drills.

This announcement was made here to-day by Adjutant General Frank D. Beary. "I expect to go to Washington early next week to appear before the Senate military affairs committee," said General Beary. "From what I have learned the plan is to pay the Guardsmen for attending drills and a scale will be adopted. The War Department will furnish the equipment and that will solve the matter of artillery."

Thief of Carload of Tin Gives Self Up Pittsburgh, Feb. 21. - Virtually Pittsburgh, Feb. 21. — Wirtually a nation-wide search for a carload of pig tin valued at $23,000, which vanished from the Newcastle, Pa., yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad last May, ended here to-day when Clyde E. Mehaffeya 37, of Versailles, Pa., walked into the office of R. C. Bledsoe, chief of police of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore and Ohio, with the calm announcement that he was the man responsible for the car's disappearance.

Mehaffey was yardmaster at Newcastle in May. The car was carded for Pittsburgh as war material, and everyone connected with its movement has been arrested with the exception of Mehaffey.

said he and Galles were drinking, and, according to Galles, Mahlan threatened him with a gun. Galles said he then drew his revolver and shot Mahlan. The builtet entered the forehead, resulting fatally a short time later. Galles was found soon afterward along a road near Zimmerman's Woods, and was committed to jail by Squire Stees.

Loncar was shot, it is said, during an argument with Mladenovic over a business affair. It is said they had been working together in a bakery, when trouble arose between them, precipitating the fight. Police had just arrested Mladenovic when they were notified of the Mahlan shooting.
