

TECH WILL HAVE GOOD BALL TEAM; TWO FINE BOXING SHOWS TO BE STAGED HERE NEXT WEEK

Hot Stuff! Tech Is Out For Classy Baseball

Baseball as a spring sport is going to get another boost, according to the meeting that was scheduled to take place at Tech school this afternoon. At that time it was proposed to discuss plans for the financing of the project and also to elect a manager. Four games have already been booked for the nine in center a lapse of four years from the diamond, it is thought that baseball would again be successful. Very likely a vaudeville will be staged to finance the project.

Joe Barrett Will Referee Wolgast-Miller Bout

HERMAN MILLER

It is seldom that one fighter will agree to have the former manager of another man he is to fight in the ring acting as referee, but this is just what Johnny Wolgast has agreed upon, in his coming fight with Herman Miller next Wednesday night at the Standard theater in Steelton. Joe Barrett, the veteran promoter and former manager of Miller, is conducting the steel city bouts, and in all his previous shows he has acted as the third man in the ring. Joe says while he does not mistrust other referees, he alone is responsible for any misjudgment in a battle, and must make good with his patrons, and many times no matter how honest a man's intentions are, there is liable to be a slip up. Hence, Joe says he is in the game to please those who pay their cash at the box office, and no one fighter.

TEACHING FRENCH BASEBALL GAME

Bill Friel, of K. of C., Believes He Can Put Pastime Into That Land For Good

Paris, March 5.—Followers of the great American game will be interested to know that Bill Friel, the former big league star, will remain in France to instruct the French youth in the art of baseball. Friel is now acting as secretary for the Knights of Columbus, and has taken an active interest in the promotion of baseball during his stay in France. "To establish baseball on a permanent basis in France, one must play the proper foundation," said Friel the other day in discussing the future of the game in France. "I have been asked to remain in France to promote the game, and it is my intention to establish a foundation by first introducing the game in the schools and on the sandlots. Only in this way will success be obtained.

According to tentative plans, leagues will be organized in the various sections of Paris among the youngsters in the grade schools. The league will be placed on the same basis as that of the United States and the necessary uniforms and other baseball material will be furnished to each school team. "If the present plans work out, eight team leagues will be formed in about six sections of the city, which will furnish plenty of amusement for the boys. We will have a regular season with full schedule of games, and an inter-league contest will be arranged for the championship of the city. Prominent merchants have offered to donate suitable prizes for the winners. "In the recent boxing contests I have witnessed, the athletic prowess of the French boys, and if they can improve that much in boxing, I am sure that the same will hold good for baseball. Already many of the youngsters have taken up the game, and there are several amateur teams now playing the game in Paris. We expect to have at least 100 uniformed teams in Paris next summer, and with such a foundation laid, it will mean the gradual introduction of baseball to every

Marysville Planning to Have First-Class Team in Baseball

Marysville, Pa., March 6.—Plans for a baseball season in Marysville will be considered at a meeting of baseball fans on Monday evening. The meeting will be held in the M. C. A. building in Valley street. At this time action will be taken to place a team in the Dauphin-Perry League in the event it is reorganized, and will make arrangements to aid in its reorganization. In the case that the league is not reorganized, an independent organization will be formed. Businessmen have promised to back the team this year, and it is believed that through the cooperative effort in which the fans are planning to conduct affairs of the team, the sport will be put on a firmer basis than it has occupied within the past several years.

young athlete in this city. I find the French youngster keenly interested in the game, and with the proper organization and the help of the professors, prospects look unusually bright. "There is a plan on foot to secure several professional players to assist in introducing the game throughout France, and this will mean an organization which will not be behind that of the United States among the schools. Only by the introduction of baseball to the youngsters, can I see a real future for the great American game. With in the next decade we shall see international contests which will be welcomed by the baseball loving public of the United States." At the present time, the A. E. F. is working on a plan to stage a series of elimination contests among the soldiers in France. It is expected that the leading teams will tour France to assist in introducing the game to the French people. The French have found that baseball has given the soldiers here United States a training that fitted in well with military life, and are naturally interested in promoting this athletic activity among their own boys.
