

FRANCE IN NEED OF YANKEE GOODS

W. P. Starkey Declares England Will Be Able to Look After Her Own Markets

Predicting that France would have to come to America for billions of dollars worth of supplies, but that England would take care of its needs in its own labor markets, William P. Starkey, general superintendent of the Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe Bending Company, discussed labor conditions abroad upon his return yesterday from a four months' stay overseas.

American labor is fifty per cent more efficient than British labor, he said. The American workmen are more patriotic than the English workmen, he added. He ran into a strike at Glasgow and another at London. Labor conditions are very unsettled. He told how he saw women doing the hardest kind of manual labor in foundries and factories.

The food supply is very low in England, he said. Food restrictions still are enforced, and the first time he ate any sugar was when he visited the Grand Fleet. At London's greatest hotel, butter was served only at breakfast.

"Oh! What a Relief After Years of Torture"

Says William Loy, a well-known bricklayer, of 506 South Fifth street, Reading, Pa. "I have been a sufferer for years with pains in my back and a disordered stomach, had night sweats and would itouch at nights I could not sleep, which, no doubt, caused my nervous condition. Eventually my system was run down to such a degree I broke out with boils, due to general run-down condition of my blood.

"I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief, but no medicine I ever took gave me the relief I had in such a short time. Boils, nervousness and pains in my back and that tired feeling are all things of the past."

This testimonial was given Feb. 15, 1919.

SONGS OF ITALY THRILL HEARERS

Signorina Eufemia Gianninni and Company in Notable Concert at Orpheum

Vipeclad hills, sunny skies, trilling birds and glowing passion were in the minds of several hundred people who braved an unpleasant evening to get to the Orpheum theater where Signorina Eufemia Gianninni, lyric soprano; Signor F. A. Gianninni, tenor; Vittorio Gianninni, violinist; and Signorina Elizabeth Donato, pianist, appeared in a concert program of much merit last night. The audience largely was made up of the concertgoers of the musicians, who gave ample proof of their friendliness and admiration.

It mattered not that at one point the program an enthusiastic listener, thrilled by a particularly high and resonant tone of the star of the evening, burst into single-handed applause even though Signorina Gianninni had not at the time reached her climax in the immortal "Cavatina" from Verdi's "La Traviata." She did it make any difference when a solemn-looking gentleman emerged from the wings to lower the top of the piano, another seat-holder, for whose act there was ample precedence, started to applaud the performance of this humble, though quite necessary function. Happily, he was alone in his proof of approval.

There never has been any question about the distinguished ability of one G. Puccini to write florid and entrancing melody, and there was no question either of the ability, in a most gratifying artistic sense, of the singers to interpret what G. Puccini wrote, but G. Puccini's music failed to bring nearly the amount of applause from the audience that the flowing, appealing music of one Giuseppe Verdi, two of whose numbers were used, inspired.

There was not a dull moment on the program which, happily, for those of American birth contained several songs in their own language. For instance, Signorina Gianninni was kind enough to sing "Some-where a voice is Calling," known almost everywhere, and Signor Gianninni sang a very pleasing ballad, the composition of the violinist, "Vittoria," Gianninni, "Only in Dreams" coupled with several other more or less engaging American songs.

Of course, Signorina Gianninni was at her best in the Verdi "Cavatina," although she arose to artistic heights in the Comed duet with Signor Gianninni, both voices deeply thrilling their hearers in the climax of "Into a Forest" from "The Guarany." Signor Gianninni, too, touched a tender place in the hearts of the audience when he sang two patriotic songs, "The Yankee Boys in Italy" and "When Our Boys Come Sailing Home."

Signorina Donato played splendidly in the list arrangement of the quartet from Verdi's "Rigoletto." The young pianist was exceedingly good to look upon and the brightness of her countenance when she smiled warmed all hearts toward her. She played the "Scherzo, Opus 21," Chopin's with creativity and musicianly conception and she was thoroughly capable in her accompaniments with the other artists on the program. The audience appreciated her work so much that at the end of the Liszt-Verdi number she was given a cluster of beautiful flowers, the gift being preceded by an outburst of applause that must have compensated her performance of the difficult work she had set her hands to throughout the program.

Vittorio Gianninni was a most satisfactory violinist, his playing of Guirand's "Allegro Appassionato," Rehfeld's "Spanish Dance" and his own "Passing Serenade" being quite out of the ordinary avenue of offering.

Governor Sproul Urges a Day For the Poles

"For a century and a quarter the people of Poland have been the victims of military aggression from hostile nations on all sides of their native land, and have been humiliated and injured by seeing their country partitioned by their enemies and their people separated and forced to abide under foreign rulers.

"The proud and courageous Polish race, with devotion to their own noble traditions and racial ties, have nevertheless maintained a national spirit through all these years, although scattered in various lands and under different flags. Many thousands of them have come to this country where they have been among our most valued citizens, springing to the defense of this land of their adoption and of the principles of freedom and civilization when America called to them to join in the great war.

