. Practically everything I'm offering in this sale is quoted at much less than the wholesale price.

Conceive what this means to the women who profit by it. In many cases it means that women of taste and discernment who can not usually indulge their desire for dainty frocks and fashionable suits will now be able to. To me there's a real and lasting satisfaction in that thought. But don't think I'm posing as a philanthropist. This policy of clearing everything at far below cost is sound merchandising. It will give my store a reputation for carrying only the newest, the latest, the most authentic styles. Then too, a sale of this nature will bring hundreds of new faces into my store. Many will return later to buy at usual prices.

Upon one point I am insistent. The same meticulous, painstaking care will be exerted in fitting garments during this sale as though the goods were bought at usual prices. In order to ensure this and to prevent overcrowding I've adopted a schedule which is reproduced in this announcement. Better clip it now. It tells you what days what articles will be sold.

The sale opens tomorrow and continues all next week. If anything is left next Saturday night, February 8th, I shall sell it en bloc to some speculator or wholesaler for what it will bring.

Call early tomorrow, Saturday. The earlier you call — the wider the selection. Doors open at 9.00 o'clock. Close as usual Saturday, 6 P. M.
