PRODUCE MEN HIT BY MARKET CHIEF

Chief of Federal Bureau of Markets Defends 'Fair Price' Lists

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—The Produce Exchange of this city and two of its officers are attacked by Charles J. Brand, chief of the Federal Bureau of Markets, because of their opposition to publication of "fair food prices" for the benefit of housekeepers. The gist of Mr. Brand's reply is that produce dealers who protest the bureau's activities fear publicity will prevent a return to pre-war conditions, when profits were not regulated by Federal supervision. The Produce Exchange, in a statement signed by John S. Morris, president, and Samuel S. Daniels, secretary, among others, attacked the work of the bureau of markets here as a "waste of money" and attempted to show that the bureau's efforts to keep the housewife posted on what she should pay for food were worthless. The protest also was aimed at the bureau's system of inspection, whereby a shipper in Richmond, for example, can have a carload of food which he has sent to this city inspected upon its arrival for a nominal cost by inspectors of the bureau.

125 Bushels Silver to Be Melted Into Bullion at Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—More than 125 bushels of silver dollars were shipped yesterday from the Treasury vaults at Washington to the Philadelphia Mint to be melted into bullion for export to India. The daily Treasury financial statement, which deals familiarly with billions and only incidentally with details like millions, announced in cryptic accounting terms merely that current assets in silver dollars had fallen $1,118,000 since yesterday. This was one of the shipments which have taken $20,000,000 from the vaults in recent months to be melted down and exported to the Allies.

FARMERS' WEEK AT STATE COLLEGE

Prominent Agriculturalists Will Address the Sessions There

State College, Pa., Feb. 11.—Both state and national workers in the field of agriculture will address the farmers of Pennsylvania at State College, February 24 to 28, in connection with the thirteenth annual Farmers' week at the School of Agriculture. Frederic Rasmussen, Secretary of Agriculture, will be heard Wednesday, February 26, when he will discuss the outlook for Pennsylvania agriculture. On the same day, H. N. Morse, of New York, will speak on the church and rural construction. Editors of the leading agricultural papers also will be present and will discuss timely topics. E. S. Bayard, editor of the National Stockman and Farmer, will talk about the future of the livestock business on Wednesday, February 26. Post-war activities in Pennsylvania agriculture is the subject assigned to W. J. Spillman, editor of the Farm Journal, of Philadelphia. H. W. Callagwood, editor of the Rural New Yorker, is scheduled to speak on the relation of the agricultural college to the agricultural press. F. H. Stoneburn, president of the Pennsylvania Poultry Association will explain the work of the organization, as well as talk about the chicken crop of this year. The story of how he bred up a herd of cows will come first-hand from George M. Putnam, of Conococton, N. H., and W. S. Beach, of Eustleton, will tell of his experimental work with lettuce and celery diseases.

Tobacco Growers Merge to Sell Their Product

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 11.—Farm work was almost totally abandoned in this county yesterday, while more than three thousand tobacco growers attended the biggest meeting in their history, and formed a $10,000 corporation to pack and sell tobacco. The capital of the new concern will be greatly increased soon. Thus have the growers checked, for the time being, the sales of crops for fourteen cents a pound just half of what they received last year. Plans of the company call for the establishment of a big sales floor, and the business will be conducted co-operatively. J. Aldus Herr, one of the county's leading growers, declared "that the time has come when the farmers must organize firmly and get their just fruits."

Make Your Own Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. A. Dixon, a well-known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "Streaked, faded or gray hair can be quickly turned black, brown or light brown by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home: 'Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in four ounces of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Directions for mixing and use and a gold bond guarantee come in each box. One box will last you for months. 'It is perfectly safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky orummy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger.'"

State Democrats Name Candidates For Senate Seats

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—At a special meeting of the Democratic state executive committee here yesterday candidates were nominated for the unexpired terms of Governor Spruill and Lieutenant-Governor Beldeman as state senators in Delaware and Dauphin counties, respectively, and practically for the full term of Edward E. Robbins, deceased, in the Twenty-second Congressional district, which comprises Butler and Westmoreland counties. Albert E. Maris, of Lansdowne, was nominated for state senator in Delaware county; I. Vernon Fritz, of Harrisburg, for state senator in Dauphin, and Brigadier General Richard A. Coulter, of Greensburg, for congressman in Butler-Westmoreland district. The elections for state senator will be held in the two districts on the same day, February 25, and in the Butler-Westmoreland district on March 4.

Relates Experiences With Grandmother of Russian Revolution

New York, Feb. 11.—When Mme. Catherine Breschkovskaya, affectionately known to millions of Russians, as "Babushka, or the little grandmother of the Russian revolution," stopped in the midst of an impassioned address to 150 prominent Americans at the Henry street settlement here the other day to embrace and kiss George Kenman, the author and explorer, who came in unexpectedly upon the gathering, there remained to be told the story of a remarkable friendship that began thirty-five years ago in the wilds of Siberia. Seated before a log fire in his home in Fifth avenue overlooking the gaunt trees of Central Park, Mr. Kenman to-day related with great vividness and sympathy that phase of his exposure of the Russian prison horrors and the exile which, in 1886 brought him in touch with "Babushka," then a political prisoner in a little burin or village called Selenginsk in the most desolate part of the Trans-Baikal.

Does Your House Reflect a Pleasant Setting For Your Life and Your Children's Lives

Any home can be made to cheer the minds of those who live in it just as it can be made to receive ones home-comings with a promise of rest and comfort. That's what home is for. If everyone knew the charms of pleasantly furnished homes, how many more home-staying evenings there would be, how many more good books and music might be enjoyed. Like many other things in life the first step toward having a pleasant home is to resolve to have it.

And the Second Step Would Be A Visit to Our Furniture Floor This Month

There is a great gathering of good furniture waiting to be transferred to homes hereabouts—and every piece of furniture on display is offered in the February Sale at reduced price.