"The people of the United States, and especially of Pennsylvania, where so many Americans of Polish birth or descent have settled, have a deep interest in the fate of Poland and a reverent hope that she may come through the unsettlement of nations and the chaos of races which now is in evidence in Europe, a strong and united nation, with a free government and the deserved liberty for which her loyal people have waged through generations.

"I would, therefore, respectfully suggest that we set aside Sunday, March 2, as Polish Day, in the hope that our people, through public meetings and in other ways, may show their interest in the welfare of Poland, their appreciation of the patriotic services of our Polish fellow citizens in the world's crisis, and their hope that Poland may attain her national aspirations speedily and effectively. It is to be hoped that ways and means may be devised for such encouragement as may seem expedient for Poland's people in their efforts for the establishment of a Polish nation."

POLAND IS UP BEFORE SUPREME WAR COUNCIL

No Action to Be Taken Until Reply Is Received From Warsaw

Paris, Feb. 26.—The council of the great powers continued the discussion yesterday of Poland, and authorized Marshal Foch to send a series of inquiries to the inter-allied commission now in Warsaw. Until a reply is received, the question of getting the Polish divisions into Poland by way of Danzig will be deferred.

The council also began a hearing on Morocco, in which France seeks to terminate the present unsatisfactory international supervision, Henry White, for the United States, and Arthur J. Balfour, for Great Britain, spoke in favor of the observance of the "open door" in any readjustment, so that all countries would enjoy equal trade facilities.

Third Class City Bill Little Changed

The third class city code amendment bill drafted by third class city solicitors was favorably reported to the House at the afternoon session with amendments giving the city controller the same salary as councilmen and exempting railroad engineers and firemen from the smoke control.

The bills to increase salary of legislators to $2,500, for an additional judge in Lehigh county, requiring price of theater tickets to be printed on face of ticket, establishing borough and township liens and to meet deficiencies in several State hospitals were reported out.

Among the bills introduced was one by Mr. Harer, Lycoming, providing that when a township poor district "has unexpected poor funds in its possession and has no apparent or prospective use for the same for poor purposes because of the absence of poor in such poor district," the directors may turn over funds to township supervisors for road purposes after giving public notice.

A method whereby counties can recover from owners of dogs damaged by dogs or sheep or other livestock is provided in a bill introduced in the House by Mr. Snyder, Tioga. In addition to asking for recovery of damages commissioners are required to have constables shoot the offending animal. An appropriation of $40,000, pay compensation to injured employees of the State is carried in a bill presented by Mr. McCaig, Allegheny.

Mr. Dawson, Lackawanna, introduced bills similar to those presented in the Senate by Mr. Effe relative to acquisition of street railways and turnpikes by motor power companies and Mr. Hamilton, Montgomery, a bill extending an appropriation of $55,000 to buy farm land at Norristown State Hospital.

Railroad Mvst Restore Trains

"The period has passed when railroad companies are called upon to make this nation wide sacrifice for the general welfare of the government. While commerce and business have not resumed their normal equislope the occasion for special concentration in rail traffic no longer exists," says the Public Service Commission in ordering the Lehigh Valley railroad to restore trains on the Bowman's creek branch between Wilkes-Barre and Towanda.

The decision was given in the case of Henry J. Schmidt against the Lehigh Valley which was dismissed some time ago with leave given to "file another complaint after the crisis precipitated by the war is over." It is held that some relief should be accorded now.

"Train movements and shipments over railroads are approaching to an appreciable degree, the static level of prewar days and have apparently reached a point when the public may justly demand a measure of the privilege formerly enjoyed by it, especially where it is reasonably established that such concession would be for the accommodation, convenience and safety of the general community," concludes the decision.

CITY GRAYS MEET

Plans for a meeting of the City Grays to be addressed by Captain Ralph Crow, of the Machine Gun Company of the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Regiment, were made at a special meeting of the organization at the Armory, Second and Forster streets, last evening. Motions were made to have photographs of City Grays members' families placed on the wall of the Armory and to have a record engraved to contain full information regarding the service of men and women connected with the body during the war.

WAR RELIEF TO MEET

Enola, Pa., Feb. 26.—The Enola Branch of the Woman's War Relief of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will hold its regular meeting in the rooms of the P. E. R. Y. M. C. A. on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

PASS WAR FUND QUOTA

New Bloomfield, Pa., Feb. 26.—Perry county Reformed churches have far surpassed their quota in the drive for the war emergency fund of the Reformed Church in the United States. The Rev. J. Thomas Fox, pastor of the New Bloomfield church, who was in charge of the drive, reports that a total of $877.50 was contributed. The quota was $550. W. F. Swartz, of New Bloomfield, was treasurer of the drive.

$20 AT BOX SOCIAL

Liverpool, Pa., Feb. 26.—A box social held at Coulter's school last night was a success. Almost twenty dollars was raised. The same will be used to buy new books for the library and a flag. Miss Ruth Long is the teacher.
