ompared with the gloomy pros- before the Technical High school basketball squad, the Stygian look like a cloud with a silver lining. Tonight Tech meets Lebanon in the most critical contest of the season, with "Tony" Wilbach on the field list, and Tech's two best forwards out of the game for the remainder of the season because of injuries sustained in their attitudes. Wilbach had an X-ray taken to determine what was wrong with his right arm. Physicians suspect that he has a torn ligament, and has cracked a right hand car.

Bombardier Wells Knocked Out, Carpenter Challenges

At London in a 20-round boxing contest last night Bombardier Wells, the British heavyweight champion, was knocked out in the fifth round by W. O. W. Beckett, of Southampton. Interest attaches to the bout inasmuch as the winner now will fight Frank Goddard for the honor of meeting the French heavyweight champion Georges Carpentier. The Frenchman witnessed the contest last night.

GEORGES CARPENTIER

Beckett fought for the air service in the recent Albert Hall tournament, where he defeated the American. This contest was tense and exciting. It soon became apparent, however, that Wells was suffering from "nerves." He went to the floor repeatedly, yet he fought with great skill and had things his own way in the second and fourth rounds. Nevertheless, he was counted out in the fifth. Immediately after the fight Georges Carpentier challenged Beckett, who now ranks as the English champion. If he beats him he will no doubt contest for the world title after the Willard and Dempsey fight. This French pugilist is a most remarkable chap. Thus, before he was declared he turned down offers aggregating more than $100,000, to serve his country. He qualified as an aviator and was wounded twice. Each time he insisted on returning to duty and remaining in the service until his country was triumphant in victory. Now even the government officials of France are eager to see the loyal athlete pick up some of the coin which awaits him. Carpentier, who is twenty-six years of age having been born in Lens, France, January 12, 1892, has had an uncommon career. He is five feet eleven and a half inches tall and now weighs 178 pounds stripped, being as hard as nails. In May, 1911, the writer saw him box a sparring partner in Grognet's Gymnasium, off the Ave Grand Armee. He exhibited rare signs of a youngster, for then Carpentier was not yet of age and but a lightweight, scaling scarcely 140 pounds. The writer was impressed with his unusual skill and rare hitting ability. He hit and his punches well and hit with well-nigh perfect precision. On July 16, 1914, he outboxed Gunboat Smith and won the decision on a foul. Prior to that Carpentier had proven in his class. In succession he had knocked out Bandman Rice, in Paris, Cyclone Smith and George Gunther in Nice, Bombardier Wells twice in London in three rounds, and again in London in the first round. He flattened Albert Lurie in Bordeaux in three rounds, Ashley Williams in Vichy in four rounds. He stopped M. Abbott in Geneva, in three rounds being disciplined by the Swiss officials for poor work for not knocking him out sooner. He

WOMAN'S SLAYER HANGED AS ARMY MEN KEEP GUARD

Soldiers With Machine Guns Sentinel Annapolis Jail During Execution. Annapolis, Md., Feb. 28.—John Snowden, colored, was hanged at the county jail to-day for the murder of Lottie May Brandon, in August, 1917. She was the wife of Valentine Brandon, formerly employed at the naval experiment station here. The jail was heavily guarded by soldiers with machine guns and police from Baltimore to prevent any demonstration or attempts to interfere with the execution. Considerable feeling had been stirred up among the negroes owing to failure to obtain a commutation of Snowden's sentence or a reprieve. Governor Harrington held that while the evidence against Snowden was circumstantial, it was absolutely convincing. Victim Expectant Mother. Mrs. Brandon was white, about 20 years old, and was an expectant mother. Her body was found in her home on August 8, 1917. The police investigation showed that she had been choked and killed by a blow on the head; also that she had been outraged. Snowden was convicted mainly on the evidence of two negro women who testified that they saw Snowden leave the Brandon residence at about the hour Mrs. Brandon was supposed to have been killed.
