First Missionaries Went to Sandwich Islands 100 Years Ago

Honolulu, Feb. 25.—The one hundredth anniversary of the departure from Boston of the first missionaries from the United States to the Sandwich Islands as they were then known, will be celebrated here on October 23 next. On that date in the year 1819 the brig Thaddeus, Captain Hunnewell, sailed from Boston for Hawaii. The vessel anchored at Kailua, Kona, Island of Hawaii, on April 6, 1820, and the missionaries landed that day to begin their work of civilizing the natives and converting them to Christianity. The one hundredth anniversary of that date, April 6, 1920, also will be celebrated under the auspices of the Hawaiian Board of Missions.

On October 23, this year, it is planned to have an interchange of messages between the Hawaiian Board of Missions and the Board of Foreign Missions of Boston, which sent the first missionaries to Hawaii 100 years ago.

FARMERS MUST CUT PRICES FIRST

Must Head Procession, They Are Told at State College

State College, Feb. 25.—Hundreds of Pennsylvania agriculturists and their wives who have come here for the annual Farmers' Week conferences at the State College agricultural school today were told that they would have to lead the movement in the downward trend of prices. If the cost of farm food products is to come anywhere near the pre-war level, they learned, the farmer will have to head the procession because he is opposed by organized labor, which was said to be clamoring for a reduction in everything—except wages.

W. J. Spillman, associate editor of the Farm Journal, of Philadelphia, and attached to the United States Department of Agriculture, was discussing the agricultural outlook after the war when he touched upon the subject of the farmers' price list. He put the responsibility for the conditions upon the farmers, because they are unorganized, he said.

According to Mr. Spillman, the bulk of the profits will still continue to go to the middleman, whatever the price situation may be, inasmuch as they will have the unorganized producers on one hand and the unorganized consumers on the other. He expressed the belief that governmental agencies will soon have to delve into the facts of the middlemen's business to determine where inefficiency and wasteful methods prevail.

While he did not advocate stringent regulations controlling the middlemen, Mr. Spillman contended that the business of distributing many products had become complex and expensive.

STATE TO PRINT REGIMENT ACTS

Histories of Pennsylvania Commands in War Will Be Published

Authority for state publication of histories of regiments in the wars with Germany and Spain is given in a bill introduced into the House by Mr. Wallace, Lawrence. The act would relate to histories prepared without state aid and before publication of the Governor, Auditor General and Adjutant General must approve of the matter. The secretary of the Commonwealth is to have charge of the publication. The appropriation is $20,000.

A bill to create a division of building inspection in the State Department of Labor and Industry and divisions of a similar character in third class cities and for creation of such offices in counties, boroughs and townships, was introduced by Mr. Palmer, Schuylkill. The State Industrial Board is authorized to make rules and an advisory board of state officials is named. The chief of the state division is to be paid $5,000 a year.

Mr. Wilbert, Erie, introduced a bill for forbidding medical treatment or surgical operation without consent of patients or guardians.

A rush of appropriation bills occurred as the appropriation committee has issued calls for budgets. The bills for the Erie Soldiers Home came in for $250,000.

Mr. Sinclair, Fayette, introduced a bill to limit the act of 1807 for a poor house in Oxford and Lower Dublin, Philadelphia.

A bill to permit use of outlines in fishing was presented by Mr. Zook, Blair.

Mr. Helt, Northumberland, put in a bill to exempt Civil War veterans from hunters license laws and one by Mr. Showalter, Union, forbids payment of mothers' pensions to women having an income of $50 or more a month.

A system of registration by retailers of all firearms sold by them is provided in a bill from Mr. Horne, Cambria.

Other bills presented were: Mr. Harvey, Center, giving cemetery associations right of eminent domain to enlarge burial grounds.

Mr. Marcus, Allegheny, authorizing removal of convicts who are sick from penal institutions to hospitals; requiring quarter sessions courts to furnish copies of testimony to defendants at cost of county and extending parole act to inmates of reformatory and individual schools.

Mr. Huntington, Potter, providing that when constables have no information to report to quarter sessions court they shall make no report, but authorizing courts to order investigations by constables where conditions are reported to court by other persons.

Mr. Ramsey, Delaware, providing for a commission with appropriation of $60,000 to erect a statue of General Galusha A. Pennypacker, on the Philadelphia parkway.

Mr. Hough, Allegheny, permitting voting of soldiers, sailors or marines absent at registration times.

Mr. West, Montour, for a state tax of $3 on aliens.

Mr. Flynn, Elk, establishing 15 cents per mile as rate to be paid common pleas judges whose districts contain more than one county.

Mr. Davies, Cambria, fixing $2,500 as salary of first assistant district attorney in counties having between 150,000 and 250,000 population.

Mr. Lafferty, Philadelphia, fixing penalty for felonious assault with intent to rob at not more than 35,000 or 20 years in prison instead of $1,000 or 10 years. This bill is designed to check holdups.

Mr. Stadlander, Allegheny, authorizing counties and municipalities to make contracts with street railways regarding schedules, fares, service and maintenance and permitting them to buy such lines.

Mr. Walker, Philadelphia, forbidding corporations from engaging in practice of law.

A resolution to extend the time of the Old Age Pension Commission so that it may report to the Legislature of 1921 was presented by Messrs. Delaware. The resolution fixes $25,000 to continue the session.

Conditions Favorable For Building A Home

THE object in building a home is comfort.

The opportunity for home building and owning comes with the possession of surplus means which can be invested in that way.

Many wage earners, recently earning more than ever before, have prudently laid aside a part of their earnings and have now accumulated considerable sums with which they can begin home constructions. Delay may result in spending or the unwise investment of such earnings.

It is not necessary to have sufficient money to pay for the entire cost—ask your banker or business friend.

It is pretty hard "to keep the home fires burning" in a rented house.
