

CAD BUILDING BIDS ARE ASKED

Project Long Discussed Will Be Put Through This Year by Sadler

The first call for bids for construction of highways by the present State administration has just been issued by Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler and covers building of over a quarter million feet of road in 18 counties. The work will be opened March 20. No bids have been asked for state road work for months owing to winter prices and the new invitation starts the program this year as far as projects previously prepared for are concerned. This work will be done with due regard for the main highway construction under the program provided for by the $9,000,000 bond issue.

The work contemplated is as follows: Strabane, Adams county, 27,000 feet; Sprink, Berks, 8984; Clark borough, 1842; Pine, Clinton, 2,636; Millville borough, Columbia, 29; Clifton Heights, 5745; Starys, 4566; Fairview and Girard townships, Erie, 15327; Harborcreek and Northeast townships, Erie, 25,000; Springfield, Erie, 8760; Georges, Nicholson and Springhill, Fayette, 26,112; Jefferson, Morgan and Franklin, Greene, 34,259; Colebrook, Lancaster, 6600; Union and Taylor, Lawrence, 4906; Upper and Lower Maconie, Lehigh, 35,025; Solbaugh, Monroe, 23,510; Elkland borough, 7824; Conewago and Broken Straw, Warren, 25,862.

Commissioner Sadler has engagements to meet delegations relative to road work every day this week. The final sessions of farmers institutes in several districts began today, the list for the week including Dauphin, Mifflin, Blair, Crawford, Butler, Bucks, Delaware and Philadelphia. The latter institute is held in the agricultural section of Philadelphia known as Bustleton. Institutes in this county opened Union Deposit.

Argument Day—The Public Service Commission is hearing argument today. Philadelphia suburban rates are being up. An executive session will be held to-morrow.

Legislative Reception—Governor and Mrs. Sprout will give the biennial reception to the Legislature to-morrow evening at the Executive mansion.

Morning Conferences—Highway commissioner Sadler devoted this morning to conferences with bureau chiefs. Monday morning will be for such meetings and no delegations will be received until Monday afternoon.

Truck Limits Up—The size of trucks to be permitted on the highways which the State will build at a cost of millions of dollars of it to be given serious attention by members of the legislative committees in charge of the series of bills regulating motor vehicles. The State Highway Department with the lessons of the damage done by army trucks in passing through the State during the war and the development of auto truck lines to overcome the transportation conditions is disposed to limit the weight and to care for the average rather than the huge truck. A limit of 24,000 pounds has been proposed. This is the present figure, but some people want it raised. Unless a limit is placed and adhered to there will be damage not only to roads, but bridges which were not designed for the gigantic machines now in use in some sections. Length is another problem. Twenty-five feet is the Ditrich bill limit and some men want a 28 foot limit, others contending for 22. The width permissible is fixed at 90 inches.

Dr. Hersh dead—Dr. J. G. Hersh, a former member of the House from Montgomery county, died at his home, at East Greenville. He was a practicing physician for over forty years.

Secretary to speak—Secretary of Agriculture is to be one of the speakers at Farmers' Week in State College.

Board to meet—The Workmen's Compensation Board will meet at its offices here tomorrow at 1 p. m., and at its offices in Philadelphia, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February 26, 27 and 28 at 10 a. m.

Chairman H. A. Mackey will conduct hearings de novo at Reading on Wednesday, February 19 and at Pottsville on Thursday, February 20. Commissioner James W. Leech will conduct hearings de novo at Johnstown, Friday, February 14.
