at Home With York Demons

After handing a lacing to the Washington Tech lads from south of the Mason and Dixon line, the Technical High school quintet will play its fourth Central Penn League contest at the Chestnut street hall when the York High school five will be the opponents of the Maroon.

Tech should annex this contest, yet it is to be remembered that the York bunch is a crowd of fighters. Several weeks ago when Tech visited York, the Maroon contingent won a hard-fought game. Following the game the local aggregation was followed to the station by a hue crowd of hooting fans. The York police force had much difficulty in breaking up a near-riot. But such a thing is not likely to be repeated Friday night. In the first place, the Tech team is going to be on its good behavior. And then, should any disorders occur, the local efficient police force will be on hand. There is simply no comparison between the York and Harrisburg police depart.

FIRE DAMAGES CHURCH

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—Fire evidently caused by an overheated pipe from the furnace, badly damaged the fine new church of the Christ Lutheran congregation at Aspers Station, and was only prevented from total destruction by the early discovery of the blaze and efficient work done by the men and women who joined efforts to save the structure.

A man living close by saw smoke coming from the building and breaking into the church rang the bell and volunteer firemen were soon on the scene.
