

STEELTON MANY ATTEND CHARITY SHOW

Hundreds Turned Away; Will Be Repeated This Evening

The minstrel show given last night at the High School auditorium by the original home talent minstrels was a great success. The show was given for the benefit of the Associated Charities. Long before the curtain was raised every seat in the house was occupied as well as every bit of standing room. For the benefit of those who were unable to secure a seat the show will be repeated this evening. There will be no reserved seats to-night.

All of the members of the minstrel company last evening received well-earned applause. A naval tableau brought a thunderous applause. In this tableau, Rube Zellers and Harry Dayhoff, who recently returned from the navy, took part. The solos of the first part were well handled. During the intermission the audience was entertained by Gwilym Watkins. The singing and dancing skit called "Dixie" was well executed. Tom Lynch, as characterologist, made a big hit.

The military sketch, full of dash and action, was well received by the audience. The sight of a score of more soldiers headed by Lieutenant Pat Reagan, brought an applause from the audience that drowned out all sound of the music. Among the soldiers were some that "I Cannot Tell Which is Which"

 THERE'S a big question mark in the mind of Mrs. Housewife. She has somehow gotten her first pound of "Purity" and her last pound of butter mixed in the refrigerator and she can't tell the difference.

She looks at them—tastes them—cuts them. But no use! They're as much alike as two peas.

Naturally this experience sets Mrs. Housewife to thinking—and regularly thereafter she specifies and buys:

Purity MARGARINE
 Thus Mrs. Housewife saves about one-third pound, compared with what she used to pay for butter, and she says the saving is twice welcome because "Purity" Margarine has such a fine flavor and no one can tell it from butter. Your own dealer has it or will get for you.

law service in France, some of whom were wounded stripes. They came from all branches of the service. Most of them were returned Steelton lads. The balance were men from the depot at Middletown, who kindly consented to fill up the ranks.

The show on the whole was a splendid production and worth far more than the admission charged. The decorations and flags were secured from Bowman and Company, of Harrisburg, who sent several decorators to assist in the work of placing them free of charge. The stage settings were secured through the courtesy of the Victoria Theater, while the lighting effects were secured through the courtesy of the Steel Company.

tions for amendment. He declared that as now drafted the constitution would contravene the Monroe Doctrine, strike at American sovereignty, involve America in all foreign disputes, substitute internationalism for nationalism and be of benefit principally to Europe.

Expressing complete sympathy with the popular demand and efforts toward an agreement for world peace, Senator Lodge said he was not prepared to say that there could not be a concert of nations to safeguard against war, but he insisted that the agreement for such a concert should be drawn up calmly and deliberately when the world was at peace and not hastily when war still existed.

Speaker Gets Close Attention

Senator Lodge, who is expected to be chairman of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee in the next Senate which will act on the peace treaty and any plan for a League of Nations, was given close attention by Senators and crowded galleries. He urged that the nation think well before departing from the policies of Washington and said the paramount duty was to conclude peace with Germany.

"Much time has been wasted," he said. "The delays have bred restlessness and confusion everywhere. Germany is lifting her head again."

Germany is whimping after the changing to threats. She is seeking to annex nine millions of Germans in German Austria. She is reaching out in Russia and reviving her financial and commercial penetration everywhere. Germany is again threatening, and the only source of a great war is to be found for the future, as for the past, in Germany. She should be chained and fettered now and this menace to world peace removed.

Nation Should Reflect

The Senator said that while in the interest of peace it might be necessary to abandon the Monroe Doctrine, the policies of Washington and other principles of Americanism, the nation should reflect and hesitate before it acts.

"There is an issue involved in the league constitution presented to which overshadows all others," said Senator Lodge. "We are asked to depart now for the first time from the foreign policies of Washington. We are invited to meet the German question at all points put within the control and jurisdiction of the league."

Sees Peril in Program

Criticizing the territorial guarantee provision, Senator Lodge said that the United States would join in the obligation to maintain all national boundaries everywhere, which he said, was "a very grave, a very perilous promise to make." It would require, he indicated, constant possession of fleets and armies, and added: "There is no need of urging whether there is to be compulsive forces behind this league. It is there in Article ten absolutely and entirely in their guarantees."

Senator Lodge questioned whether the proposed draft "really makes for harmony among the nations or will tend to produce dissension and controversy."

"We all desire peace," he said, "but in our zeal for peace, we must be careful not to create new obligations and new and untold conditions which may lead to fostering war rather than peace."
